No. I

The Association

The present Alumni Association of Central High School may be traced ultimately to a meeting of the class of 1908, in the spring of that year, shortly before the graduation of the class. At this time there was discussed the plan of holding a reunion of the class in the following winter, with a possibility of making it a permanent function. This reunion was held at the school on December 26, 1908, and proved a great success, with an attendance of one hundred and ten members of the class. The plan had been originally confined strictly to the single class, but the success of it, together with the enthusiastic support of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Kelly, and others of the faculty, and of a considerable number of graduates of other classes in Washington at the time, led the class to take up seriously the prospect of organizing a general alumni association. To this end a committee, consisting of Leona E. Kidwell, Olive M. Keys, and J. Raymond Hoover, was appointed to confer with the class of 1909, with a view to holding a meeting in the next June to consider the matter.

The project was warmly supported by the members of 1909, and the June meeting proved unusually successful, resulting in the final organization of the present Association under the most favorable auspices. In accordance with the previous plan, a general reunion was held during the Christmas holidays following, and gave still further proof that the Association has the earnest support of a great many of the alumni, those of the older classes no less than those of '08, '09 and other more recent ones. The accounts of these meetings are detailed hereafter.

The second annual business meeting of the Association will be held on the evening of Thursday, June 23, in the assembly hall of the school, and every alumnus should keep the date and be on hand if possible. We bespeak the support not merely of the three hundred who have so far actually joined the Association, but also of the many others whom we know to be interested, but who have not yet taken the final step to make their interest plain.

The June Meeting

The organizing meeting was held at the school on the evening of Thursday, June 24. It was attended by about two hundred alumni, mainly members of the classes of 1908 and 1909. Fred. H. Koschwitz, president of '08, called the gathering to order, and was unanimously elected temporary chairman. He then presented for the consideration of the alumni the draft of a constitution, which was at once referred for report to a committee, consisting of M. Brice Clagett, '08, chairman; Olive M. Keys, '08; Frances G. Adams, '09, and William Calvert Chaney, '09. The committee took favorable action, and the constitution was then adopted, after brief discussion and slight modifications. The constitution as adopted is printed elsewhere in this issue of THE RECORD.

The Association then proceeded to the election of the officers specified in the constitution. The presidency went to I. Paul Taylor, of the class of 1907, whose name, in the more familiar form of "Kink" Taylor, had become widely and favorably known while serving the school, as student and as alumnus, in the various capacities of football star, cheerleader, football coach, clerk, and general dispenser of Central spirit. Emory M. Wilson, a graduate of the school in the class of '89, and one of the most popular teachers and principals the school has ever had, was unanimously elected honorary president. The other offices went to Olive M. Keys, '08, vice-president; Howard W. Hodgkins, '09, secretary, and M. Brice Clagett, '08, treasurer. The ten alumni chosen to complete the board of managers were, from the class of 1908, Edna L. Turnburke, Leona E. Kidwell, James R. Webb, and Fred. H. Koschwitz; and from the class of 1909, Ethel A. Clark, Frances G. Adams, Wilson L. Townsend, W. Calvert Chaney, I. Albert Pelzman, and Edmund D. Rheem.

Following the elections, a general reunion in December and other plans for the year were briefly discussed, and the Association then adjourned.

In the fall of 1909 the officers and board of managers set to work on the matters before them, particularly the December reunion and the enlargement of the membership. Owing to his absence from the city, Mr. Clagett was unable to take active charge of the duties of treasurer, and his place was taken by Robert J. Potbury, '08. Miss Adams and Messrs. Webb and Chaney of the board of managers, were similarly unable to take an active part in business, and in their places the board elected J. Paul Yoder, '06; Virginia Walker, '08, and Thomas H. Chapman, '09.

The Christmas Reunion

The Christmas reunion was held on the afternoon of Tuesday, December 28, and left no room for doubt that the graduates of Central are still interested in the school and in their fellow-alumni. About three hundred alumni were present in all, covering a space of thirty years from 1880 to 1909. Graduates began coming in an hour before the beginning of the organized festivities at 3:30; and circulated through the corridors and class rooms, renewing acquaintances and discussing old times. At the specified hour, luncheon was served on the first floor, under the auspices of the girls of 1910.

At 4:30 the gathering adjourned to the assembly hall and listened to enthusiastic words from a number of those present, alternating with a musical program arranged by Halstead P. Hoover, '89. President Taylor opened the meeting, and after some remarks called upon the honorary president, Mr. Wilson. Mr. A. T. Stuart, superintendent of schools, next spoke and showed great interest in the school and the alumni, though not himself a graduate. Mr. Stuart was followed by a number of prominent alumni of the older classes, including Percy M. Hughes, '80; Harry English, '83; Lewis P. Clephane, '86; Stephen E. Kramer, '89; John B. Sleman, jr., '91, and W. Morgan Shuster, '94. These were succeeded by some remarks by Gilbert W. Kelly, a former member of the faculty, and an enthusiastic Centralite although not a graduate; and by Fred. H. Koschwitz, '08, who was largely instrumental in the formation of the Association. A number of others were also on the list of speakers, but the lack of time made it necessary to shorten the program.

The speeches, whether in serious or in humorous vein, were all enthusiastic. The hopes of benefiting the school through the efforts of the alumni, were frequently mentioned, and especially the plan for a new site and building, which, it seemed agreed, should be the first object when the organization of the association has been perfected and prospects seem favorable. A thing which was apparent throughout was the harmony between the "antiquities" and the "future antiquities," as the earlier and later classes were humorously termed by some of the speakers. The enthusiasm and good-fellowship of all present made it evident that the Alumni Association has come to stay, and will have the united support of the alumni regardless of class distinctions.

The Constitution

ARTICLE I. NAME AND OBJECT.

The name of this Association shall be the ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL. Its object shall be: (1) to advance the interests of Central High School, and (2) to stimulate and encourage the feeling of good fellowship among the alumni.

ARTICLE II. MEMBERS.

Anyone shall be eligible to membership in this Association who shall have received a diploma certifying the completion of the regular course in the Central High School, or who, having attended the school for at least one year, shall have withdrawn in good standing; provided, however, that no person who shall not have received a diploma shall become a member of the Association until his class shall have graduated.

ARTICLE III. OFFICERS.

The officers shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Board of Managers. The Board of Managers shall consist of ten members, three of whom shall be members of the latest graduating class. All officers of the Association shall be elected by ballot at the annual meeting of the Association, and shall hold office for one year.

It shall be the duty of the President to preside over all meetings of the Association. He shall also administer all affairs entrusted to his care. The Secretary shall keep the records of the Association, and shall notify all members in writing of any meetings to be held. The Treasurer shall take charge of all funds of the Association, and shall make disbursements from these funds when ordered to do so by the President or the Board of Managers.

The Board of Managers shall act as an advisory board of the President. The individual members of the board shall serve upon such standing committees as are from time to time appointed by the President. The officers of the Association shall be ex-officio members of the board.

ARTICLE IV. MEETINGS.

A general meeting of the Association shall be held once every year. But upon application in writing of two or more members of the Board of Managers, it shall be the duty of the President to call a special meeting. At any meeting of the Association, fifteen members present shall be deemed a quorum for the transaction of business.

ARTICLE V. ELECTIONS.

Elections for all officers shall be held by ballot, and at the annual meeting of the Association. In case of the death or removal of any officer, the vacancy caused thereby shall be filled by the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE VI. DUES.

The annual dues of this Association shall be 50 cents. Non-payment of dues shall be sufficient cause for the removal of the name of any member from the alumni enrollment.

ARTICLE VII. AMENDMENT.

Amendments to the constitution shall be proposed in writing by five members at any meeting of the Association, and shall be adopted by two-thirds vote of the members present at a subsequent meeting, to be held at least thirty days later, and called by special notice stating the object of the meeting so called. A quorum for the adoption of any amendment shall consist of thirty members.

The Membership

Copies of this issue have been sent to a large number of alumni not now members of the Association, in an effort to spread information concerning the organization and to increase the membership. A considerable number of these extra copies go to alumni who, we have every reason to believe, are most interested in the Association, but have not actually joined, from forgetfulness or for some such cause. This issue of THE RECORD has received valuable assistance from several persons who are thus not actually enrolled as members. When notices of the Christmas meeting were sent out, about two hundred alumni showed sufficient interest to reply even though unable to be present at the meeting. We want these alumni to show their interest still further by joining the Association. It should be distinctly understood that the Association is not at all limited to those who are able to be present at either of the two annual meetings. These meetings are an important part of the organization's activities, but only a part, especially that the quarterly has now been inaugurated as a means of binding the whole membership together.

This issue will also reach a considerable number who have not yet placed themselves on record in any way in favor of the Association. We are confident, however, that many of these will also join the organization when they learn of its aims and of its prospects. The membership already has representatives of nearly every class since the organization of the school, as will be seen by referring to the catalogue in this issue. It is quite likely that you will find members of your class already members of the Association, but even if you do not find them now, you will probably not be alone in giving your adhesion to the organization. However, if you are interested but not convinced, and would like to learn more of the Association before reaching a decision, just drop us a card and a copy of the next issue will be sent you without placing you under any obligations whatever.

As specified in the constitution of the Association, printed in this issue, the membership is not limited to those who have actually received diplomas from the school, but anyone who has attended the school one year and has withdrawn in good standing, can become a member, provided only that his class shall have since graduated from the school. Several have already availed themselves of this provision, and we have no doubt that there are others who do not actually hold diplomas, but who are nevertheless much interested in the school and the alumni.

Present and former members of the school faculty are also admitted as associate members of the Association, and already a number have joined in this way, in addition to those members of the faculty who are also graduates of the school.

The annual dues of the Association are 50 cents. This includes the quarterly and all other regular privileges of membership. The only extra fee so far provided for, is a like sum for those attending the luncheon at the Christmas reunion, but, as stated above, this is in no way a requisite of membership. A detachable slip is given in the back of this issue for convenience in making remittances. If a member desires to remit a somewhat larger sum at one time, the remainder will be placed to his account for use for later dues, for the Christmas luncheon, or for whatever purpose he may specify now or later. For the convenience of members in this connection, paper money may be sent through the mails at our risk. Two or more members may make remittances together, but in such cases separate slips should preferably be used, though they are not required. Dues received from this time on will be credited for the year ending June, 1911. Address all communications to the school.

There is a considerable reserve supply of this issue, to be used wherever it will do the most good. Copies have been sent to all alumni whose addresses are known, but there are a great many whose addresses we do not have. If alumni who can supply these will do so, copies will be sent as long as the edition lasts. In case we already happen to have any address sent, this can easily be detected and no duplication will be made.

The alumni are cordially invited to be present at the annual spring lunch of the school on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 4, from 12 to 1 o'clock. At that time there will be on sale at the school the usual line of sandwiches, cake, candy, etc., and also art articles of various kinds. There will be a special alumni table, in charge of Miss Keys, '08. The lunch has always in the past turned over to athletics and to the general school fund an increasingly large sum, and the hearty support of the alumni is requested, that this year's lunch may be no exception to the rule.

THE RECORD wishes to encourage the perpetuation of class organizations, along with the general association, and will publish from time to time official notices of organized classes. The editor must depend upon the class officers to furnish the necessary information.

CLASS OF 1886.

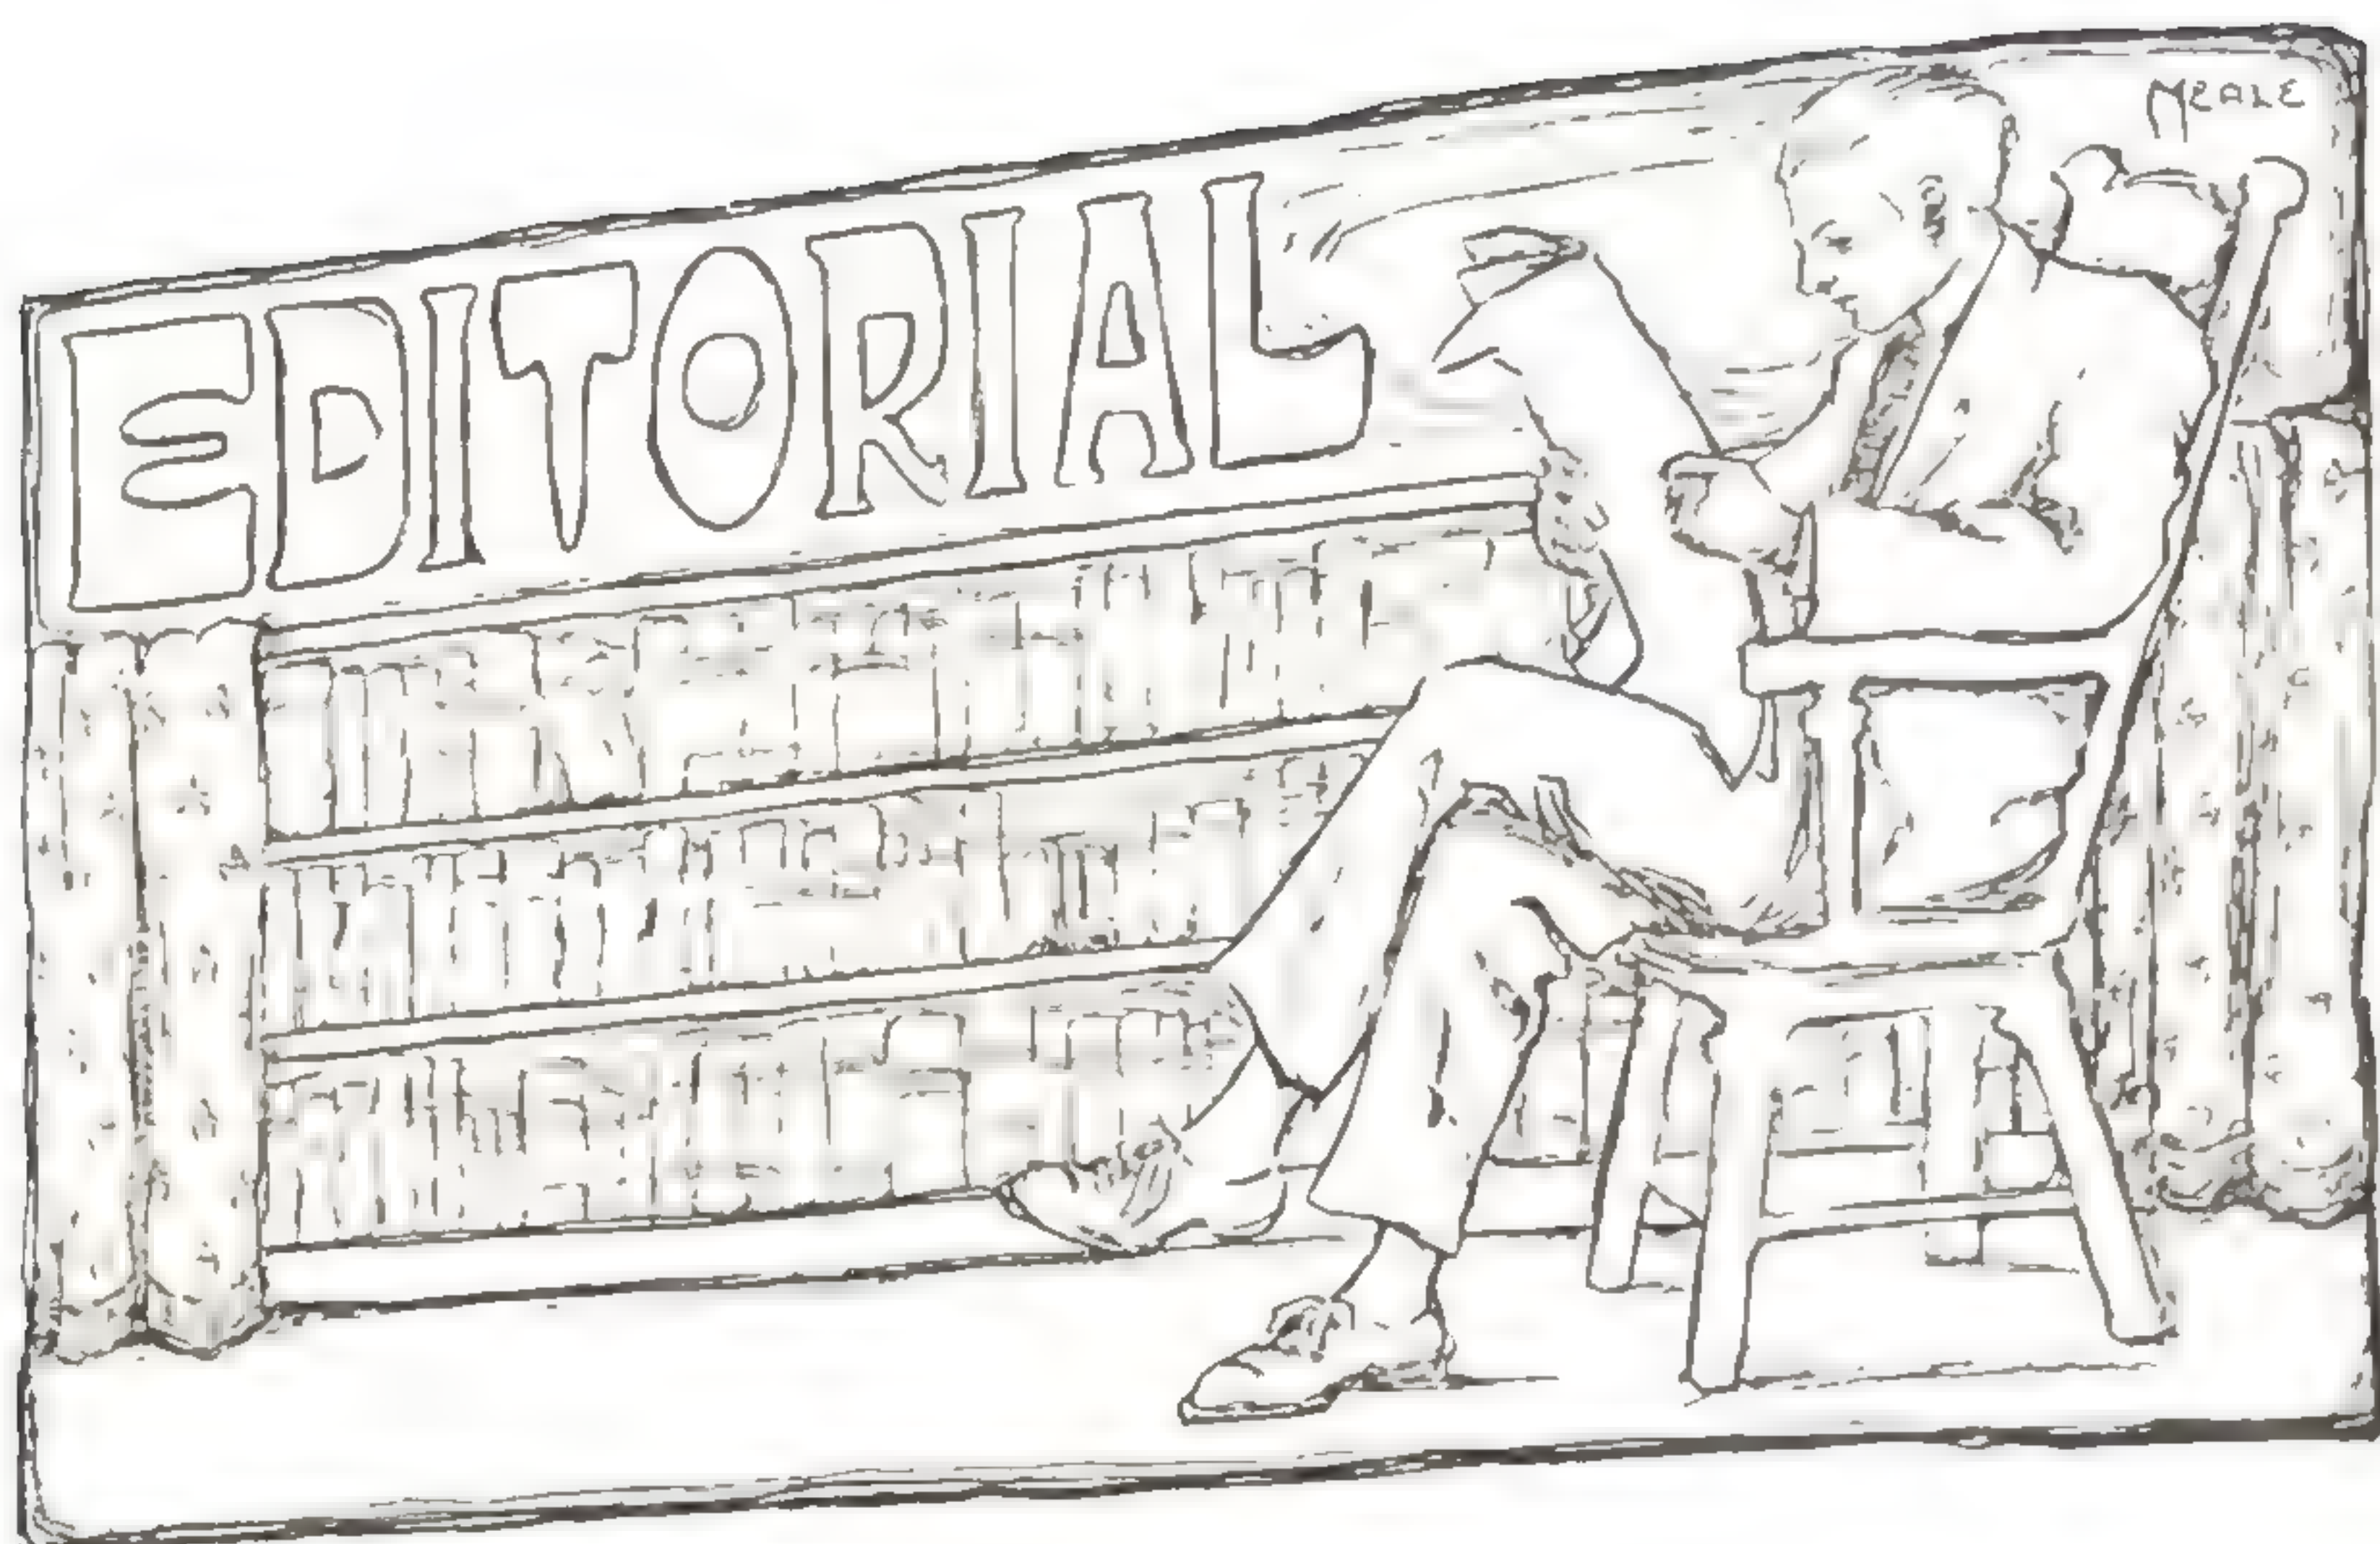

The class of '86, Washington High School, held its annual reunion at the residence of the secretary on Monday, February 7. President Allan Davis presided. Resolutions were adopted in favor of securing a new building for Central High School, and the class declared itself ready to help the Central Alumni Association toward that end. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Major William E. Horton, president; Mrs. J. Ramsey Nevitt (re-elected) and Bertha Caron, vice-presidents; A. May AtLee (re-elected), secretary and treasurer; Dr. Charles M. Buchanan, poet; Mrs. William Bevard, historian, and Charles H. Bates, orator. The meeting was attended by about twenty members and guests. Letters were read from several other members who were unable to be present.

CLASS OF 1908.

The class of '08 held a short business meeting after the general alumni meeting on June 24. Among other things, arrangements were completed for presenting to the school a trophy case as a memorial of the class. This was purchased and presented last fall. All members of the class are urged to be on hand at the meeting of the general association in the coming June.

CLASS OF 1909.

The class of '09 held its first meeting as alumni on the same evening as the general alumni meeting. Among other matters, plans were made for presenting a memorial to the school in the shape of a piece of statuary for the assembly hall. Under the management of Grace Rutherford, this has been selected and purchased. It is planned to hold a business and social meeting of the class at the school on Friday afternoon, June 17, 1910. All members who possibly can should show their loyalty to the class and to the school by being present on that date, and at the general meeting of the Alumni Association as well.

The Quarterly

In presenting to the alumni the somewhat startling innovation now before you, it is perhaps necessary to state at some length the reasons which led to its creation. We have concluded that an official publication issued about four times a year will fill a great need of the Alumni Association on a number of grounds. Primarily it will serve to hold the membership together in a way that nothing else can do, and will help to ward off a possible repetition of the fate which has met at least two previous attempts to form an association of alumni of this school. The regular meetings can do much if energetically pushed, but they can do little toward holding such alumni as cannot regularly attend them. It is hoped particularly that the quarterly will succeed in binding this class of alumni to the Association.

To bring the best results, we feel that some medium is necessary for the ready circulation of alumni news and opinion. To this end the quarterly will not only publish official announcements, such as might otherwise be sent out by circular letters; but will also present every three months adequate accounts of what the organization and its members are doing; and will give out to all the members the views of their fellow-alumni on important topics, which otherwise could be given but once a year, and only to those able to attend the annual meeting. The quarterly, through sample copies, will also offer a ready and effective means of reaching those alumni who have not yet joined the Association, and will thus serve to increase the membership, and hence the power, of the organization. And in addition to all these, the publication could be used very effectively to place before the proper persons the arguments of the alumni on any of their projects for the benefit of the school.

After considering all these advantages of a quarterly, there yet remained the very important consideration of expense. Skepticism on this head seemed natural, if for no other reason than that such a project seemed altogether too good to be true; and caution was especially required since it was a matter which ought, perhaps, to be submitted to the whole Association unless the prospect seemed safe, and something was to be gained by quicker action. However, a thorough consideration indicated that the regular dues as already fixed would, together with the receipts from advertisements, be quite sufficient to support a quarterly publication. On these grounds the officers and board of managers decided to take the initiative, and now present for the consideration of the alumni at large the first number of THE ALUMNI RECORD.

It is the present plan to have the four yearly issues of THE RECORD dated March, June, September, and December. Under this plan the present issue is dated March, though the difficulties in getting under way have delayed its appearance until well into April. However, it is hoped that the next issue can be placed in the mails in the first few days of June, in ample time to give full announcements for the annual June meeting of the Association. At present a tentative allotment of features has been made for the regular succession of issues, though it can readily be altered if space is needed at any time for special matters. If these plans are carried out, there will be published in June any preliminary discussion of subjects to be brought up at the business meeting; in September, the official reports and records of the previous year; in December, a catalogue of the alumni, and in March, special historical features, including researches and reminiscences of school and alumni history, and sketches of prominent alumni.

In addition to the departments found in the present issue, there are several which cannot be started until a little later. An important department will be that for communications from alumni on topics of interest. There will probably be a department to keep the alumni in touch with the general trend of school events, both in the official and in the student fields. Official information of various kinds will be printed from time to time. It is probable that a department will be started for interesting news and notes of a more personal character, but nothing very definite can be said until a little later. The editor would be glad to insert any other feasible features which the alumni may desire. The members should bear in mind that the paper belongs to them, and is published to carry out their wishes.

As previously stated, the next issue will have as its special feature, suggestions and opinions from alumni on important matters, particularly those that will probably be considered at the regular business meeting in the latter part of June. We earnestly ask the alumni to help make this feature a success; and though there is some limit to the space available, it will probably be sufficiently elastic to meet all reasonable demands. There is no doubt that there is much to be done at the coming meeting, and it will aid materially to have a preliminary discussion in the pages of THE RECORD. All communications of this sort must be accompanied by the real name of the contributor, though, in rare instances and for good cause, matter may be printed over a pen name. Contributions should be in the editor's hands not later than Monday, May 23.

We do not profess ourselves satisfied with the name which has been given to the quarterly. Attempts to secure some title appropriate for the whole school, from its earliest years to the present, left no result but such rather colorless names as the one finally used. Perhaps some other members of the Association may be able to solve the problem. At any rate, suggestions on the subject would be welcomed.

W. H. S. and C. H. S.

Circumstances have recently brought to our attention the question of whether the Association can properly cover in its membership the graduates of the Washington High School when Central High School strictly had no existence. This seems to us a question which should properly be settled for himself by each alumnus affected, but we nevertheless feel that some more public mention would be of value.

When the Association was organized last June, largely by members of the last two classes, it might have been presumptuous to place the older classes within our limits. Now, however, that forty of the graduates of the Washington High School have without question lent us their support, we feel that we can reasonably consider ourselves the alumni association of both the Washington and Central High Schools. The first dissenting voice has come from the class of 1878, which decided at its recent thirty-second annual reunion that it could not properly connect itself with any but an association of all the present high schools. We readily recognize that there is some difference more than of name between the old school and the present Central, and that the other high schools are also descendants of the old school; but it still seems to us that Central can more properly than the others, claim to be the continuation rather than the offshoot of the Washington High School.

However, the writer hardly feels at home in discussing a subject which belongs rightly to those of much earlier classes, and would prefer to leave it to them. If any desire to express their views on the matter, the pages of THE RECORD will be found open for their use; and this invitation is extended to those on both sides of the question, whether actual members of the Central Association or not.

It is intended to publish in each issue of THE RECORD the names of all new members of the Association, and to publish once a year a complete catalogue. The aid of all members is requested. It is likely that there are a number of errors and omissions in the following list, and corrections are desired. Unless specially given otherwise, all addresses are Washington, D. C.

The Safest Investments

Are those that do not fluctuate during disturbed conditions of the money or stock market. First deed of trust notes (first mortgage), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or corporations for their stability, and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and Investments."

THE ALUMNI RECORD

JUNE, 1910

VOL. I

NO. 2

Published Quarterly by the Alumni Association
Central High School, Washington, D. C.

Notice

It was originally expected that this issue of the quarterly would be placed in the mails some days before the June meeting by way of an announcement of it, but insurmountable difficulties in the office of the printer have made this impossible. At this late date much of the contents is of very little value, but the issue is nevertheless sent to all members in the usual way.

It is much regretted that the time available after the lateness of the issue was known, was too short to allow regular notices to be sent to members. It is hoped that the brief mention in the first issue and in recent newspapers served to notify most of the members who would have been able to attend.

The June meeting was very successful. About one hundred alumni were present. The following officers were elected: President, Roswell W. Snow, '04; Vice-President, Helen Coolidge, '00; Secretary, George W. Hodgkins, '09; Treasurer, I. Paul Taylor, '07. The meeting will be reported in full in the September number.

The present membership, including members who have not yet renewed for the year 1910-11, is over four hundred. However, only a small proportion of the former members have renewed their membership, and the others are urged to do so at once in order to place the Association on as strong a financial basis as possible.

Special Notices

The annual business meeting of the Association will be held at the school on the evening of Thursday, June 23. Every member should bear this date in mind and be present if possible, as, coming at the close of the first year of the Association's existence, the meeting will be an important one. Some of the subjects which will come up for discussion are mentioned in this issue of THE RECORD. A good attendance will be of the greatest value to the organization.

This notice will probably be seen by some alumni who are not now members of the Association but who are favorably inclined toward membership. New members will be enrolled on the evening of the meeting, and it is hoped that many whom we have not heard from by mail will take this opportunity to join. The regular dues of fifty cents a year are positively the only payment necessary to membership.

The original members of the Association should bear in mind that the dues for the coming year are payable at the coming meeting. Prompt payment is urged.

On June 20, the total number of persons enrolled in the Association for the present year, for the coming year, or for both, was 368. This shows an average gain for the last two months of about one new member a day.

The Alumni Association of Central High School was organized on June 24, 1909. The annual business meeting is held on the evening following the commencement of the school in June. The meeting for 1910 will be held at the school on Thursday evening, June 23, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. The annual dues are fifty cents, covering all regular privileges of the Association, including THE RECORD. A social meeting is held annually during the Christmas holidays.

The officers and board of managers for the year 1909-10 are as follows:

Honorary President.....	Emory M. Wilson, '89
President.....	I. Paul Taylor, '07
Vice-President.....	Olive M. Keys, '08
Secretary.....	Howard W. Hodgkins, '09
Treasurer (acting).....	Robert J. Potbury, '08
Board of Managers: The Officers, Leona E. Kidwell, Fred. H. Koschwitz, Edna L. Turnburke, '08; Ethel A. Clark, I. A. Pelzman, Ed. D. Rheem, Wilson L. Townsend, '09; J. Paul Yoder (acting), '06; Virginia Walker (acting), '08; Thomas H. Chapman (acting), '09.

The officers shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Board of Managers. The Board of Managers shall consist of ten members, three of whom shall be members of the latest graduating class. All officers of the Association shall be elected by ballot at the annual meeting of the Association, and shall hold office for one year.

It shall be the duty of the President to preside over all meetings of the Association. He shall also administer all affairs entrusted to his care. The Secretary shall keep the records of the Association, and shall notify all members in writing of any meetings to be held. The Treasurer shall take charge of all funds of the Association, and shall make disbursements from these funds when ordered to do so by the President or the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE IV. MEETINGS.

A general meeting of the Association shall be held once every year. But upon application in writing of two or more members of the Board of Managers, it shall be the duty of the President to call a special meeting. At any meeting of the Association, fifteen members present shall be deemed a quorum for the transaction of business.

ARTICLE V. ELECTIONS.

Elections for all officers shall be held by ballot, and at the annual meeting of the Association. In case of the death or removal of any officer, the vacancy caused thereby shall be filled by the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE VI. DUES.

The annual dues of this Association shall be 50 cents. Non-payment of dues shall be sufficient cause for the removal of the name of any member from the alumni enrollment.

ARTICLE VII. AMENDMENT.

Amendments to the constitution shall be proposed in writing by five members at any meeting of the Association, and shall be adopted by two-thirds vote of the members present at a subsequent meeting, to be held at least thirty days later, and called by special notice stating the object of the meeting so called. A quorum for the adoption of any amendment shall consist of thirty members.

Under this head will be printed from time to time news of both official and student happenings at the school.

This month Central High School closes one of the most successful years of her history. It is not possible to give anything in the way of statistics concerning the work of the school in purely scholastic lines, but there is every reason to believe that this has been well up to the Central standard. The number of college scholarships won by Central seniors is not as large as last year, but the number is still high even at this early date. The enrollment of the school has been higher than at any time since 1900, before the separation of the Technical course. On March 1, normally the high period of the year, 1,094 students were enrolled, twenty or thirty more than in 1909. The graduating class numbers 145. The officers of the class are: Francis F. McKinney, president; Franc King, vice-president; Isabel D. Atkinson, secretary; Vincent Stack, treasurer; Urban F. Rosen, historian; Laura G. Wessels, poetess; J. Richards Hale, valedictorian.

But if the success of the year is judged as it is most often judged, by victories and defeats in the usual lines of inter-school competition, the past year has been exceedingly successful. The start last fall, with defeats in football and outdoor shooting, was not altogether promising, but since that time the unbroken line of victories over the other high schools in indoor shooting, debating, baseball, track, and, finally, drill, have brought the year's average certainly beyond anything since 1904.

Football, in which the championship has so persistently kept away from Central for a number of years past, was in some respects the great disappointment of the year, though it was not without its redeeming features. At the beginning of the year prospects were unusually good, but before the season was well under way a series of misfortunes left the team in a crippled condition. As it was, however, Central's representatives put up a game fight and won every game except that with Technical, which was admitted to have a team of unusual strength. On the whole, nothing less can be said of Capt. Macdonald, Acting Capt. Hamilton, and the team behind them, than that they put up a typical Central fight.

Rifle shooting, one of the newer high school sports, gave Central at least as good as an even break. The innovation of an outdoor tournament in the fall was almost a clean sweep for the other schools, but Capt. Hamilton and the men of the team, after a hard winter's work, completely turned the tables in the usual spring indoor tournament with a clean sweep for Central.

Central won its second consecutive debating championship this spring, and in so doing completed a list of seven straight victories in debate. The team, captained by M. A. Kaufman, and ably coached as before by members of the faculty, matched last year's record of going through the season without a defeat.

The baseball championship, which came Central's way after five years of disappointment, proved especially gratifying in that the team was not without its misfortunes, and did better than most critics expected them. The team made a clean sweep of the high school series, though this record was somewhat marred by losing the city championship to the Georgetown Preps and also losing to several out-of-town schools.

Although the competition seemed much stronger than for some years, Central captured its fifteenth consecutive victory in field and track events last month. The team also received first scholastic honors in both the George Washington and the Georgetown meets, and won its dual meet with Episcopal High.

But the climax of the whole year came with the winning of the drill. When a Central company came home with the flag on June 2 for the first time in six years, there occurred a celebration the like of which few of the more recent graduates had ever seen at Central. To Company A and Captain William E. Covell goes the credit for the victory, but in giving them their due let it not be forgotten that B and I likewise gave exhibitions well worthy of Central.

In lines of work where there is no definite inter-school competition, The Review and The Brecky, both edited by Ralph C. Waring and managed by Thomas Miller, have continued to maintain the high standard of those publications. The Dramatic Society has several times demonstrated that Central is not lacking in histrionic talent, and a Central chorus has several times shown a good supply of musical ability. The annual spring lunch, which netted more than seven hundred dollars, was an unqualified success. Throughout the year, though especially in the last few months, the spirit of the school was of the best, and the old Central spirit fully proved, if it needed proof, its right to come out of the retirement of quotation marks and interrogation points.

Under this head will be published as occasion arises any views and suggestions which members may desire to place before the other alumni. Address: The Alumni Record, Central High School, Washington, D. C.

There are on hand for publication in this department three suggested amendments to the constitution. These will be proposed at the coming business meeting, and are here published that the members may be thinking them over during the day of so between the appearance of THE RECORD and the holding of the meeting. For convenience of reference, the constitution of the Association is reprinted on a preceding page.

The following amendment, suggested by President Taylor, '07, provides for a simplification of the method of making amendments to the constitution. The seventh article now provides that amendments must be proposed at one meeting and voted on at a subsequent meeting. While this method will secure due consideration for all proposals as intended, it seems unnecessarily slow with the facilities offered by THE RECORD for placing matters before the whole membership of the Association. The amendment which follows therefore provides that amendments may be proposed in an issue of THE RECORD preceding the meeting at which the vote is to be taken, as well as at the preceding meeting.

AMENDMENT 1.

Amendments to the Constitution may be proposed by publication in the official organ of the Association, and may be voted on in the manner hereinbefore prescribed at any meeting held at least two weeks after the mailing of said organ, provided the amendment shall have been duly announced as business for that meeting.

It may be stated that it should be possible in the future to have the June number of THE RECORD in the mails at least two weeks before the June meeting.

The second amendment, also suggested by President Taylor, concerns the nomination and election of officers, and is printed below without further explanation:

AMENDMENT 2.

There shall be a nominating committee chosen by the Board of Managers. This committee shall consist of seven members of the Association who hold no office, and shall present names at the annual June meeting for offices of President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. This provision shall take effect at the meeting following the adoption of this amendment. Nominations by this committee shall in no sense restrict the making of nominations by any member at the meeting. Voting shall be either by ballot or by yeas and nays.

The following amendment, suggested by the Editor of THE RECORD, seeks to make definite provision for a practice which has been in use during the past year without objection. A number of present and former members of the Central faculty, in addition to those who are also graduates of the school, have shown much interest in the Association, and fifteen are at present members.

AMENDMENT 3.

Anyone who shall have been a regular member of the faculty of Central High School for at least one scholastic year, whether such person may or may not be a member of the faculty at the time of joining, shall be eligible to associate membership in this Association. An associate member shall have all the privileges of membership except that of holding active office.

There have been received since the appearance of the first issue of THE RECORD a number of interesting letters, all commending the project. At the risk of printing what may not have been intended for publication, and also at the risk of being considered egotistical, we give passages from two of the letters below:

"May 3, 1910.

"Secretary of the Alumni Association,
Central High School, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir:

"I for one am more than glad to see that we have THE ALUMNI RECORD. I believe that a paper of this kind will do more toward bringing us together and making our efforts count than all the holiday meetings we might ever plan. A quarterly will hold just the right amount of interest. An annual would mean little, and a monthly would be too difficult to maintain. From cover to cover the plan and hopes are good.

* * * * *

"Very truly yours,

"MADELEINE MORRIS SCHARF,

"(Mrs. Paul Scharf)."

"May 6, 1910.

"Editor, THE ALUMNI RECORD,
Central High School, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir:

"I think that the plan of THE ALUMNI RECORD as described in the editorial is a very good one, and I am sure that all those to whom a copy of the first issue was sent, or will be sent, who have any Central Spirit at all, will be glad to do what they can to aid those who are managing it. Of course, there are a great many Centralites who are not able to take active part in the work of the Association, as far as the meetings, etc., go, on account of the fact that they live out of Washington, and to these a quarterly publication along the lines suggested in the first issue should certainly be very welcome, as it would keep them in touch with what is going on in the school, and incidentally, in Washington.

"Please accept my thanks for the copy of THE RECORD mailed me, and with best wishes for the success of the June meeting, regretting that I will not be able to be present, allow me to remain,

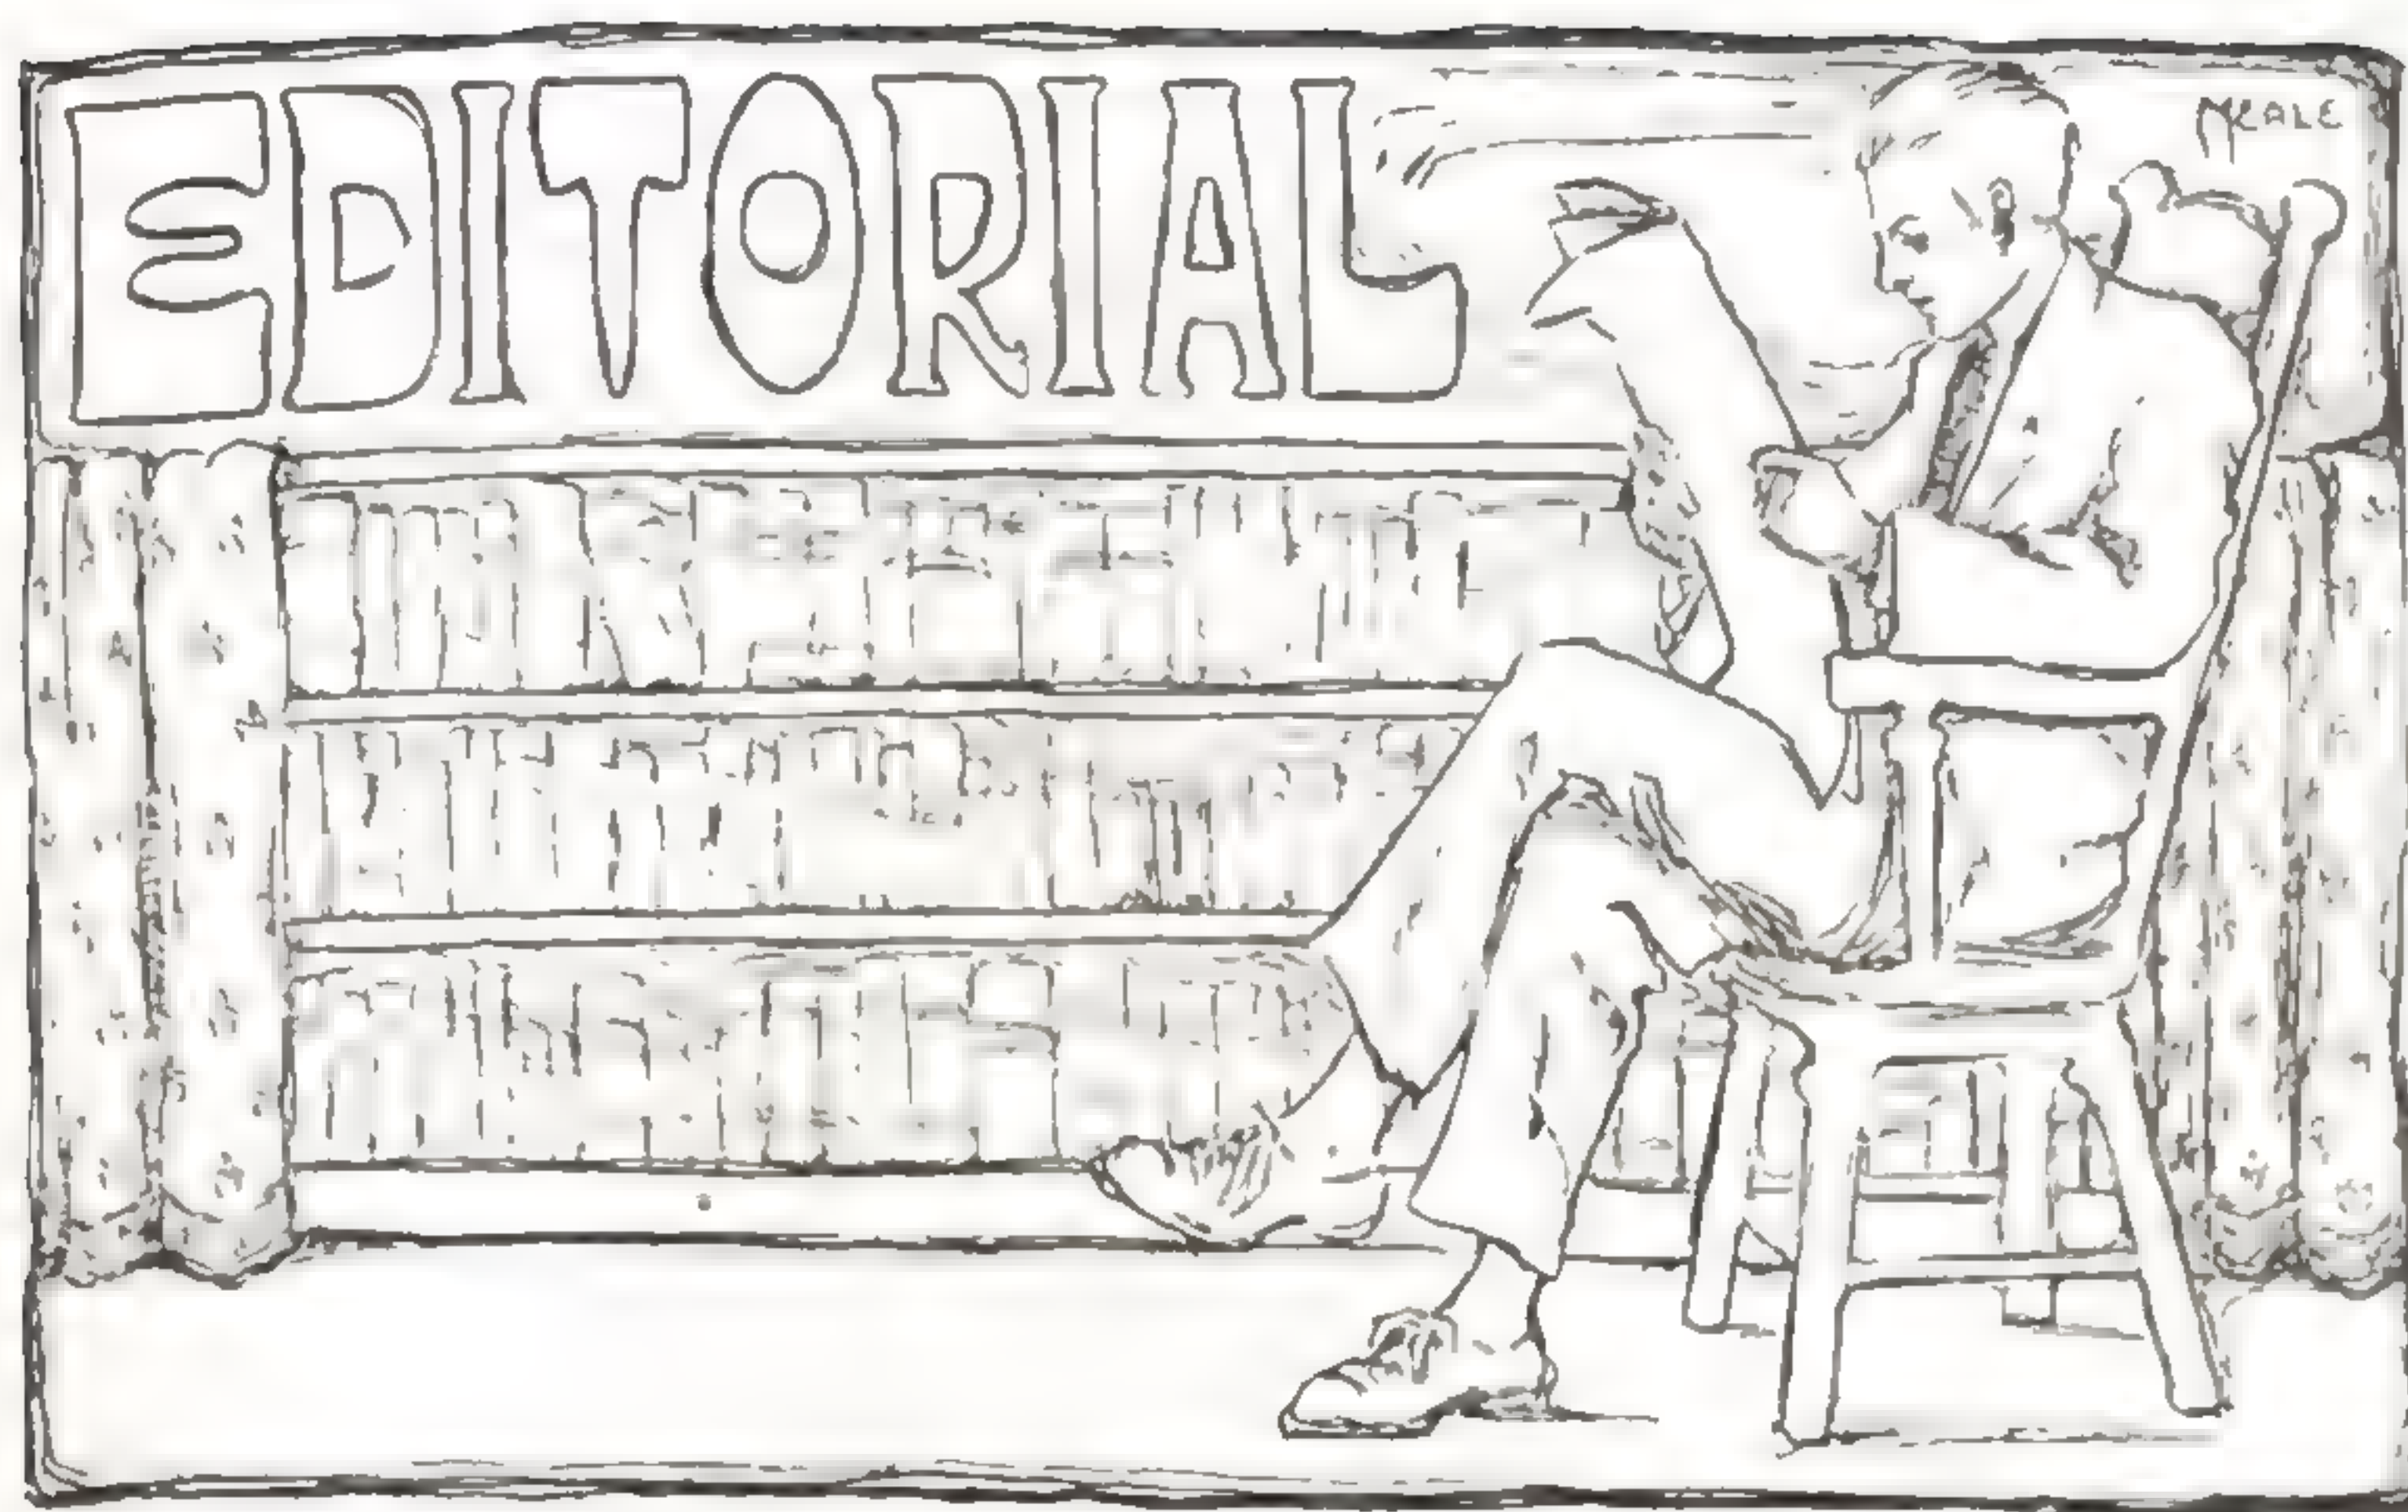

"Yours sincerely,

J. PIERSON JAMES,

Either Mr. James is mistaken or a considerable proportion of the sixteen hundred copies of the first issue went to persons lacking in Central Spirit. Does this mean you?

There are thirteen members enrolled at the reunion last December whose present addresses are not on the records of the Association, and information concerning them is much desired. These members are: Mrs. Roberta Blau Nichols, '86; Mrs. A. E. Thomas (Jennie Barker), '87; Mrs. Irving Frickey (Mabel Platt), '90; Frank E. Ward, '91; Mrs. Lee R. Conwell (Ella Myers), '93; John C. Spalding, '93; Harry W. Draper, '94; Mrs. Josephine Kelly Noyes, '94; Florence Hayden, '97; Sadie F. White, '01; Mrs. Margaretta Cook Dexter, '05; Jesse L. Farrar, '06; Marie Lowey, '09.

Only a few members have sent the information desired for the card catalogue, which will be under way in a few months. A blank form specially for this purpose was printed in the first number of THE RECORD. Extra copies of the form will be on hand for use at the coming meeting.

The money problem is frequently a troublesome one, both with individuals and with associations. This sentence is not intended as a prelude to startling disclosures of the bankruptcy of the Association, or anything of the sort. Combining present assets and reasonable prospects there is little if any danger that the Association will have to suspend its operations for a goodly time to come. A permanent membership total near four hundred, which should be reached by the time of the coming meeting, will place us well on the safe side. The fact remains, however, that with only the present means of revenue the usefulness of the Association can not be as great as it might well be. Money, directly or indirectly, must necessarily be at the bottom of much of our work. Money is needed to extend and to maintain the membership as well as to carry out actual plans for benefiting the school.

The dues of the Association are very low. One can not expect to do a vast amount of work on fifty cents per member, for much of this must go for the routine expenses of maintaining the organization. Some additional cost is added with the publication of a quarterly organ, but not as much as might be supposed by the average person. Under any circumstances fifty cents would not go a great distance, and the amount left over for special purposes each year would necessarily be small. A case in point has already occurred. An attempt was made to enlarge the membership by sending copies of the first issue of THE RECORD to every alumnus that could be reached. A number of new members have already been secured as a result, but it became evident that a little further campaigning was necessary to secure the full benefits of the start made. However, the immediate financial prospects of the Association did not seem to justify much further expenditure, and it was necessary to stop most of the plans, for the time being, at least.

We do not believe, however, that the proper remedy is a higher membership fee, but rather the use of special means for securing the needed revenue. Such a plan, to be sure, has some drawbacks—the sentimentally inclined might object to it as placing the Association in the place of a charity, and others might have other objections to offer; but we do not think there can be any real opposition in view of its practical efficacy and the sanction of precedent. A low membership fee is very desirable, if not really necessary. We scarcely know any more definite cause for it than mere human nature, but it is certain that more money is forthcoming if sought a little here and a little there, than if sought all at once, as in a large membership fee. At any rate, it is hardly prudent to run counter to human nature.

It would be well if the members, at the coming business meeting, would direct their attention to the question of some special source of revenue during the year 1910-11. Available sources, such as an excursion or a theatrical performance, are not lacking, and all that is needed is a choice and united support to make the chosen plan a success. A well-directed campaign, supported by no more than a very reasonable campaign fund, should place on the rolls of the Association a good part of the several thousand eligible for membership, and with the organization thus strengthened such projects as that for a new building would be close to consummation.

The present membership of the Association can do much toward adding others to the roll by "talking up" the subject among such of their friends as may be alumni but not members of the organization. The mailing list of this issue is necessarily restricted almost entirely to enrolled members, and the Association must depend on the latter to extend its membership.

The third issue of THE RECORD will appear in the latter part of September. It will be devoted largely to an account of the business meeting and the reports covering the work of the year, but contributions in the usual other lines will be welcome. It is much desired to start at that time a live department of personal news notes, and contributions from the general membership are needed. Contributions should be in the Editor's hands as early in September as possible. Outside of actual matter for publication, the management is always glad to receive suggestions of all sorts for the betterment of the quarterly.

For the new headings used in this issue THE RECORD is indebted to Margaret Jane Russell, '08, and Minna Heilprin, '06.

The following list includes additions to the membership since the last issue of THE RECORD, together with a few names which should have appeared in the previous list but were omitted by mistake. In addition a number of corrections in classes and addresses in the previous list have been received and noted, and they will appear corrected when the complete catalogue appears next winter. Corrections of any further errors are desired.

The June Meeting

The second annual business meeting of the Alumni Association of Central High School was held in the assembly hall of the school on the evening of Thursday, June 23, 1910. A very small attendance would have been excusable on account of the oppressive heat, but about a hundred alumni were present. The meeting was called to order by the President, I. Paul Taylor, '07, shortly after 8:00 p. m.

The Association first received reports from the Secretary, Howard W. Hodgkins, '09; the acting Treasurer, Robert J. Potbury, '08; and the Editor of THE RECORD, George W. Hodgkins, '09. The meeting unanimously voted its support of THE RECORD as official organ of the Association.

The President then read a letter from President W. C. Sullivan, of the Business High School Alumni Association, concerning cooperation by the different alumni associations of the Washington high schools, with a possible view toward an inter-school association. The general opinion expressed in the discussion that followed, was against any definite plan for an inter-school organization, but it was voted that the President and Board of Managers should confer with the other associations for exchange of ideas and cooperation. It was expressly understood that this action committed the Association to no project of any sort.

The President mentioned a matter which had been discussed somewhat by the alumni before the meeting, concerning those persons who graduated from the Washington High School before the organization of separate high schools, and with a view to a possible change in the name of the Association to include such persons. Honorary President Emory M. Wilson, '89, stated that he saw no necessity for such action, and that he himself felt, as did about fifty other members of the Association, that they were properly members of the Central High School Association even though technically graduates of the Washington High School. No definite action was taken.

The election of officers for the year 1910-11, which was the next business, was conducted as simply as possible. Except in the case of the vice-presidency, only one candidate was nominated for each place, and a definite vote was not necessary except in that one instance. For the presidency Mr. Wilson, '89, nominated Roswell W. Snow, of the class of 1904. The other officers chosen were: Helen Coolidge, '00, vice-president; George W. Hodgkins, '09, secretary; and I. Paul Taylor, '07, treasurer. The Board of Managers was chosen to consist of the officers, and the following ten others: Harry English, '83; Truman Abbe, '91; Ernst O. Schreiber, '06; Edward C. Kemper, '07; Edna Turnburke, '08; Olive M. Keys, '08; Wilson L. Townsend, '09; Sara Koenigsberger, '10; Franc King, '10, and Norman Fischer, '10. After the close of the elections the President-elect made a few remarks to the meeting.

The President then announced that three amendments to the Constitution had been framed and signed by the requisite five members. The amendments follow:

I. Amendments to the Constitution may be proposed by publication in the official organ of the Association, and may be voted on in the manner hereinbefore prescribed at any meeting held at least two weeks after the mailing of said organ, provided the amendment shall have been duly announced as business for that meeting.

II. There shall be a nominating committee chosen by the Board of Managers. This committee shall consist of seven members of the Association who hold no office, and shall present names at the annual June meeting for the offices of President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer. This provision shall take effect at the meeting following the adoption of this amendment. Nominations by this committee shall in no sense restrict the making of nominations by any member at the meeting. Voting shall be either by ballot or by yeas and nays.

III. Anyone who shall have been a member of the faculty of Central High School for at least one scholastic year, whether such person may or may not be a member of the faculty at the time of joining, shall be eligible to associate membership in this Association. An associate member shall have all the privileges of membership except that of holding active office.

The first amendment alters the portion of the Constitution which requires that amendments be proposed at one meeting and voted on at a subsequent meeting. The existing section on election of officers requires a vote by ballot; it makes no mention of method of nomination. The third amendment merely makes official recognition of a custom of obvious merits.

The other acts of the meeting included the passing of motions to designate the coming December meeting for the consideration of the above amendments, to avoid the delay till next June; to authorize the Board to select a committee to consider thoroughly these and any other desirable changes in the Constitution; and to authorize the President to appoint a "promotion committee" to press the project to secure a new site for the school. Some mention was made of plans to secure money for the work of the Association by some such means as an excursion, but definite action was left to the Board of Managers..

The meeting adjourned shortly before 10:00, following a few remarks by President Taylor on the work of the year, and a vote of thanks to the retiring officers.

Plans for the Year

The first meeting of the Board of Managers for the new year was held at the school on Saturday evening, September 24. Eleven out of the fifteen members were present. After calling the meeting to order, the President stated that the "promotion" committee authorized at the June meeting had been appointed, and reported satisfactory progress.

Considerable time was devoted to making preliminary arrangements for the annual reunion during the Christmas holidays. This will be held on Wednesday evening, December 28, at the school. The very successful meeting last December was held in the afternoon, but it was decided to make a trial of an evening meeting this year, hoping to make it possible for many to attend who would not be able to do so in the afternoon. So far detailed plans have not been made, but it can be promised that the reunion will provide a thoroughly enjoyable evening for all Central alumni. Particular provisions will be made for informal reunion, and the meeting should prove valuable as a means of renewing acquaintances with classmates and other friends among the alumni. There will be a general meeting of the Association in the assembly hall, for which more definite provisions will be announced later. Refreshments will be served, as last year, and a fee of fifty cents in addition to the annual dues will be charged to cover this and other expenses of the meeting. Three committees were authorized to attend to the special branches of the work, reporting at a meeting of the Board to be held about the middle or end of November, when plans will probably be completed. These committees are: Program and general arrangements, Mr. Taylor, chairman; refreshments and decorations, Miss Coolidge, chairman; notices and general publicity, the Secretary, chairman.

It is expected that a large number of notices of the coming reunion will be sent out to alumni, but no amount of effort and expense in that direction can be as effective as personal work by members among their friends. Several alumni kindly offered their assistance last year, and their efforts proved decidedly successful. Aid is solicited from these and from any others who will see their friends in person or reach them by personal letter and urge them to attend the meeting and join the Association. Class presidents and secretaries can do especially effective work in this way, but anyone who is willing to give the Association a little time and effort can be of assistance. Such information as is possessed by the Secretary's office is always at the service of members, and all inquiries will receive careful attention. Further information for the records would be greatly appreciated.

The Board of Managers agreed upon the following provisions concerning the payment of dues:

"The fiscal year for which dues are paid shall extend from one annual June business meeting to the following such meeting. Members paid up for any year shall be given the privileges of the Association, including THE ALUMNI RECORD, up to but not including the annual reunion in the following December, before being required to make payment of the new year's dues. Dues received after March 1st in any year may be credited for the fiscal year beginning in the following June."

In accordance with these provisions, those who paid dues for 1909-10, either separately or as part of the composite fee of one dollar charged at the meeting last December, will be retained on the rolls up to the coming reunion without prepayment of the new dues, but earlier payment would be much appreciated. As before, the double fee, comprising fifty cents annual dues covering THE RECORD and other regular privileges, and the special fee for the reunion, will be one dollar. Those paying before the date of the meeting will be given receipts entitling them to admission at the meeting. Receipts will also be sent to those who have already paid their dues for 1910-11, in response to the appeal in the first RECORD, at the June meeting, or since. Such of these as sent a full dollar may have the additional fifty cents credited for the Christmas meeting, or for a second year's dues, as they may desire. A coupon for use in remitting is printed in this issue, together with a blank covering the information for the card catalog for the convenience of the many who have not yet supplied this. All communications should be sent to the Association or to the proper officer at the school address. Members should notify us if they expect to attend the coming meeting, whether making remittance or not, as a knowledge of the probable attendance will be of value in making plans.

At its meeting the Board of Managers discussed means for raising money for the work of the Association, and agreed upon an excursion to some one of the river resorts, to take place probably in June. At this early date no attempt has been made to formulate plans, but it is thought that sufficient distinctive features can be arranged to make it both a financial and an artistic success. The annual "Vet." baseball game, between the regulars and a team from the faculty and alumni, has been suggested as a feature. Something more definite will probably be announced at the December meeting.

The plans of THE ALUMNI RECORD for the remainder of the year include the regular issues for December, March and June. The December number will contain final announcements for the Christmas meeting, and one or two special features. A feature already planned is an account of previous attempts to organize the alumni of the school. There is considerable information accessible on this subject which should prove of much interest to all Central alumni of both early and recent classes.

The March issue will be the catalog number, and will contain a complete list of the paid-up membership for 1910-11. Members should make sure that the records contain their correct names, addresses, and classes for publication in this list. The June issue, which should come out earlier in the month than was unfortunately the case last time, will presumably contain detailed plans for the June meeting, and for the excursion, if that is held. The present issue, appearing at a time rather more suitable for an October date than a September one, may seem to offer little hope of getting future issues out on time, but the present delay has been necessary to give full information of the plans for the year. It has seemed best to issue the numbers according to the real need, rather than to adhere to any exact schedule. The next issue can be promised for the early part of December.

During the coming year the regular departments will be maintained. THE RECORD will seek to keep members in touch with the plans of the officers and Board of Managers, with the doings of other members, and with events at the school. Especial attention is called to the department of "News and Notes" started in this issue. Contributions to this and other departments, and suggestion from the faculty and alumni, has been suggested as a feature of the Association "alone worth twice the price of admission."

Report of the Secretary

The following report, presented at the meeting held June 23, 1910, has been condensed by the omission of the detailed accounts of meetings and other matter which has previously appeared in THE RECORD.

The organization meeting of the Association was held at Central High School on Thursday evening, June 24, 1909, and was attended by about two hundred alumni. The principal matters of business transacted were the adoption of the Constitution and the election of officers and members of the Board of Managers for the ensuing year.

The Board of Managers held several meetings during the fall of 1909, and made arrangements for the December reunion. About 1300 circular letters were sent to such alumni as could be reached, and replies were received from about 450. Several changes were made in the membership of the Board owing to the absence from the city of some of those elected.

The December reunion was held at the school on Tuesday afternoon, December 28. About three hundred alumni were present, paying the annual dues of fifty cents and an additional fee of the same sum. The program consisted of a luncheon and a general meeting in the assembly hall, at which a number of alumni spoke.

In February, 1910, the Board of Managers approved the plan of Mr. George W. Hodgkins, '09, for a quarterly publication in the interests of the Association, to be published on proceeds from advertisements and a part of the annual dues. The campaign for new members was prosecuted with considerable success by sending out over 1500 copies of the first issue of the quarterly. For the remainder of the year the quarterly was used as the regular means of informing members of various matters, instead of circulars sent out under the direction of the Secretary.

Around the time of the December reunion 308 alumni joined the Association by paying the annual dues. Since the publication of the first quarterly in April, seventy-one others have been enrolled for 1910-11, and a few of the members enrolled at the December meeting have already renewed their memberships for the coming year. On June 22, 1910, the total number of persons enrolled for 1909-10, for 1910-11, or for both years, was 379.

The records of the Association are as yet meager. Exclusive of the class of 1910, the present addresses of about 1400 alumni are known. Less than a hundred members have furnished the information desired for the catalog of the Association. At present there are no special facilities for keeping these records conveniently, but the school hopes to secure in the near future a card catalog for the preservation of alumni records under the auspices of the Association.

The membership of the Association on September 15 was 432. This number includes renewal memberships for 1910-11, 15; new members for 1910-11, 124; memberships for 1909-10 not yet renewed, 293. The membership includes representatives of every class from 1880 to 1910, except 1882 and 1896.

The card catalog for alumni records has been secured, and work will begin on it in the near future.

BALANCE, June 23, 1910.....	16.29

Since the close of the period covered by the above report there have been additional receipts from dues and from advertisements in THE RECORD, and additional expenditures for printing, for engraving, and for postage. As so few of the former members have renewed for 1910-11 the financial position of the Association is not as good as would be desired; but if reasonable expectations are fulfilled there should be no difficulty in meeting all of the expenses during the present year.

Wednesday evening, December 28, 1910. Don't forget to keep the date open, and be on hand if in town.

Two Central marriages took place recently. In August Ada Rebecca Betts, '08, became Mrs. Gilbert L. Parker, and in September Rena Preston Davis, '06, became the bride of Prof. Paul N. Peck. Both couples will make their home in this city.

Roswell W. ("Jock") Snow, '04, is probably one of the best known of Central's graduates. While in school he was president of his class, half-back on the football team, catcher and captain of the baseball team, and a "C" winner on the track.

Fred C. Wallace, '06, was a member of the last graduating class at West Point. He captained one of the companies, and also distinguished himself in track athletics.

Central's football prospects seem good this year. The team will be coached by Mr. John J. Thomas, formerly a star end with Lafayette, who has joined the faculty of the school as a teacher of mathematics. Central's dates in the championship series are: Tuesday, October 18, Eastern; Friday, October 28, Business; Tuesday, November 8, Technical; Friday, November 18, Western.

Frank Bielaski, of the class of '07, is with the Panama Railroad in the Canal Zone. Though so far away from Central, he still maintains his interest in the school, as shown in a letter recently received from him.

Members should be careful to notify the Secretary of any changes in address. Considerable inconvenience has already been caused by failure to do this. Members going away to college should give both the home and the college address to avoid the uncertainties and delays of having matter forwarded or held until return.

At the close of the first week of school this year the enrollment at Central was 1,052. At the same time last year it was 980. If this proportion is maintained the figures should reach 1,150 before the close of the year.

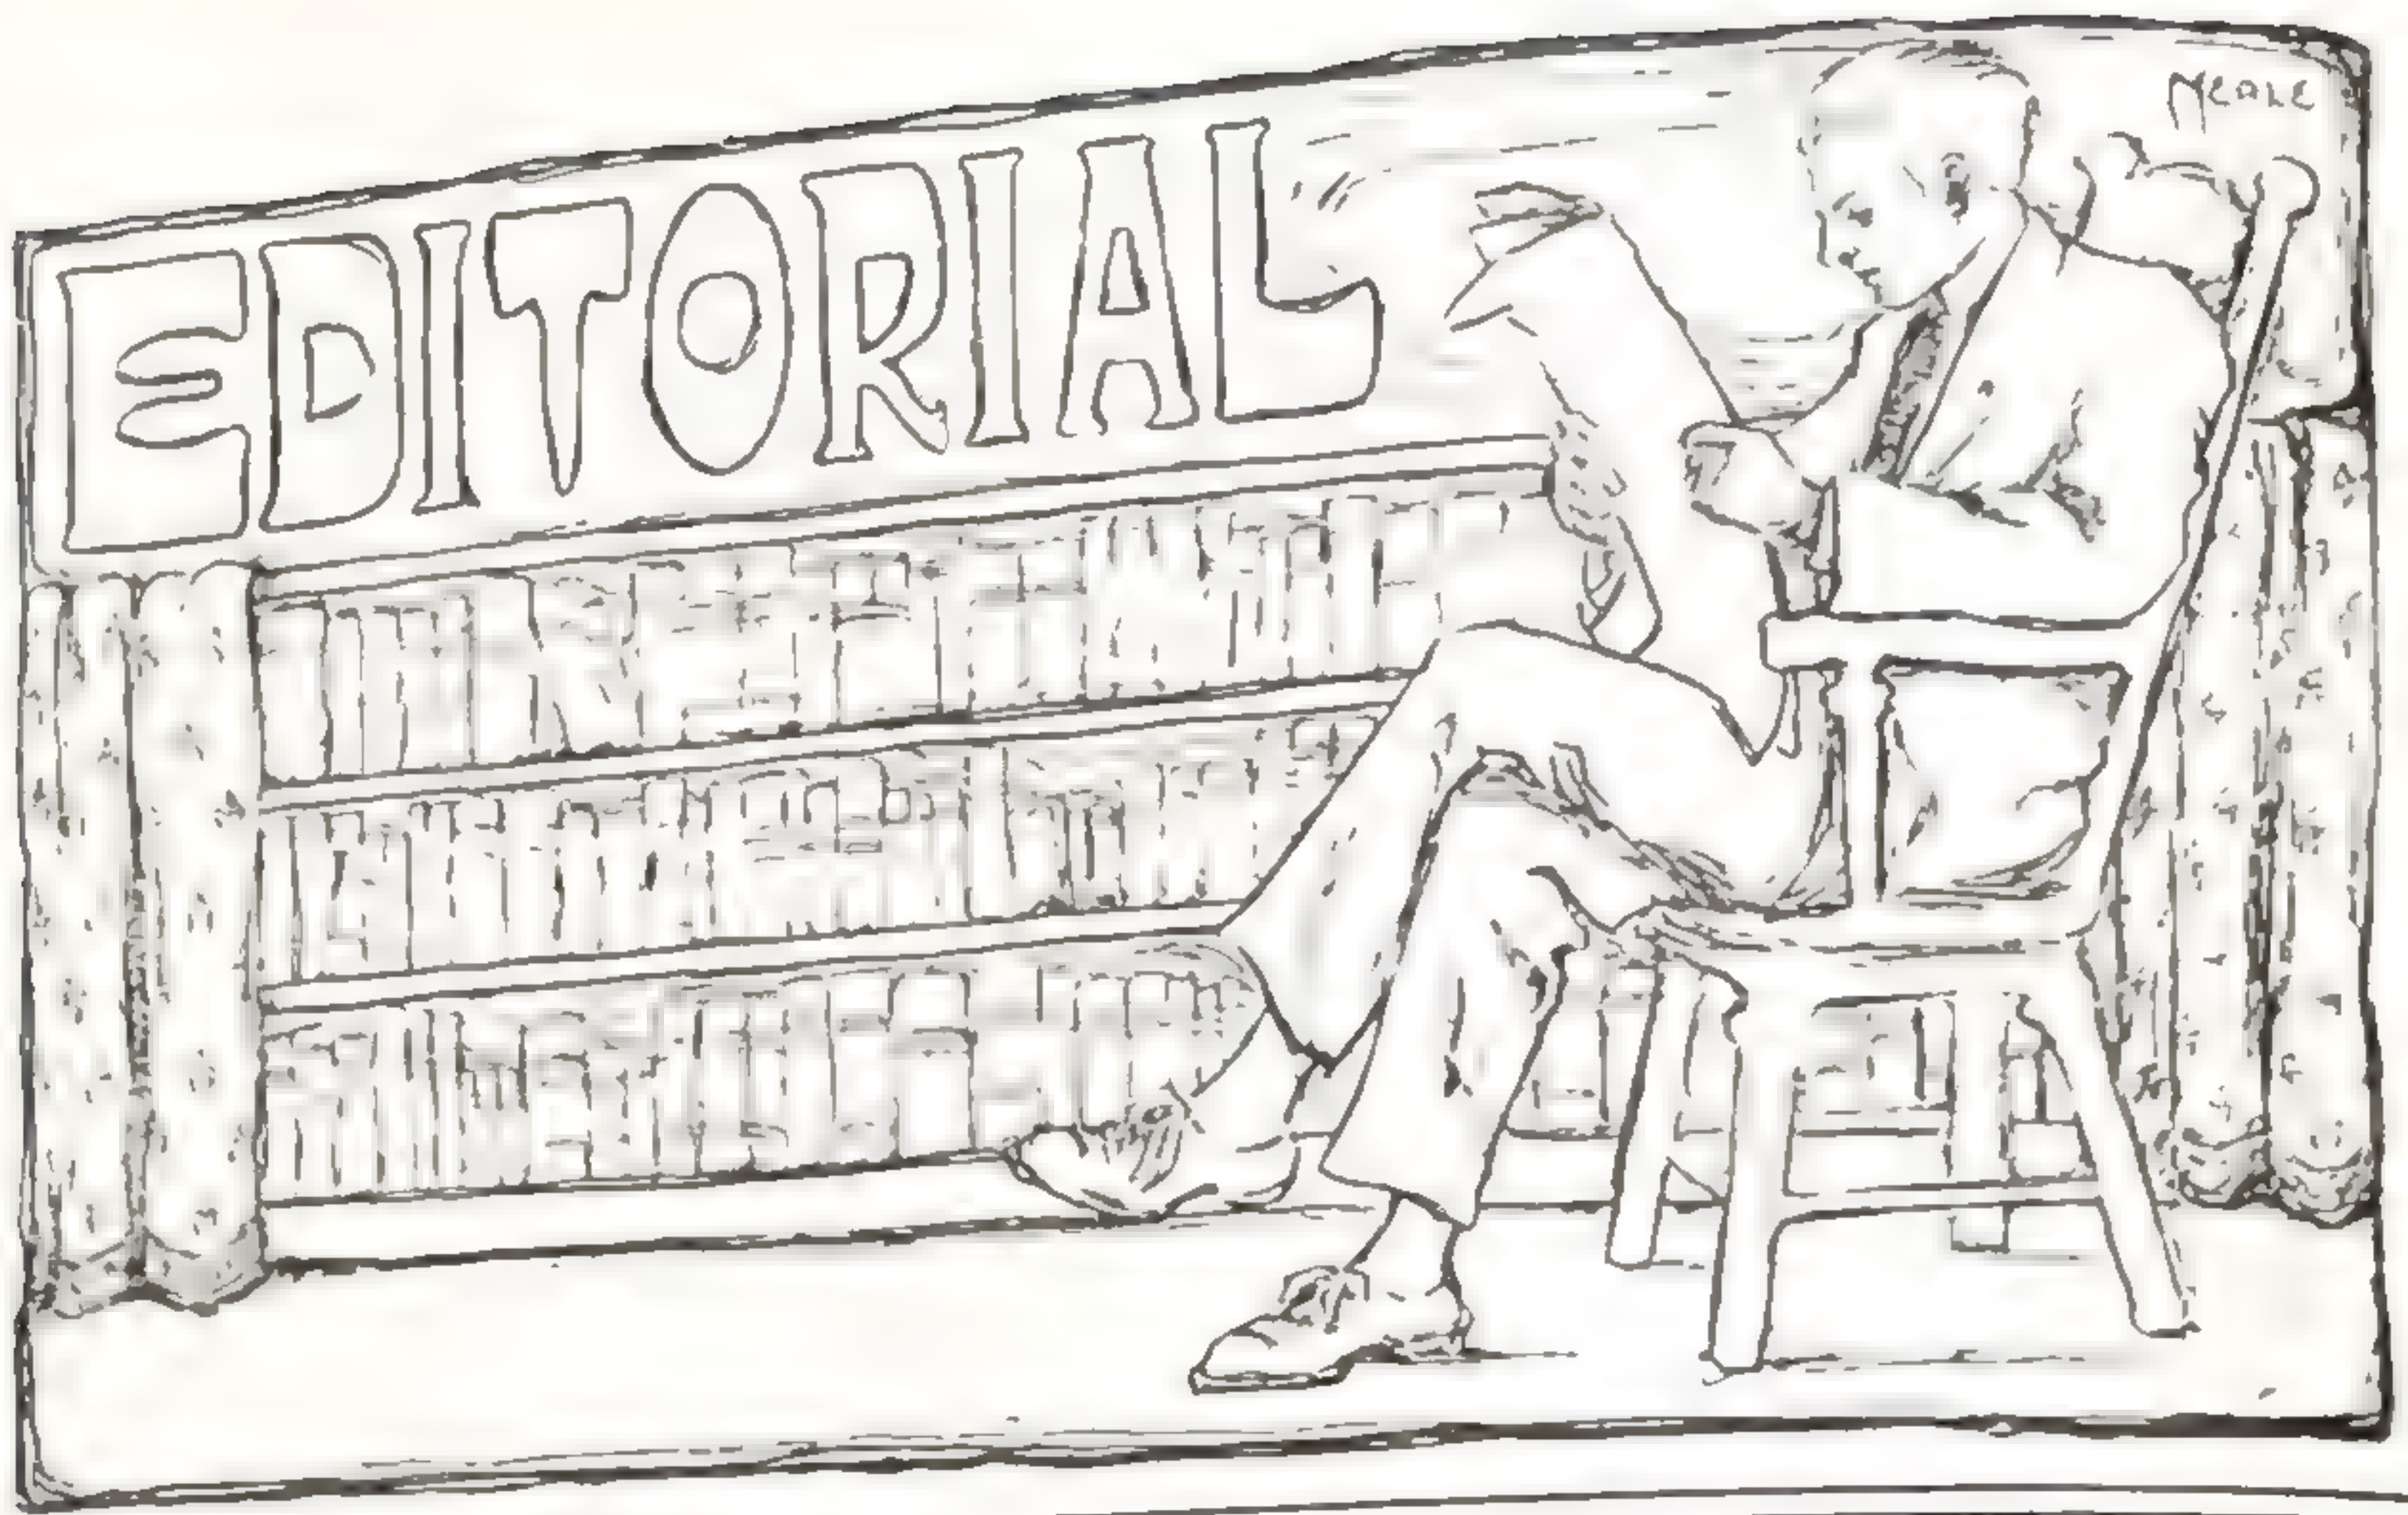

Paul P. Magoffin, '03, known to Centralites as "Maggie" Magoffin, will coach the George Washington football team during the coming season.

This department is intended to contain interesting news of all sorts not calling for more extended mention. If you know of any stray items of interest to alumni send them along.

On August 24, 1910, near Colonial Beach, Va., COURTNEY B. TAGGART, of the class of 1908, drowned in the act of saving two lives. While bathing in the Potomac near Colonial Beach, two young ladies of the party of which Taggart was a member got beyond their depth and he went to their assistance. He succeeded in helping both of them to safety, but, becoming exhausted, was unable to save his own life.

Taggart was held in high esteem by his classmates at Central and by his many other friends. His particular interest was in athletics, and while at Central he played for two years on the baseball team.

On August 19, 1910, at his home in Washington, STEPHEN EUGENE ATKINSON, of the class of 1910, after a brief illness. Atkinson, while quiet and unassuming, did good service for Central during his four years at the school. During his senior year he was first lieutenant of Company I of the cadet regiment.

A letter has been received from an out-of-town member of the Association inquiring about the plans of the organization spoken of in the last issue of THE RECORD, and suggesting that if something definite were given out about them it should not be difficult to secure the money to support them. As yet the plans of the Association are somewhat indefinite and general. Probably the most immediate need is the enlarging and perfecting of the organization, which must precede any extended efforts in other directions. A membership of over four hundred is encouraging, but a good many more could no doubt be secured if the membership campaign were energetically pushed. The quarterly offers excellent facilities for this purpose, but its use means an expenditure of considerable money for printing, postage, and other expenses.

The primary objects of this as of other associations of alumni include the advancement of the interests of the school and the promotion of good fellowship among the alumni. A good deal of the former work depends more upon the effective organization of the Association than upon a direct expenditure of money, but such means as the purchase of memorials, decorations, etc., direct aid of athletics or other interests, and others require money. Of the second class of objects, concerning the alumni themselves, the usual social plans may be noted, and the extension of the usefulness of THE RECORD.

The following list includes additions to the membership since the last issue of THE RECORD. Renewal memberships are not listed. A number of corrections have been received and noted, and any others would be gladly received. Next March there will be published a complete catalog giving all members then paid up for 1910-11. Members should be careful to keep us advised of any change in address.

The Safest Investments

Are those that do not fluctuate during disturbed conditions of the money or stock market. First deed of trust notes (first mortgage), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or corporations for their stability, and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and Investments."

Home-Made Gas Light For Country Homes

—Its name is ACETYLENE. It is made from calcium carbide and plain water. This carbide looks like coal, but acts like magic. When this carbide is merely dropped into water it produces Acetyline Gas, which is ten times richer than the best city gas. When the gas is lighted at a jet, same as city gas, it gives a brilliant WHITE light of exactly the same chemical quality and color-balance as sunlight. Drop us a line today for further particulars.

An Historical Survey

The present article seeks to be a brief survey of previous attempts to organize the alumni of Central, and of the preceding Washington High School. There is in the possession of the school a series of scrap-books which start with the organization of the Boys' Advanced Grammar School in December, 1877, and continue to the present, except for several scattered years during which the maintenance of the books seems to have lapsed. The present article is based mainly on these scrap-books, but some additional facts have been secured from the issues of The Review and from other sources. The Secretary of the Association desires to secure as much information on this subject as possible, and would be glad to have the members add anything they can to the following account. We hope to give further space to the matter some time in 1911, presenting more extensive citations from the present sources, and incorporating whatever additional information we can secure.

The first organization of high school grade in Washington was the Advanced Grammar School for Girls, formed in September, 1876 by consolidating a number of ninth-grade classes formerly attached to the graded schools. The following year a similar school for boys was organized. In the fall of 1882 the two schools were consolidated and housed in the main wing of the present Central High School building, built expressly for their use. The combined school became officially the Washington High School, but this title had been previously in general use by the separate schools, though their official designations had been different. In September, 1890, in order to relieve the congestion at the main school, branch academic schools in Georgetown and on Capitol Hill and a separate school for the commercial course were organized. In September, 1901, the technical course was also separated from the main school which had been known since 1890 as the Central High School.

The initiative in the matter of alumni organizations was taken by the class of 1878 of the Boys' High School, or Advanced Grammar School as it was first termed. This class has held together from the first and still holds an annual reunion. For the first few years the class published an annual sheet called The Class Review, and a copy of the third number, dated 1880, is preserved in the school scrap-book. From this paper we learn that an organization of all the classes of the Girls' High School was formed on November 27, 1880, but nothing can be found of it after a reunion held in the following May. With the assistance of the 1878 class the other classes of the Boys' High School effected organizations, but separately instead of as a general alumni association. Owing to the extension of the course of study to two years, there was practically no class of 1879. The class of 1880 held reunions in December of 1880 and 1881, but after that nothing is known of it. The classes of 1881 and 1882 held reunions as late as 1886. The first three classes of the united Washington High School, those of '83, '84, and '85, maintained their organizations at least until December, 1888, and the fourth class of 1886 shares with the class of 1878 the honor of an unbroken line of reunions from graduation to the present time. The classes after 1886 do not seem to have maintained their organizations for more than a year or two after graduation.

The first attempt at a general alumni association of the Washington High School dates back to the first graduating class, and a first reception was held in 1882. There are records of dances held by this organization on November 30, 1883, and on the same date in 1884, and about a year later an effort seems to have been made to compile a catalog of the alumni with the aid of the school authorities, but nothing further is found of this particular organization.

The next general organization of which there is record was started with a meeting of representatives of the various classes in December, 1891(?), at the suggestion of the class of 1889, and especially of Harry B. Ramey, of that class. Meetings were held in the following year on March 10 to adopt a constitution, and on March 22 to elect officers. The principal officers chosen were: J. G. Falck, '80, president; Willard A. Pollard, '85, secretary, and Harry B. Ramey, '89, treasurer. In addition there was one vice-president for each class and an executive committee with three members from each class. The objects of the organization seem to have been of the usual sort. Graduates were admitted as full members, and former students, not graduates, as associate members. Altogether the start seems to have been a promising one, but there is no record of the organization except in the single clipping from which the above facts are taken.

There was no further attempt to organize a general association of the high schools of the city, but various organizations of the individual schools created in 1890 or later have been formed. Business High School was the pioneer in this respect and formed an association in the nineties. The first organization for Central appears to have been considerably more recent. The issue of The Review for January, 1904, gives an account of the organizing meeting on December 29, 1903, and states that about two hundred alumni were present. Later issues of The Review give accounts of a reunion and ball on December 28, 1904, and another on December 30, 1905, but there is no mention of any meeting in 1906 or later years. At the 1904 meeting John Alden, of the class of 1899, was chosen president, and his successors in the following two years were Albert C. Agnew, '04, and Prentiss Willson, '00.

From this organization the history passes to the present association organized on June 24, 1909, at the suggestion of the class of 1908.

The Reunion and Other Plans

The board of managers held its second meeting of the year on the evening of Saturday, November 19. Eleven members were present. The President reported that the campaign for a new school site was progressing in the best possible shape. A detailed report of this work will probably be made in the March RECORD, and the committee in charge may have some highly interesting information to give out at the coming reunion. Except for this matter the meeting of the board was entirely taken up in receiving and discussing reports on refreshments, program, and notices for the reunion, offered, respectively, by Miss Coolidge, Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Hodgkins, who had been placed in charge at the previous meeting of the board.

The reunion, as previously announced, will take place on Wednesday evening, December 28. Members will assemble at the school about 8 p. m. The exact arrangements have yet to be determined, but it may be said in general that the evening will be divided between a general meeting in the assembly hall and an informal reunion. The former will probably consist of four or five short speeches, several musical numbers, and the consideration of three amendments to the constitution. An interesting program can be promised, but many of the alumni will perhaps find the most enjoyable feature in that part of the evening free from the trammels of a set program. Every possible opportunity will be offered for renewing the old high school acquaintances and talking over your high school days with those whom you know. A light supper will be served during this part of the evening.

As stated, three amendments to the constitution will be considered at the meeting, but those who are out purely for enjoyment need not fear that the evening will be overburdened with weighty business. The members are probably familiar with the amendments, which have been twice published in THE RECORD, and the matter will be largely reduced to the formality of a vote. The first amendment provides that an amendment to the constitution may be proposed by printing in THE RECORD not less than two weeks before the time set for a vote. At present an amendment must be proposed in writing at a meeting not less than thirty days before the time for voting. The second proposed amendment provides for a nominating committee to simplify the election of officers, and also permits elections by oral vote as well as by ballot. The third amendment definitely sanctions the admission of present and former members of the faculty as associate members of the Association. The constitution provides that amendments be adopted by two-thirds vote at a meeting with a quorum of thirty.

The arrangements as to the payment of fees have already been expained in full in THE RECORD, but a summary of them may be needed here. The full fee for the reunion is one dollar, of which fifty cents represents the dues for the year 1910-11, and the other half the special fee to defray the expenses of the meeting. This sum may be paid at the meeting or beforehand. Members having a full dollar to their credit beforehand will, of course, be admitted without further charge, and those credited with the present year's dues need pay only the special fee of fifty cents. Receipts have been or will be sent for amounts received before the meeting, and members are urged to present these at the door for identification, though they can be admitted on reference to our records there. In case there have been any errors in filling out the receipts the rules above should be borne well in mind.

Members may remit a second year's dues (for 1911-12) now, if convenient. In any case fifty cents remaining to a member's credit over this year's dues, and not used at the coming meeting, will be credited for the 1911-12 dues without further notice.

Work is now in progress on a card catalog of the alumni. It is desired to have the names, addresses, and other data of just as many Central alumni as possible; but fifteen or sixteen hundred are all we are able as yet to reach. If members would send us information of their friends our lists would no doubt be greatly extended. There would, of course, be some duplications of names, but all difficulty in this direction could be readily disposed of simply by comparing and checking the lists. The information furnished by the members in this way would be used to extend the membership, and also to increase the interest and usefulness of the quarterly.

Circulars giving particulars of the reunion and setting forth the advantages of membership in the Association are being sent to all alumni on our lists who have not already paid for this year. You will find a copy of it enclosed with this issue, intended merely for your information in case you have already paid in full. If the members would send us additional names and addresses for this list circulars will be sent them, or we will be glad to send members extra copies which they can themselves distribute among their acquaintances. In this latter way you can reach them more personally and probably more effectively than we would be able to do.

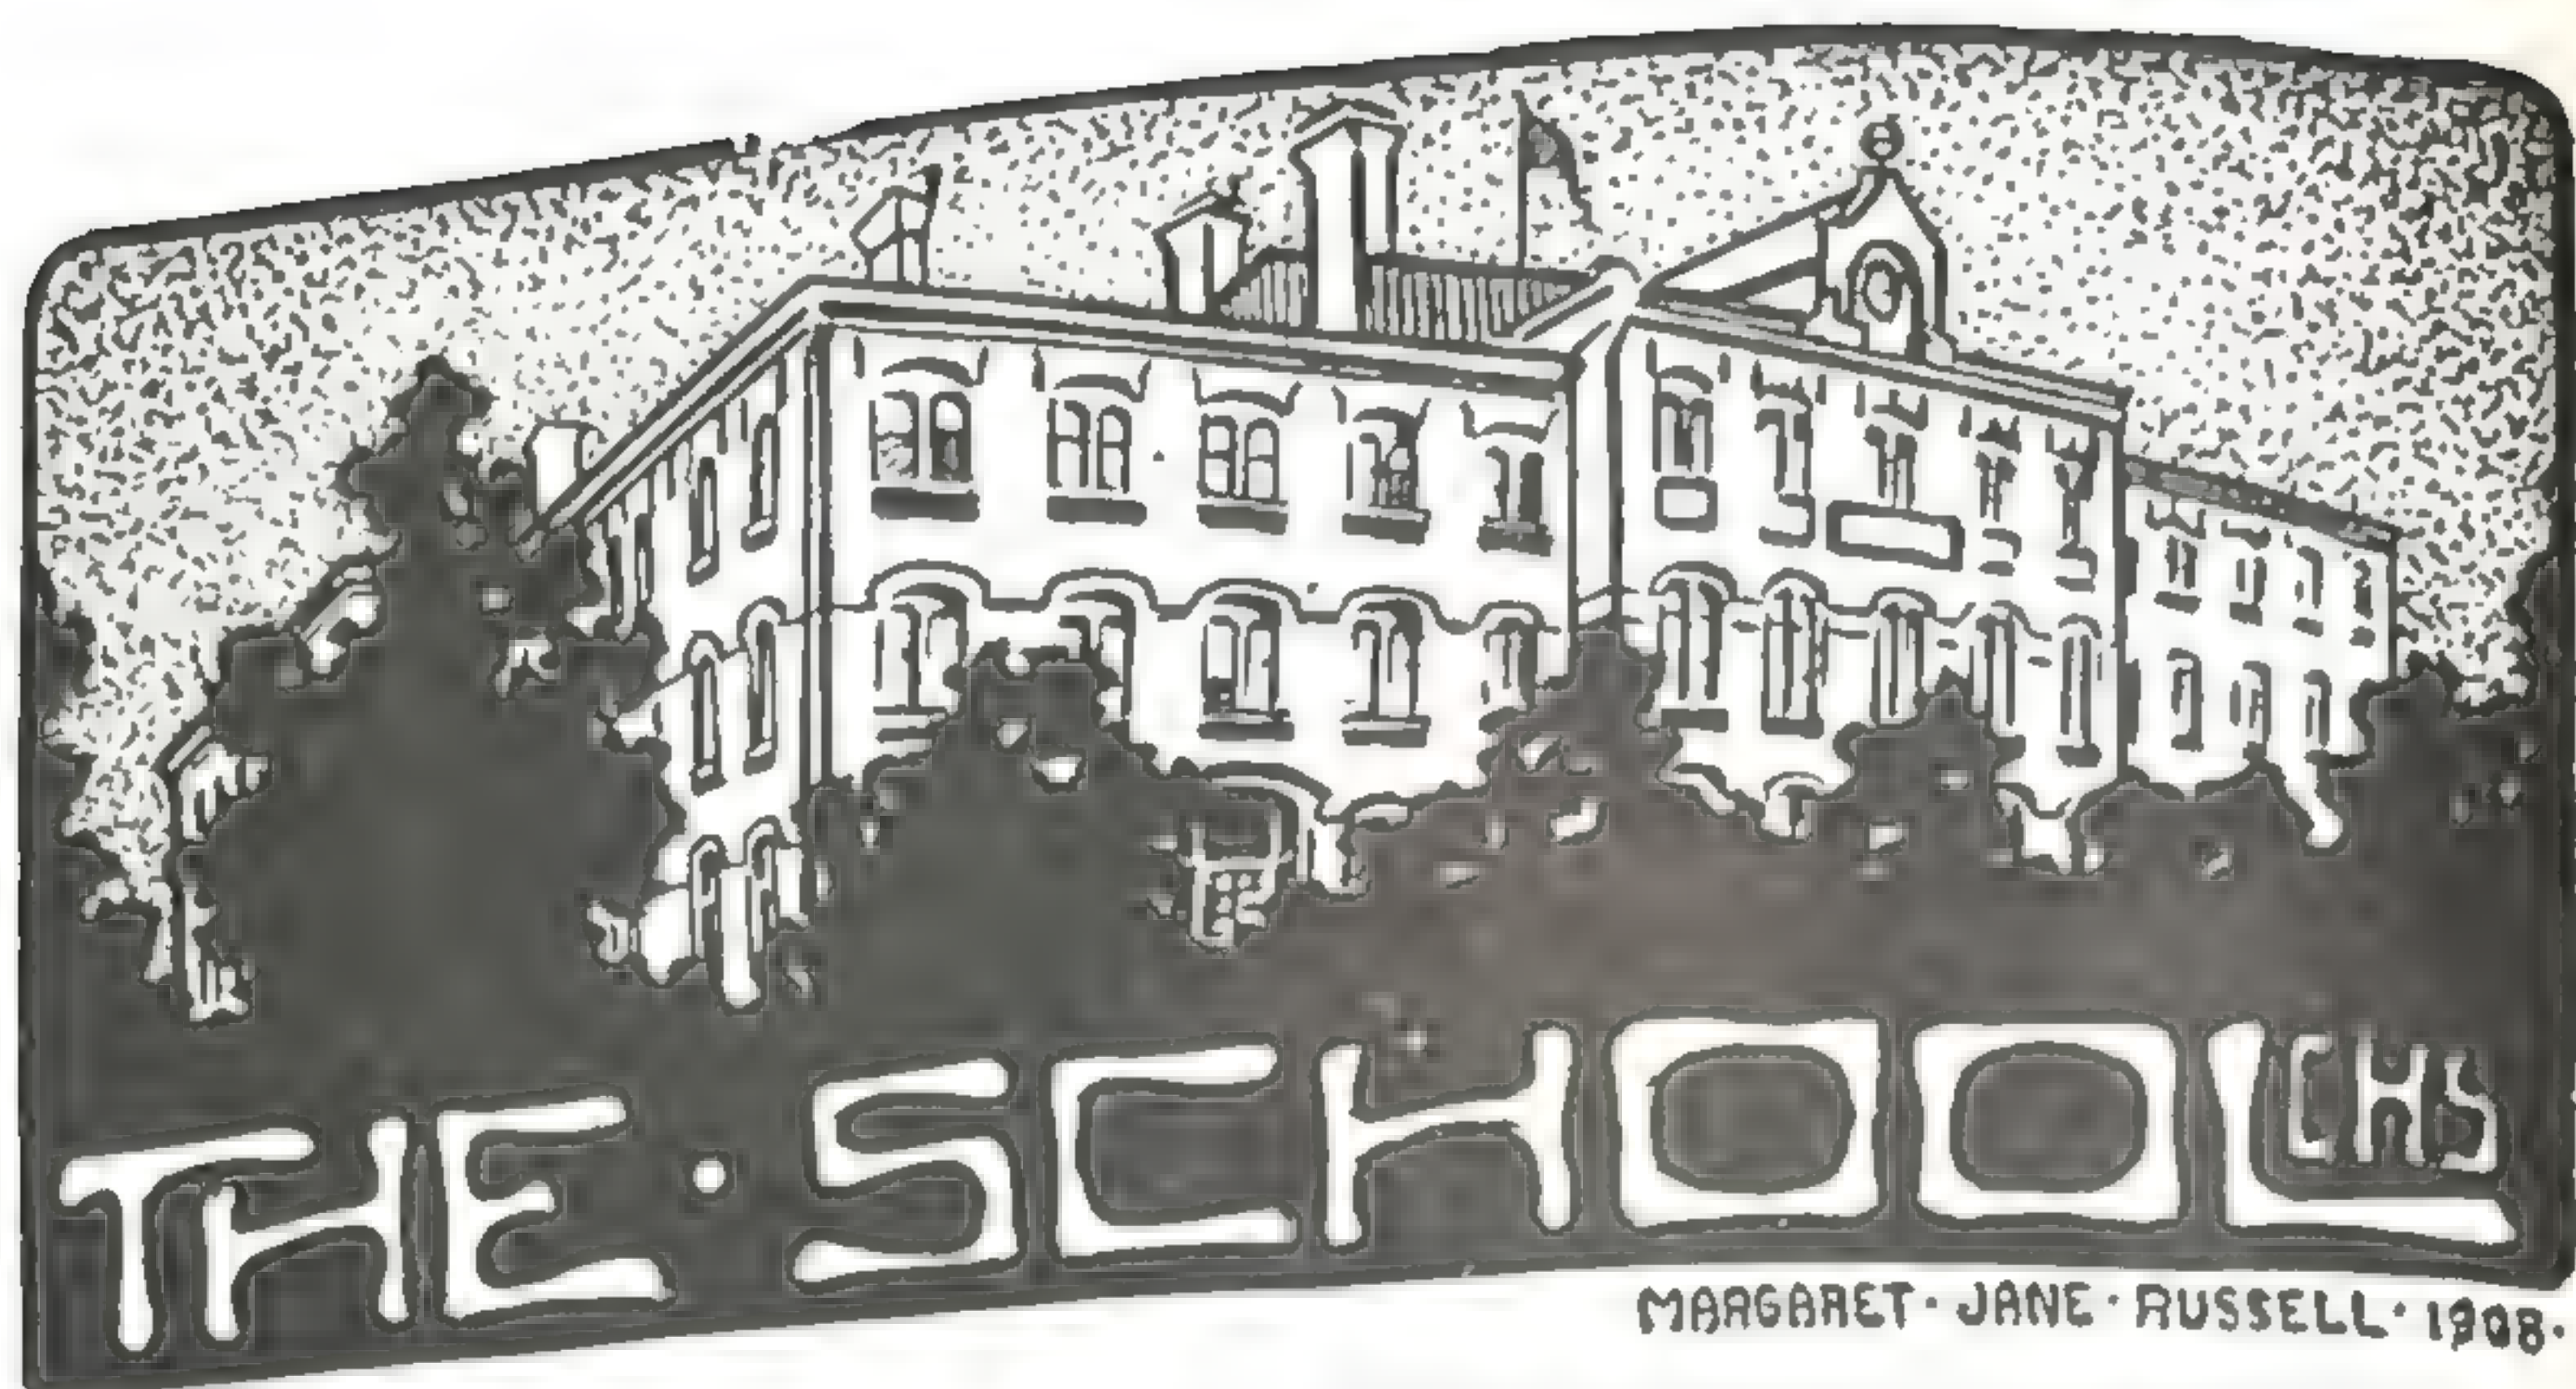

In addition to the copy of the circular you will find enclosed with this issue a stamped and addressed return envelope, which is intended primarily for your convenience for one or more of the following purposes: To let us know whether you expect to be present at the reunion; to make a remittance if you have not already paid in full; to send us the names and addresses of alumni among your friends, or to ask for extra copies of the circular to distribute.

Official

The Alumni Association of Central High School was organized on June 24, 1910. The annual business meeting is held on the evening following the commencement of the school in June. The annual dues are fifty cents, covering all regular privileges of the association, including the quarterly ALUMNI RECORD. A social meeting is held annually during the Christmas holidays.

The objects of the Association are "to advance the interests of Central High School and to stimulate and encourage the feeling of good-fellowship among the alumni." Membership is granted any graduate of the school, and any person who has attended the school at least one year and whose class has since graduated. Present and former members of the faculty are admitted as associate members.

The board of managers for the year 1910-11 is constituted as follows: Emory M. Wilson, '89, honorary president; Roswell W. Snow, '04, president; Helen Coolidge, '00, vice-president; George W. Hodgkins, '09, secretary; I. Paul Taylor, '07, treasurer; Harry English, '83; Truman Abbe, '91; E. O. Schreiber, jr., '06; Edward C. Kemper, '07; Edna Turnburke, '08; Olive M. Keys, '08; Wilson L. Townsend, '09; Sara Koenigsberger, '10; Franc M. King, '10, and Norman Fischer, '10.

In the football season just closed Central made a clean sweep of the high school series and won the local championship for the first time since 1902. The victory gives the school the first win on a handsome new cup presented by the Princeton alumni of Washington. Central alumni were well represented at the celebrations which followed the victory.

The dates and scores of the championship games were as follows: October 18—Central, 20; Eastern, 0. October 28—Central, 17; Business 0. November 8—Central, 6; Technical, 0. No Western game was played. As a reward for the work of the year the "C" has been awarded to the following men: G. W. Hamilton, captain; L. M. Leonard, manager; J. M. Kelly, F. Reuter, A. C. Minnix, G. Van Dyne, G. A. Hunt, C. Dyson, R. Chapman, S. King, S. J. Melick, J. H. Stokes, D. U. Rich, and A. P. Warner. Numerals were awarded to a number of other members of the squad. George Hamilton, '12, has been chosen to serve as captain of the team in 1911 for what is practically a third consecutive year. A number of veterans will return in 1911, and with the able coaching of Mr. John J. Thomas the team should have another good year.

Track training has already begun under the direction of Coach Foley, and about fifty candidates have reported. A number of candidates for the baseball team are taking advantage of the winter track work, and Central's interests will no doubt be well looked after in both of the spring sports.

Central's battalion of the cadet regiment organized early in October under the following officers: Major, Paul S. Armstrong; adjutant, William Searight; quartermaster, James H. Lyman. Company A: Captain, Paul S. Putzki; lieutenants, N. W. Miller and Porter Taylor. Company B: Captain, Laurence M. Leonard; lieutenants, A. M. McDonald and Charles Deahl. Company I: Captain, William H. Collins; lieutenants, Raymond Beach and A. M. McKinney. The enlistments at the opening of the year were not as numerous as desired, but all three companies have since been enlarged to the full six squads.

The second outdoor shoot was held at the government range at Edsall, Va., on November 12. Central did not succeed in making a clean sweep of the shoot, but won more events than any other school. Of the three team matches the company match was won by Company B, of Central, represented by R. B. Ransom, L. M. Leonard, F. C. Martin, and H. H. Shinnick. The school match (teams of ten) went to Technical, with Central second, and the "club" match (teams of four) to Business, with Central fourth. In the individual matches N. W. Miller, of Central, won both the general and the cadet championship and tied for the "high aggregate" match, which was awarded to a Business entrant on technical points. The school secures a first win on the Hibbs cup by the company victory, and a second win on the Times cup for the individual championship, and medals are awarded the individual winners.

The debating work is already well in hand at Central. A number of preliminary debates have been held, and the team will soon be chosen. Central's first inter-school debate will be with Technical on January 11. The subsequent schedule will depend upon the winners of the first pair of debates, owing to the entry of Business into the competition, forming a five-team league. Other features of the debating year are the Senior-Junior and Sophomore-Freshman debates, for which some graduates of '09 have offered two medals, and the revival of the school House of Representatives, which was started in the spring of 1908, but which held no sessions last year.

Next February the school will graduate its first mid-year class, which will number fifteen or twenty. The class has organized under the following officers: Ralph Chapman, president; Florence Moore, vice-president; Edna Royer, secretary; Milton Fischer, treasurer.

Alumni present at the various school celebrations have noticed with interest the numerous additions which have recently been made to the school's list of songs. In addition to such old stand-bys as "C-e-n-t-r-a-l," "Rambléd," and "Mary Had a Little Lamb," the list now includes "Here's to Old Central," words by Miss Simons, Miss Orr, and Miss Sleman, members of the faculty and also of the alumni, with music adapted; "Tenax Propositi," words by Miss Orr, music especially composed by Prof. Ernest Lent; "Central, Dear," words by Miss Orr, music adapted; "Brecky Song," words by Miss Morgan of the faculty, music by Prof. Lent; "Rah Rah Song," adapted from a University of Pennsylvania song. Mention must also be made of the numerous adaptations of popular songs which the famous Faculty Quartet renders to an appreciative audience on special occasions. The latest and one of the most famous of these is "Put On Your Old Blue Sweater," rendered at the recent football supper. As at present organized the quartet includes Messrs. Wilson, Hoover, Thomas, and Taylor.

Many alumni are also unfamiliar with the school seal adopted about a year ago. It shows an ancient ship sailing before the wind, and bears the motto, "Tenax propositi" (steadfast of purpose). The design is the work of the art department of the school.

Wednesday evening, December 28, at 8 p. m. Don't forget to keep the date open and be on hand if you are in or near Washington at that time. Please notify us if you expect to be present, as a knowledge of the probable attendance is necessary to complete the plans for the meeting.

On February 17 last, as the result of the work of Mrs. F. L. Ransome (Amy C. Rock, '88), president of the Washington branch of the Association of Intercollegiate Alumnæ, there was formed a high school alumnæ committee of that body. Its object is to promote the interests of students in the Washington high schools. The first meeting of the committee was held in March. The committee consists of Mrs. F. L. Ransome, '88, chairman; Sarah E. Simons, '83; Mary L. Robbins, '86; Dr. Julia M. Green, '88; Lucy Madeira, '90, and Sibyl Baker, '00.

Lloyd G. Henry, '10, has taken up the work of business manager of THE RECORD, which the former manager, Thomas Chapman, '09, has been obliged to give up because of his college work. The retiring manager has given THE RECORD some valuable aid during its first few months of existence.

Three Central marriages have taken place during the month of November. On November 12 Miss Annette Smith, Central '06, and Mr. Whitney Kipp, of the class of '05, were married in Washington. On November 17 Miss Charlotte Lee, Central '08, became the bride of Mr. Harry Munn. Then on Thanksgiving evening another doubly Central wedding occurred between Miss Mary Edna Soleau, '07, and Mr. Howard M. Lum, of the same class. The Association extends its best wishes to the three couples, and its only regret is that all three will make their homes outside of Washington—Mr. and Mrs. Kipp in Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Munn in Albemarle County, Virginia, and Mr. and Mrs. Lum in Fairport, N. Y.

Word has reached us of still another Central marriage which took place recently between Miss Verne Videtto and Mr. Arthur T. King. Miss Videtto is a Central graduate of 1907.

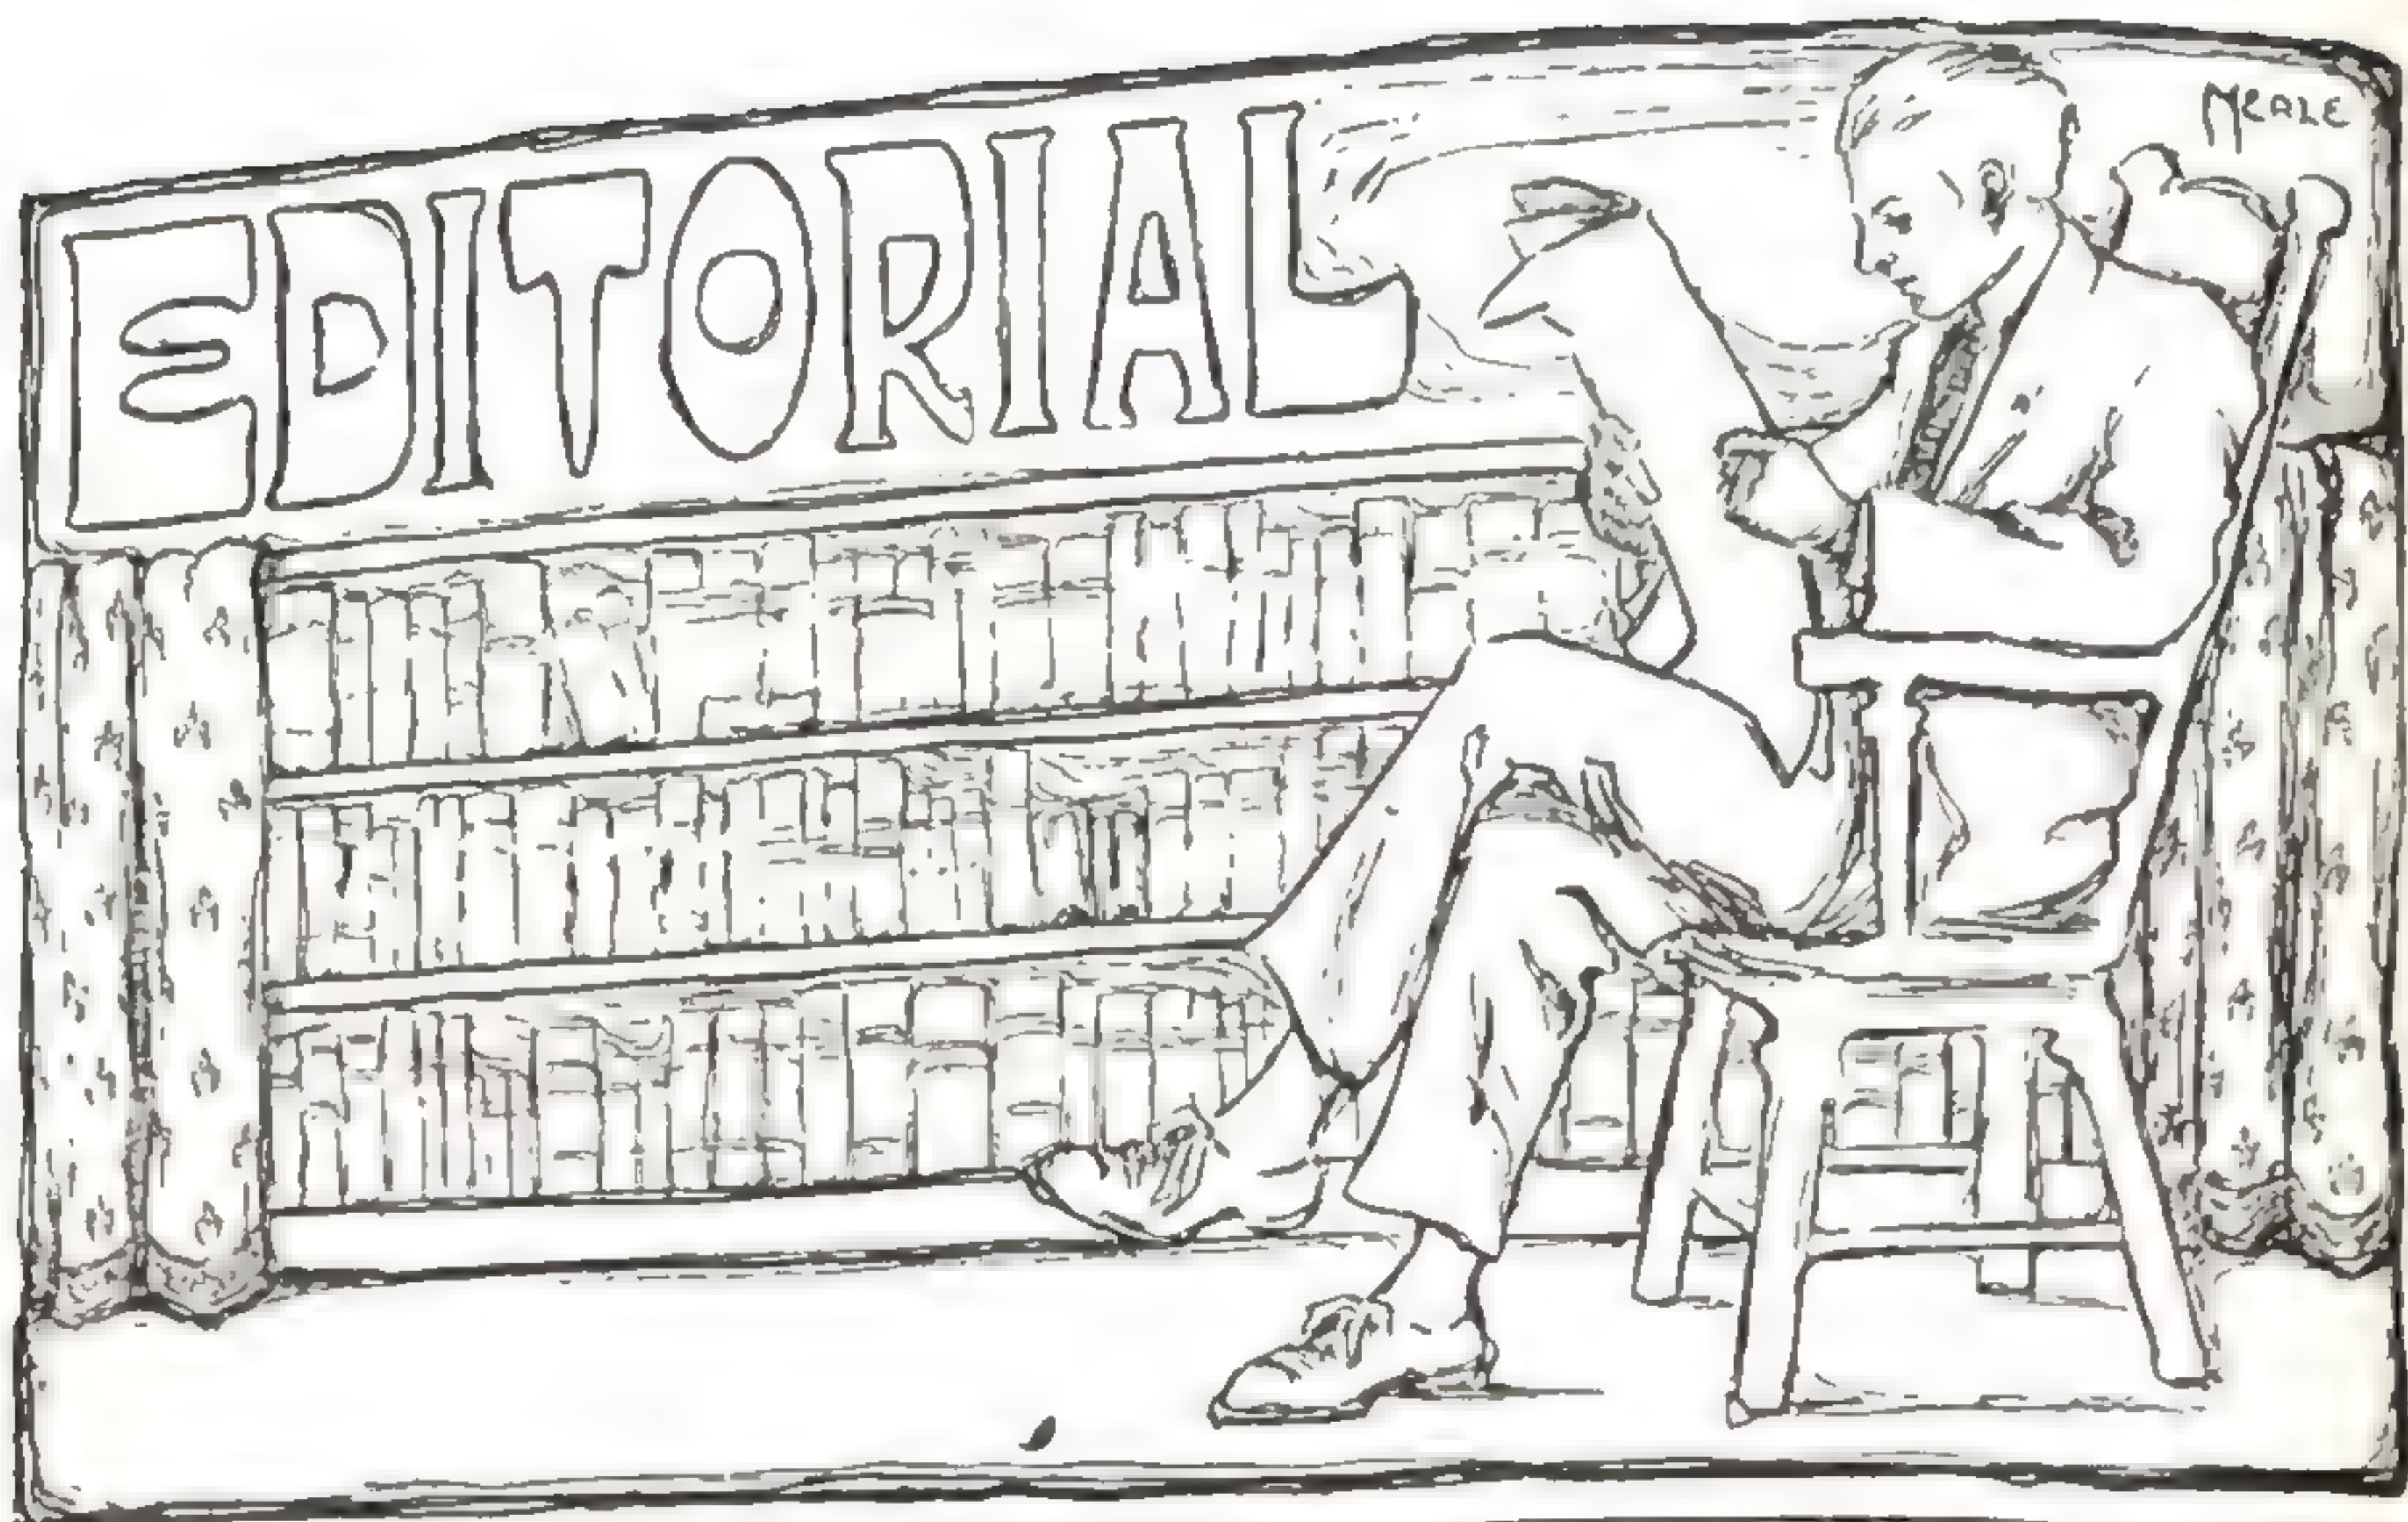

Many Centralites were interested to learn of the birth, on November 1, of Douglas Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory M. Wilson. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are graduates of the school, in the classes of '89 and '99, respectively, and we hope to find the name of Douglas Wilson in the list of Central alumni before many years.

By a slight error, for which the editor and the printer are perhaps jointly responsible, the last number of THE RECORD, on page 5, characterized a "team from the faculty and the alumni" as a feature "alone worth twice the price of admission." While this sentiment would be altogether proper in speaking of the excursion to take place next June (don't fail to be on hand), our real intention in this instance was to solicit the aid of the alumni toward making THE RECORD a feature of the Association of the sort mentioned.

Members should be careful to notify the Secretary of any changes in address. Considerable inconvenience has already been caused by failure to do this. Members going away to college should give both the home and the college address to avoid the uncertainties and delays of having matter forwarded or held until return.

This department is intended to contain interesting news of all sorts not calling for more extended mention. If you know of any stray items of interest to alumni send them along.

The Alumni Association and the class of 1900 lost a valued member by the death, on August 15 last, of WALTER R. LOWELL. Although a native of California, Mr. Lowell came East to take his high school work in Washington, graduating from the technical course at Central in 1900. He was prominent in several of the school interests, and had many friends among the students at the school. During his senior year he was regimental adjutant in the cadets and left guard on the championship football team of 1899. After graduation he returned to California and engaged in business with his father in Fort Bidwell, his birthplace. At the time of his fatal illness he was cashier of the bank at Fort Bidwell, of which he was one of the organizers. He was married to a California girl about 1905 and leaves two children.

With this issue THE ALUMNI RECORD closes its first year. The paper has been very frankly an experiment, and it need not be concealed that its establishment so early in the life of the organization has been no easy matter, financially or editorially. In 1911, however, the experimental character should be largely superseded, and will be, provided only the alumni give it the financial and editorial support reasonably expected of them. There seems no doubt that a paper of this sort can be of great service to an alumni association, particularly to that part of the membership which is unable to attend the meetings in person, but it cannot even live without a vigorous support behind it.

What such a paper can do, and what THE RECORD plans to do, can be briefly stated according to experience of the past year. It can furnish official matter of all sorts, such as the annual catalog, to appear in the next issue. It can present the views of the members on various topics, though, if we may judge from our experience, these views are not very numerous. It can present special articles somewhat on the lines of the article which leads the present issue. It can keep the alumni in touch with the happenings at the school, as we have already sought to do. It can inform the members of the doings of fellow-alumni. We have so far been able to make only a meager start in this last direction, but hope to make it one of our most important features in the future. To maintain this department we need the aid of the individual members in sending in news and other data. The work also needs behind it a news-gathering "system," which consists largely in having adequate records of the alumni and their locations. The "News and Notes" department of THE RECORD will therefore go hand in hand with the compiling of the secretary's records. From these records we hope to present, in addition to the notes of current happenings, a series of paragraphs telling what some of the members have done since leaving school. This series will probably begin in the next issue.

The following list includes additions to the membership since last issue of THE RECORD. Renewal memberships have not been relisted. A number of corrections and changes have been received and noted, and will appear in the complete catalog to be published in the next issue, out early in March. This catalog will be a full list of all members paid up for 1910-11, including addresses and classes. Members should be sure that we have the correct information to include in the list. For instance, if the address borne by the wrapper of this copy is not your present correct address, do not fail to notify us.

Tailoring Talks

BY

J. FRED GATCHELL

928 14th Street

Of course, what I am after is your patronage. But I WANT IT STRICTLY ON THE MERIT OF MY WORK. Business is business. There is no sentiment about it. If I can give you BETTER SATISFACTION than you've been getting, naturally you will want US TO MAKE YOUR CLOTHES.

I think I can—and because I think so I don't hesitate to ask for your tailoring account. It's human nature to think one's own is best. But I am not prejudiced in my own favor without good reason. I have surrounded myself with the BEST FACILITIES. Assuredly, there isn't a cutter in Washington who has better success than Mr. Van Doren. He throws his whole talent into every garment he cuts. His interest is centered on giving YOU the best that can be produced. You'll find both him and me more critical than you'll be yourself. The result is you cannot help getting the BEST SERVICE. And there's that self-imposed safeguard for YOU—"Fit or No Pay"—with no deposit paid to bias your judgment.

You cannot know until you try us—and we'll have you on our books for a regular customer after that.

The Safest Investments

Are those that do not fluctuate during disturbed conditions of the money or stock market. First deed of trust notes (first mortgage), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or corporations for their stability, and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and Investments."

Home-Made Gas Light For Country Homes

—Its name is ACETYLENE. It is made from calcium carbide and plain water. This carbide looks like coal, but acts like magic. When this carbide is merely dropped into water it produces Acetylene Gas, which is ten times richer than the best city gas. When the gas is lighted at a jet, same as city gas, it gives a brilliant WHITE light of exactly the same chemical quality and color-balance as sunlight. Drop us a line today for further particulars.

$250,000 for New Site

The District of Columbia appropriation bill passed by Congress at the session just closed, authorizes the expenditure of $250,000 for the purchase of the "site for a new Central High School, approximately four thousand square feet, to be located north of Q street north, and west of Tenth street west." This provision is the first step in the fruition of a movement which has been in progress for several years, to secure for Central a new building adequate for its needs as a large modern high school. The Alumni Association took up the matter last fall and secured the aid of a committee of six prominent Washingtonians who are graduates of the school. This committee set to work quietly but earnestly, and undoubtedly had a very considerable share in the successful outcome. The committee consisted of: Corcoran Thom, chairman; Clarence B. Rheem, Walter C. Clephane, G. A. Lyon, Jr., Henry H. Glassie, and John B. Sleman, Jr. Further details of their work, and of the site which will be secured, will be given in the next issue of THE RECORD.

Special attention is called to pages 8, 9, and 10 of this issue. The announcements there made are of much importance for the continued success of the Association, and should receive the fullest consideration from all loyal alumni.

The Christmas Reunion

The second annual reunion was held at the school on the evening of Wednesday, December 28, and proved a highly enjoyable occasion for the nearly two hundred alumni who attended. The evening was divided between a meeting in the assembly hall shortly after 8:30, and a general reunion in the classrooms of the second floor about 10:00.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Roswell W. Snow, '04, who spoke a few words of welcome and called upon the Honorary President, Emory M. Wilson, '89. Mr. Wilson, as principal of Central, welcomed the alumni to the building on behalf of the school. He told of the work of the school during the calendar year 1910, of its phenomenal record in inter-school activities, and of its progress along scholastic lines. He also gave some account of the work which has been done under the auspices of the Alumni Association toward securing a new building better adapted to the present needs of the school, and expressed the hope, soon to be realized, that Congress would at the current session appropriate the sum of $250,000 requested for the purchase of an adequate site.

Following Mr. Wilson's remarks, the President laid before the meeting the only business to be transacted, in the form of four resolutions amending the constitution. These resolutions embodied the three amendments proposed at the June meeting, which the Board of Managers had considered and now reported favorably in a modified form allowing their incorporation in the body of the constitution instead of attaching them at the end as separate articles amendatory to it. The substance of the amendments remained essentially unchanged. The first resolution recasts the seventh article with the end of supplying the alternative method of proposing amendments to the constitution by printing in THE ALUMNI RECORD. The second resolution strikes out words in articles three and five requiring the election of officers by ballot; the purpose of this is to remove restrictions on the method of election until experience can show definitely what method is the most satisfactory. The third resolution, embodying the remainder of the second amendment proposed last June, adds to article five a clause providing for a nominating committee. The fourth and last resolution adds to article two a clause definitely sanctioning the admission of members of the faculty as associate members of the Association. The resolutions were read by the President, and, on motion of I. P. Taylor, seconded by E. C. Kemper, were adopted without dissent. The constitution as amended is printed in full elsewhere in this issue.

After the transaction of this business, those present were very agreeably entertained by several comic songs sung by Mr. George O'Connor. The President then called on G. A. Lyon, Jr., '85, who discussed the ties which bind the alumni to the school. He spoke of tradition in general and as applied to the school, and expressed the hope that a new building would soon be provided for Central, not to break its traditions but to carry them on further and higher. He told of some of his experiences at "the" high school in the present building then only just opened, and noted that a second generation is already attending the same school in the same building, though now given the distinctive title of "Central." In conclusion Mr. Lyon made a tribute to Mr. Edward A. Paul, practically the founder of the high school system of Washington, and the principal of the school until his death in 1888.

Following the singing of two songs by Edith A. Larimore, '07, the program of speeches was continued by Fred Fishback, '88, who told of some of his experiences at the school, and warmly seconded Mr. Lyon's remarks in praise of Mr. Paul and his work. The final speaker was Fred H. Koschwitz, '08, who addressed the meeting as a representative of the more recent classes. His topic was the results which can be achieved for the school by the united action of the alumni, and in support he cited work of the Philadelphia Central High School alumni which had come under his notice.

The meeting was closed by President Snow with a few remarks on the plans of the Association for the rest of the year. The Alumni then adjourned to the second floor, where a light supper was served and opportunity was offered for talking over old times with classmates and other friends of high school days.

Copies of this issue are being sent to members of the two 1911 classes, and to some members of earlier classes. These are cordially invited to join the Association. Dues remitted now will be counted for the year 1911-12. The sum of fifty cents will give you all the advantages of membership for one year, and will help to place the Association where it can do the greatest good for the alumni and the school.

Owing mainly to the pressure of the annual catalog and other matters upon our space, it has been impossible to include at least two things tentatively promised for this issue—the extended "News and Notes" department, and the detailed account of the now successful campaign for the new site. These can confidently be promised for June, when more adequate treatment can be given than would have been possible this month.

Three of our alumni have recently been highly honored in their particular fields of work. Percy M. Hughes, '80, formerly a teacher and then principal of Central, and for some years assistant superintendent of schools of this city, has received and accepted an appointment as superintendent of schools in Syracuse, N. Y., and took up his new duties in this city on March 1. On February 10, the President announced that W. Morgan Shuster, of Washington, a graduate of Central in the class of 1895, would head a commission of five American experts asked by the government of Persia to reform the finances of that country. Mr. Shuster will occupy the post of treasurer-general of Persia. Another American to go to Persia is Ralph W. Hills, who will be auditor of the empire. Mr. Hills graduated from Central with the four-year class of 1894. While regretting that their new duties will take these alumni away from Washington, we wish to extend them in the name of the Association heartiest congratulations and best wishes for success.

The classes of 1878 and 1886 have recently held their annual reunions in this city, continuing their unbroken records since graduation. We feel that some of the other classes might well follow the example of these two in holding an annual reunion.

Four marriages of interest to Central alumni have come to our notice recently. On January 14 there took place in San Francisco, the marriage of Mr. Ralph E. Renaud, '00, and Miss Helen Lamson. On February, 1, in this city, Miss Nellie L. Brighton, '09, became the bride of Mr. Harry E. Coleman, and a week later Miss Edith A. Lincoln, of the same class, became Mrs. William W. Adams. On March 4, Miss Grace Anderson Hunt, of Lancaster, Mass., became the wife of Mr. A. G. Alden, a member of the Central Faculty, and President of the Athletic Association.

The June, 1911, graduating class has organized with the following officers: William S. Boteler, president; Pauline Johnson, vice-president; Marian Heitmuller, secretary; William H. Collins, treasurer.

The Central debating team won its ninth consecutive victory and its third consecutive championship on March 3. On January 13, the team secured a unanimous decision over Technical, upholding the negative of the proposition for a committee on committees in the House; and on March 3, by a like vote, the team came out victorious over Business, establishing the affirmative of the proposition for a central bank. The team is composed of Miss Marjorie Barnes, and Messrs. Lawrence J. Heller, Charles J. Shaw, and Albert J. Covert, all of the junior class.

According to the baseball schedule recently announced Central's games in the championship series will probably be as follows: Friday, April 28, with Business; Tuesday, May 9, with Eastern; Friday, May 12, with Western, and Friday, May 19, with Technical. Various circumstances, particularly the work of constructing the new stands at American League Park in place of the ones recently destroyed by fire, may interfere with the schedule, but it is hoped no changes will be necessary. Chances are quite good for another championship for Central, and all Centralities are urged to come out and "root."

The Dramatic Association of the school is now at work on Sheridan's "The Rivals," of which three performances will be given on dates in April to be announced later. Some features of the spring lunch, which it has been found necessary to discontinue in spite of its uniform financial success, will be combined with these performances.

The enrollment of the school at the close of February was 1,141.

DIED

On March 2, 1911, EUGENE A. MOODY, of the class of 1909.
On March 13, 1911, MABEL ELLIOTT BAILEY, of the class of 1899.

The Alumni Association of Central High School was organized on June 24, 1909. The annual business meeting is held on the evening following the school commencement in June. A reunion is held annually during the Christmas holidays.

The Board of Managers, composed of the officers and ten others, is constituted as follows for the year 1910-11: Emory M. Wilson, '89, honorary president; Roswell W. Snow, '04, president; Helen Coolidge, '00, vice president; George W. Hodgkins, '09, secretary; I. Paul Taylor, '07, treasurer; Harry English, '83; Truman Abbe, '91; E. O. Schreiber, Jr., '06; Edward C. Kemper, '07; Edna Turnburke, '08; Olive M. Keys, '08; Wilson L. Townsend, '09; Sara Koenigsberger, '10; Franc M. King, '10, and Norman Fischer, '10. Staff of THE ALUMNI RECORD: George W. Hodgkins, '09, editor; Lloyd G. Henry, '10, business manager.

ARTICLE II. MEMBERS

Anyone shall be eligible to membership in this Association who shall have received a diploma certifying the completion of the regular course in the Central High School, or who, having attended the school for at least one year, shall have withdrawn in good standing; provided, however, that no person who shall not have received a diploma shall become a member of the Association until his class shall have graduated.

Anyone who shall have been a member of the Faculty of Central High School for at least one scholastic year, whether such person may or may not be a member of the Faculty at the time of joining, shall be eligible to associate membership in the Association. An associate member shall have all the privileges of membership except that of holding active office.

ARTICLE III. OFFICERS

The officers shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Board of Managers. The Board of Managers shall consist of ten members, three of whom shall be members of the last graduating class. All officers of the Association shall be elected at the annual meeting of the Association, and shall hold office for one year.

It shall be the duty of the President to preside over all meetings of the Association. He shall also administer all affairs entrusted to his care. The Secretary shall keep the records of the Association, and shall notify all members in writing of any meetings to be held. The Treasurer shall take charge of all funds of the Association, and shall make disbursements from these funds when ordered to do so by the President or the Board of Managers.

The Board of Managers shall act as an advisory board to the President. The individual members of the board shall serve upon such standing committees as are from time to time appointed by the President. The officers of the Association shall be ex-officio members of the board.

ARTICLE IV. MEETINGS

A general meeting of the Association shall be held once every year. But upon application in writing of two or more members of the Board of Managers, it shall be the duty of the President to call a special meeting. At any meeting of the Association, fifteen members present shall be deemed a quorum for the transaction of business.

ARTICLE V. ELECTIONS

Elections for all officers shall be held at the annual meeting of the Association. In case of the death or removal of any officer, the vacancy caused thereby shall be filled by the Board of Managers.

The Board of Managers shall select annually a nominating committee, which shall consist of seven members of the Association who hold no office, and which shall present at the annual business meeting nominations for the offices of President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer. Nominations by this committee shall in no sense restrict the making of nominations by any member at the meeting.

ARTICLE VI. DUES

The annual dues of this Association shall be 50 cents. Non-payment of dues shall be sufficient cause for the removal of the name of any member from the alumni enrollment.

ARTICLE VII. AMENDMENTS

Amendments to this Constitution shall be proposed in writing by five members at any meeting of the Association, or in any issue of the official organ of the Association, and shall be adopted by two-thirds vote of the members present at any meeting held not less than two weeks after mailing of notices duly designating the amendments as business for that meeting. A quorum for the adoption of any amendment shall consist of thirty members.

Announcements

At the meeting of the Board of Managers held February 18, the principal topics of discussion were plans for a theater benefit and an excursion to be held in the next few months for combined social and financial purposes. The former purpose needs no particular discussion, but the financial status of the Association perhaps calls for a little explanation. Since the organization of the Association twenty-one months ago the receipts have been confined to the annual dues of fifty cents per member, the reunion fees of fifty cents each and some sixty dollars from last year's advertisements in THE RECORD. During the same time the expenses have been heavy for the purposes of enlarging and perfecting the organization, and of starting this publication. Experience has also been not without its cost, and particularly the Christmas reunion has, on both of these first two occasions, much exceeded in cost the receipts from reunion fees. These perfectly legitimate extraordinary expenses incident to starting the Association have resulted in a deficit in the treasury, which the present plans seek to remove. It is certain, however, that, if the present support of the alumni is maintained, THE RECORD and the other regular expenses can in future be fully met by the dues, small as they are, supplemented by the income from advertisements; and the reunion can undoubtedly be conducted on its own receipts with the aid of the experience already gained. Therefore, if either event planned is made an annual affair, particularly the excursion, the proceeds can hereafter be turned over to special projects for the benefit of the alumni or the school. The Board asks the vigorous support of all Centralites to make the events proposed both financially and socially successful.

The theater benefit will take place at the Columbia Theater on Monday evening, April 24. This will be the second week of the Columbia Stock Company, and though the exact play can not yet be announced, a good performance can be promised. There will soon be printed a large number of tickets, which can be purchased to be exchanged at the box office for reserved seat tickets during the regular public sale later. Some of the members of the various classes will be asked to assist in selling these tickets, and any others who will volunteer will be given tickets on application to the Treasurer, who may be reached at the school. Any who desire to attend, but are not reached by others who have tickets for sale, can secure them direct from the Treasurer. It must be fully understood that the Alumni Association will receive no benefit from any tickets purchased directly at the box office, but will receive half of the proceeds from all of the special tickets sold by the alumni agents and exchanged later for the theater's tickets. The usual rates of 25, 50 and 75 cents will be maintained for the various seats. All alumni who can do so should take advantage of this opportunity offered on April 24 to combine their own pleasure and the financial benefit of the Alumni Association.

The excursion will take place on Saturday, June 10, with Marshall Hall as the place. The Board has secured for Centralites and their friends the exclusive use of the steamer and grounds for the day, and the Macalester will make three trips, giving everyone a chance to spend some part of the day at the resort. The usual rate of twenty-five cents will be in force. No definite program has been arranged, but on the athletic side there will be the "Vet." baseball game, between the school team and a team of faculty and alumni, and possibly an inter-class track meet for the school. Further details will be given in the next issue of THE RECORD, to appear about the first of June.

The Secretary takes this opportunity to solicit the cooperation of the alumni in perfecting a definite close organization of the membership for the purpose of enlarging it and making it firmer and stronger. In the past, work of this sort has been conducted almost wholly "from headquarters." A list of twelve or thirteen hundred alumni with their addresses was compiled from the school records and from information furnished by several of the alumni, and this list, with corrections and additions from time to time, has been used as a mailing list for the printed matter prepared under official auspices. In this way a membership of about four hundred has been built up, but it has become evident that a closer and more personal canvass of the alumni would greatly increase the number. One phase of this can be seen by comparing this year's membership list with last year's. Out of last year's 308 members approximately half have failed to renew their memberships, and this number includes many whom we know to be distinctly interested and loyal alumni. We do not doubt that a hundred of these could be restored to the rolls if they were seen personally, though the formal official communications have received no response, from forgetfulness or a like cause.

Several alumni have offered their services in the past and they have been quite successful, particularly in working among their classmates. If these proffers of aid have not been followed up very enthusiastically by the Secretary in the past, it has been merely because work in somewhat different directions has occupied his time. He now takes opportunity to thank these again, and to solicit their aid and that of any others who are willing to work toward extending the influence of the Association. In efforts of this sort it is the custom of some alumni organizations to work through a system of class secretaries whose duties are to extend the membership and report news to the alumni publication. It is hoped to establish here a system on somewhat similar lines, but in the absence of definite class organization affiliated with the general organization it will be necessary in most cases to rely upon volunteers instead of upon regularly elected class officers. It seems best, also, not to have a rigid system by classes, but to solicit volunteers to work wherever they may be most effective. Classes are the most natural units for such work, but where a member can effectively reach other alumni through other ties which grew up at school, through ties of residence or business at the present time, that member will receive all the encouragement and assistance we can furnish. Also we feel that more than one worker in a single class, particularly one of the larger classes would be distinctly desirable rather than otherwise.

On the grounds thus ramblingly stated, the Secretary solicits the services of all alumni who are able and willing to act as members of a corps of agents with the objects of enlarging and strengthening the organization, and reporting information for entry on our records or publication in the pages of THE RECORD. If any person so disposed will write to the Secretary, the latter will be glad to furnish all needed information contained in the records of the school or the Association and to assist in the work at all times in any way he is able. Lists of graduates in the various classes can readily be supplied, with the addresses of such as are on our mailing list. If you are willing to help the Association along so far as your time and opportunities will permit, write us, if only a postal. By so doing you will in no sense obligate yourself, but will merely be placing yourself in a position to help the Association most effectively when opportunity offers.

It is customary to hold the annual business meeting on the evening following the commencement exercises, and if this custom is followed, the meeting will fall this year on Thursday evening, June 22. Little can yet be said of the business to be transacted, but the officers will probably have several important matters to present. The meeting will probably be asked to express an opinion on various matters pertaining to the Christmas reunion and to the excursion. Further details will be given in the JUNE RECORD, which will also be open to all members for expressions of opinion on topics of interest.

The following list includes the names of all persons enrolled as members of the Association for the year 1910-11. These memberships theoretically expire in June, but, by custom, THE RECORD and other privileges of the Association are extended up to, but not including, the reunion next December, before the payment of the new year's dues becomes necessary. Dues for 1911-12 are payable at any time, and the next issue of THE RECORD will contain the list of persons at that time enrolled for 1911-12, including those of the following whose memberships extend beyond this year. Subsequent issues will contain additions to the 1911-12 enrollment, until the full catalogue is published for that year next March.

Members should promptly notify us of any errors or omissions in this or subsequent lists, and of any changes which may occur. Such corrections and changes will be noted in this department as received. Persons whose names are marked * were recorded as present at the December meeting. Any who were present but are not so marked should notify us.

In general, addresses are Northwest, Washington, D. C., unless otherwise specified. Alternative college addresses are on our records for some of the members, and matter will be so addressed during the college year. Members should always supply such addresses to avoid the inconveniences of forwarding from the city address.

The Safest Investments

Are those that do not fluctuate during disturbed conditions of the money or stock market. First deed of trust notes (first mortgage), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or corporations for their stability, and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and Investments."

Home-Made Gas Light For Country Homes

—Its name is ACETYLENE. It is made from calcium carbide and plain water. This carbide looks like coal, but acts like magic. When this carbide is merely dropped into water it produces Acetylene Gas, which is ten times richer than the best city gas. When the gas is lighted at a jet, same as city gas, it gives a brilliant WHITE light of exactly the same chemical quality and color-balance as sunlight. Drop us a line today for further particulars.

No. 2

The New Site

Early in April the District Commissioners completed arrangements for the purchase of the block of ground bounded by Eleventh, Thirteenth, and Clifton streets, and Florida avenue, to be used as the site for a new Central High School building. The purchase price left the sum of $15,600 remaining out of the $250,000 appropriation, and a bill is now before Congress, having been introduced by Senator Gallinger on April 13, providing that this sum may be used to prepare plans for the new building. Nothing has yet been definitely stated as to the cost of the building, but it is certain that enough money will be provided to give Central a structure which will compare favorably with the best high school buildings in the country.

The block of ground purchased, known as the Sherman tract, contains 390,637 square feet, which is ample for the building and for large grounds surrounding it. It is centrally located with regard to the school's natural field and the direction of the city's growth, and is readily reached by both of the local street car systems. The contour is rather rough, with a rise of over fifty feet from Florida avenue to Clifton street, but this has its advantages as well as disadvantages. The character of the neighborhood to the south is not of the best, but that to the northwest, where the building itself will probably be located, is one of the most desirable residence sections of the city. In addition to the numerous small homes on the north and west there are the large Logan and Barber estates, and on the east are the grounds of the Garfield Memorial Hospital.

On the whole the site, both for size and location, is unusually satisfactory considering the rapidity with which the few remaining vacant areas within the built-up portions of the Northwest have been subdivided and built upon in the last few years. Another tract of land, of about 280,000 square feet, at Mount Pleasant street and Columbia road, was also offered the Commissioners, but after due consideration it was decided that the Sherman tract would be more satisfactory. A map showing the location of the accepted site is printed herewith.

The present Central High School building, which will be superseded for high school purposes by the building to be erected on this new site, was first opened as the Washington High School on September 11, 1882. It then consisted of what is now the main or O street portion, erected at a total cost of $72,130.47, on ground already belonging to the District. Six years later the Seventh street wing, costing $40,000, was opened. The cost of the building is obviously small compared with the costs of high schools built in Washington and particularly in other cities in recent years, though at the time of erection it was considered one of the finest buildings of its kind in the country.

For some years there has been a movement on foot to secure a new building for the school, and an appropriation for a new site has several times been included in the recommendations made by the Commissioners to Congress. This desire for a new building has been based not so much on any actual doubts of structural safety, fire protection, or sanitation, but mainly on the grounds that the old building does not meet the special needs of a high school of the present standard. Many of the features of the general equipment of the structure are antiquated, and the facilities for almost everything except ordinary classroom instruction are very meager. The ample size of the new site and the expected liberal appropriation for building will afford advantages for the athletic, military, dramatic, and other such activities of the school, as well as for the more purely educational work.

At its meeting last June the Alumni Association considered the time favorable for pushing the site campaign to a successful conclusion, and authorized the appointment of a committee of alumni to take up the work. As appointed by the President, the committee consisted of Corcoran Thom, '89, chairman; Clarence B. Rheem, '78; Walter C. Clephane, '84; G. A. Lyon, jr., '85; Henry H. Glassie, '89, and John B. Sleman, jr., '91. It is, of course, impossible to say just what share this committee had in the final success of the campaign, especially since it chose to carry on its work quietly though none the less vigorously. It is certain that conditions were otherwise favorable to the project, and it had been endorsed by local officials and by the two leading civic organizations of the city; but, at any rate, the committee's share was considerable, and the Alumni Association is to be congratulated on having been able to secure the services of the six prominent alumni who composed it.

The estimates for the fiscal year 1911-12, forwarded to Congress by the District Commissioners last December, included the item of $250,000 for the site, and when the District appropriation bill was reported to the House on January 21, it contained the following paragraph:

"For a site for a new central high school, approximately four hundred thousand square feet, to be located north of Q street north and west of Tenth street west, two hundred and fifty thousand dollars."

This paragraph came up for discussion on the afternoon of January 28, and the remarks upon it occupy not quite two pages of the Congressional Record. The point of order that it appropriated for a work not authorized by existing law, which had caused the elimination of a number of meritorious items in the preceding part of the bill, was made against the provision, but the discussion which followed concerned the true merits of the matter rather than any strict parliamentary considerations. The actual need of a new building was questioned by several Representatives who confessed a lack of information on the subject, and replies were made particularly by Representatives Taylor of Ohio, Kendall of Iowa, Sims of Tennessee, and Gardner of Michigan. Some of the statements concerning the old building were not quite accurate, but they proved none the less effective and the paragraph was allowed to remain in the bill.

The Senate confined its action almost exclusively to restoring to the bill some of the items which the House had eliminated, and the provision for the site was not questioned. After several conferences between the two houses, the bill was finally agreed upon and was signed by the President on March first.

The Shuster Luncheon

On Tuesday, March 21, a number of Central alumni and their friends joined to honor W. Morgan Shuster, '94-95, in a luncheon at the New Willard. Mr. Shuster had shortly before been designated to head a board of five Americans authorized by the Persian parliament to take up the reorganization of the finances of the empire. Ralph W. Hills, '93-94, who will go to Persia as auditor of the empire, was also a guest of honor.

Just after the fifty diners had taken their places at the table John B. Sleman, jr., toastmaster, read the following letter which had been received from President Taft:

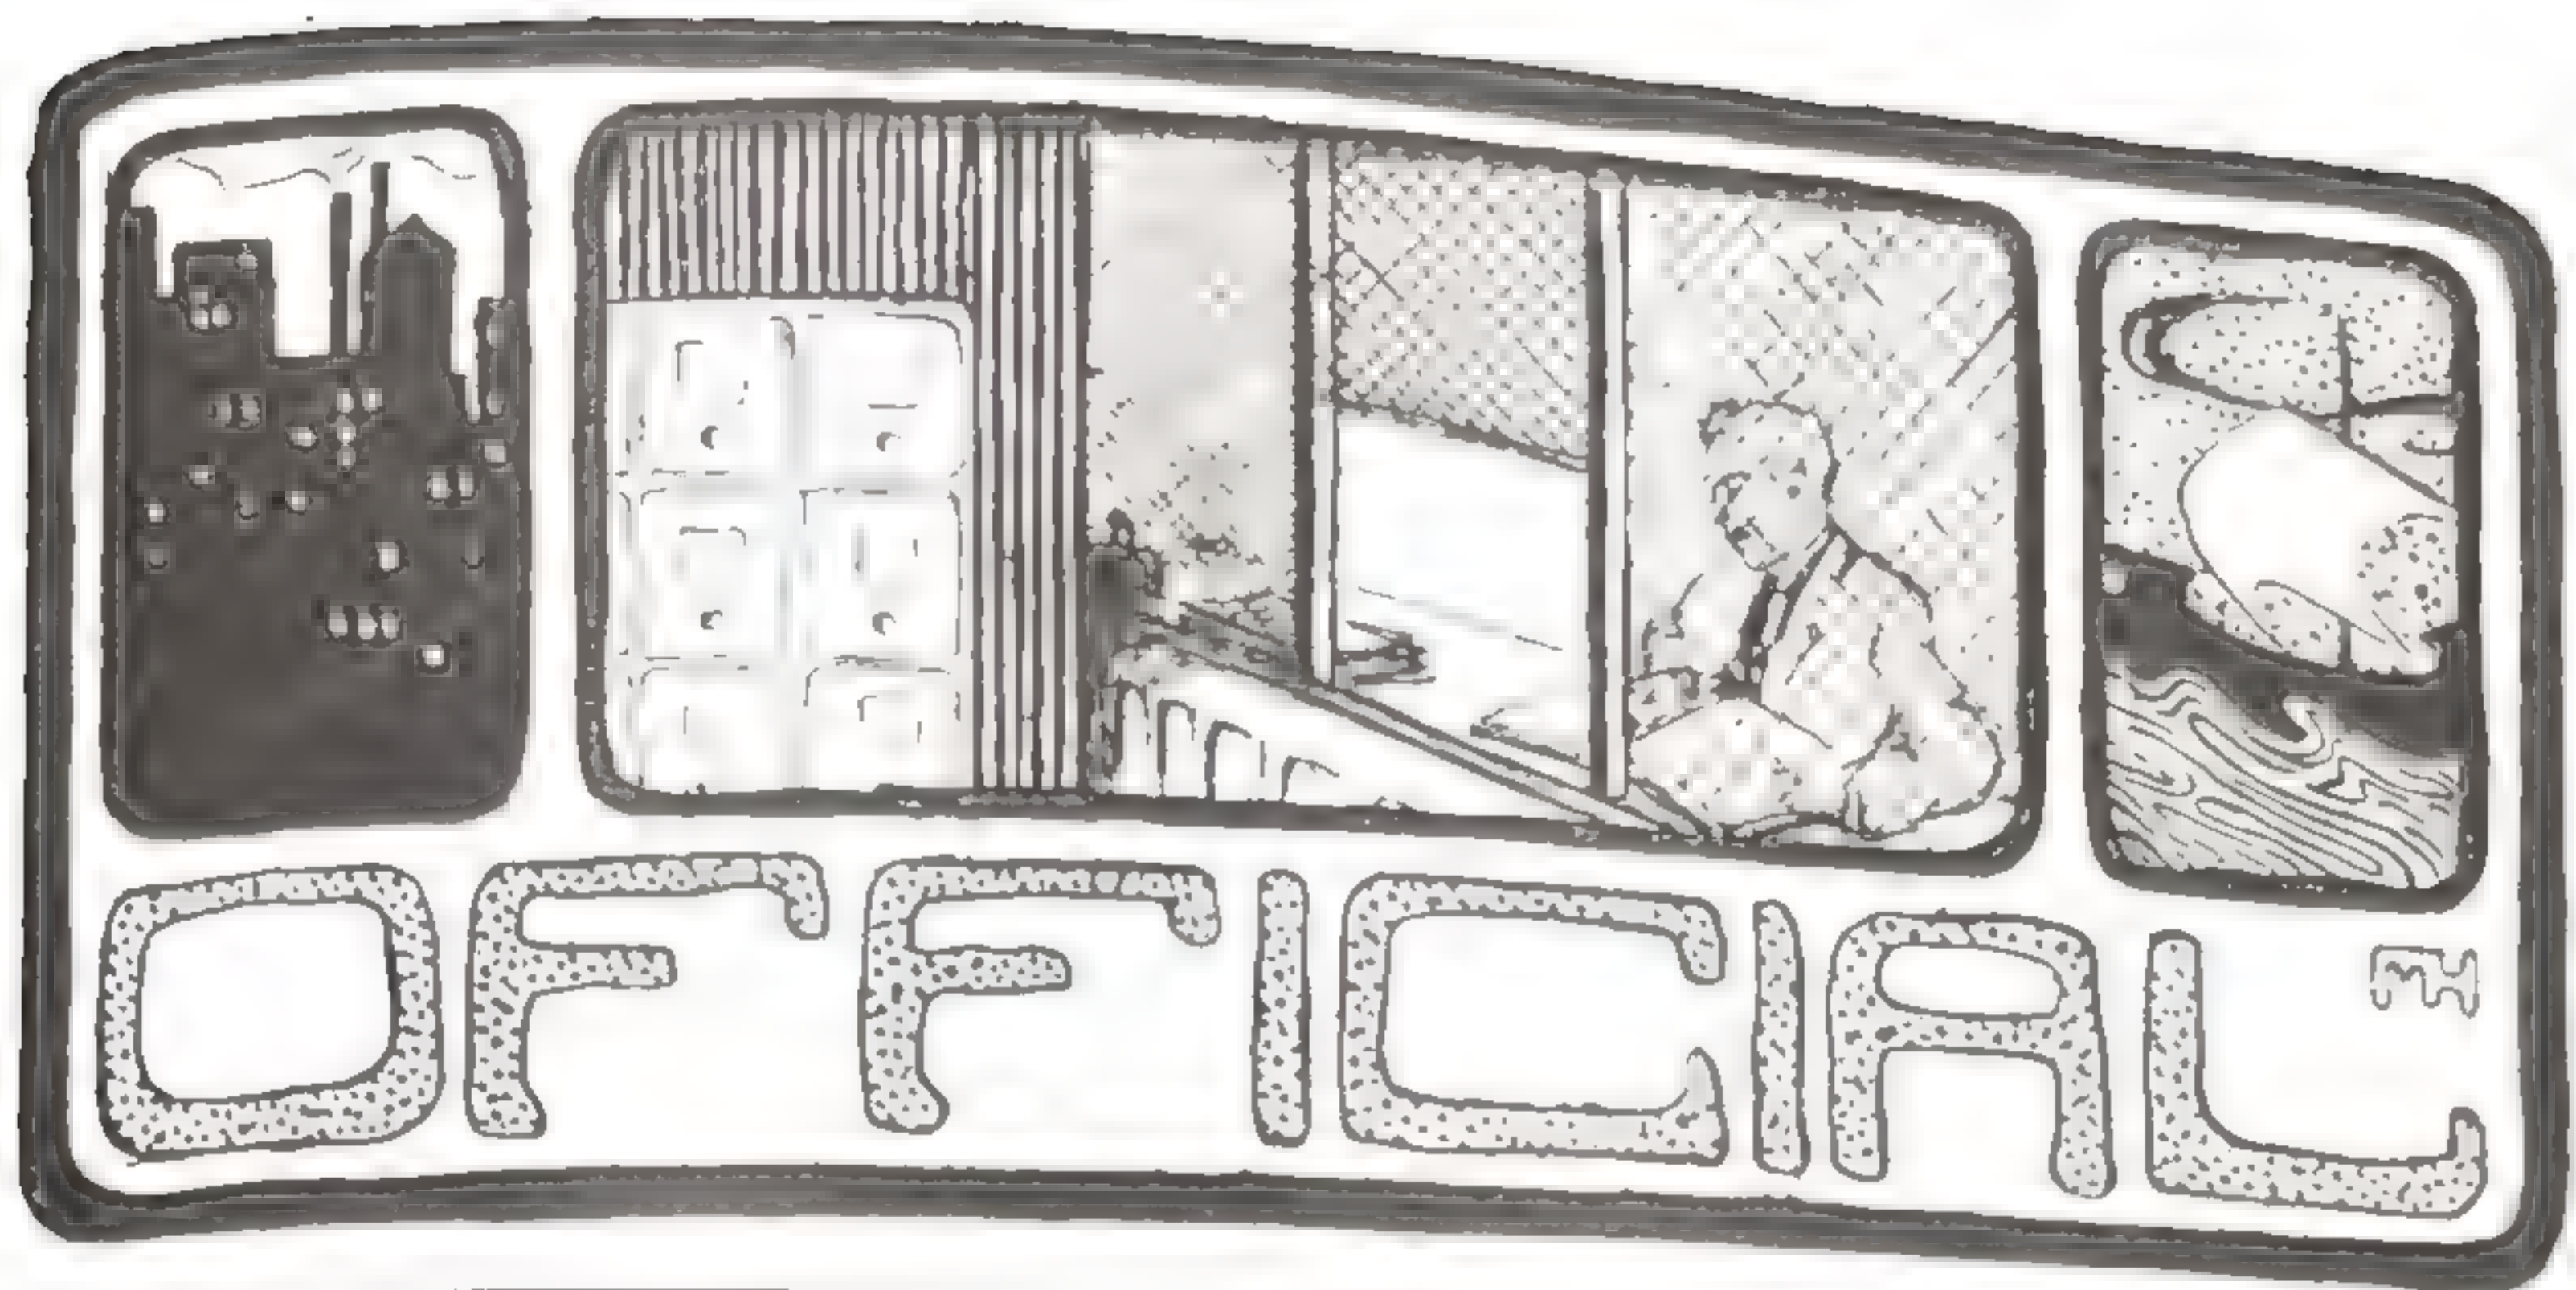

"I write to extend my congratulations and good wishes to your guest, W. Morgan Shuster. I knew him well in the Philippines, and came to have a very high opinion of his ability and his attention to duty. It gave me great pleasure to speak strongly of him in connection with the discharge of his new duties, and I have no doubt that in his new and important post he will give great satisfaction."

The speakers of the afternoon included Judge James F. Smith, formerly governor-general of the Philippines; Manuel Quezon, resident commissioner from the Philippines; Henry B. F. Macfarland, formerly Commissioner of the District of Columbia; Evan E. Young, chief of the eastern bureau of the State Department; E. H. Daniel, of the Board of Education; George A. Prevost, of the class of '78; Emory M. Wilson, '89; and Harry T. Domer, '95.

The committee of alumni having the luncheon in charge consisted of A. T. Hensey, '78; Harry English, '83; Walter C. Clephane, '84; Emory M. Wilson, '89; John B. Sleman, jr., '91; Harry T. Domer, '95; and Roswell W. Snow, '04. Those present, in addition to the guests of honor and the others already named, were C. A. Aspinwall, Henry H. Burroughs, C. L. Bouve, Justin M. Chamberlin, Paul Charlton, John F. Conor, Orville B. Drown, F. H. Eastman, John Joy Edson, John B. Espey, Henry G. Hanford, Arthur B. Heaton, H. Austin Heitmuller, J. T. Hendrick, Charles S. Hyer, Guy H. Johnson, S. E. Kramer, Robert S. Lamb, Benito Legarda, Charles R. Luce, L. H. Mattingly, Frank McIntyre, Eugene H. McLachlen, Charles G. Ravenburg, L. H. Reichelderfer, Clarence B. Rheem, Addison T. Ruan, William D. Searle, William M. Shuster, F. McC. Smith, and W. H. Von Bayer.

W. Morgan Shuster graduated from Central in the three-year class in 1894, and then returned to complete the four-year course in 1895. Among his honors at school were president of his class, captain and then colonel in the cadet regiment, and a member of the football team. After studies at Columbian University he entered the government service in Cuba. He later was appointed collector of customs, and subsequently secretary of public instruction, of the Philippine Islands. In the latter post he was a member of the Philippine Commission, and in both of them he had charge of much important and difficult work. Most recently he has been engaged in legal practice in this city, but his signal services in our insular possession were still remembered when occasion came to choose some one well versed in government and finance for the position of treasurer-general of Persia.

Ralph W. Hills graduated from the three-year course in 1893, and from the four-year course in 1894. He secured the degree of B. S. from Columbian University in 1897, and that of LL. B. in 1905. Most of his time since leaving Central has been spent in Washington in the government service or in private legal practice, and, though his work has not been so notable as Mr. Shuster's, it yet speaks well for his success in his new and important post in Persia.

The Alumni Association of Central High School was organized on June 24, 1909. The annual business meeting is held on the evening following the school commencement in June. A reunion is held annually during the Christmas holidays, and an excursion in the earlier part of June. The annual dues are fifty cents, which include a subscription to THE ALUMNI RECORD, issued quarterly.

The Board of Managers, composed of the officers and ten others, is constituted as follows for the year 1910-11: Emory M. Wilson, '89, honorary president; Roswell W. Snow, '04, president; Helen Coolidge, '00, vice president; George W. Hodgkins, '09, secretary; I. Paul Taylor, '07, treasurer; Harry English, '83; Truman Abbe, '91; E. O. Schreiber, Jr., '06; Edward C. Kemper, '07; Edna Turnburke, '08; Olive M. Keys, '08; Wilson L. Townsend, '09; Sara Koenigsberger, '10; Franc M. King, '10, and Norman Fischer, '10.

The First Annual Excursion

By the time this issue reaches the members they will presumably have already received details of the first annual excursion of the Association to be held on Saturday, June 10. This notice must therefore have the nature of a summary and reminder. The steamer Charles Macalester has been chartered for the whole day, and trips will be made to the Marshall Hall grounds at 10:00, 2:30, and 6:30. The special attraction scheduled is the "Vet" baseball game, in which some stars of the faculty and alumni will essay to show the regulars how the game should really be played. All who have seen "Vet." games in the past know that a large amount of fun and excitement is always furnished. This game will take place in the afternoon, and, in addition, there will be music, dancing, and the other usual attractions at Marshall Hall. Efforts are also being made to arrange an inter-class track meet as a further attraction.

Tickets and explanatory circulars have been sent to the members and to a considerable number of other alumni residing in or near Washington, and agents have been chosen to make sales at the school. A large crowd of alumni, students, and friends of Central is expected, and all who are able to make the trip should take this opportunity for an early summer outing under the most enjoyable conditions. The three trips of the boat will allow even those who are busy part of the day to take part in the outing.

Returns for tickets should be made to the Treasurer at the school, and additional tickets can be secured from him. Tickets may also be purchased at the wharf after 9:00 a. m. on the day of the excursion. The twenty-five cents covers all attractions.

The June Business Meeting

As already announced, the third annual business meeting will be held at the school on Wednesday evening, June 21, the day following the graduation exercises of the school. As usual, all Central alumni are cordially invited to attend.

Following the reports of the officers for 1910-11, the officers for the new year, including the members of the Board of Managers, will be elected, presumably by viva voce vote. As authorized by the recent constitutional amendment, the present Board has appointed a committee to make nominations at the meeting, subject to any further nominations which members may desire to make. The committee consists of Emory M. Wilson, '89, chairman; Sarah E. Simons, '83; Page Taylor, '01; H. L. Rockwell, '05; Fred. H. Koschwitz, '08; William H. Kemper, '09; Lloyd G. Henry, '10.

As miscellaneous business, the officers will ask the meeting to express views on the conduct of the annual reunion and excursions. It is thought that, after the experience with the two reunions of 1909 and 1910, the members may have suggestions to make, about such matters as the hour of day (whether afternoon or evening), entertainment features, etc. Similar suggestions will be in order in connection with the report of the excursion which will have been held on June 10. It would also be well to have some determination of specific objects for which the Association is to work. After the excursion the financial position and prospects of the organization will be clear and arrangements can be made accordingly. Outside of the campaign for a new building, which will no doubt be continued, the work of the Association is in an undefined state, though possible fields of activity are numerous. The details of the work will presumably be left to the Board of Managers, but it would aid materially to have the general membership cooperate at the meeting in offering suggestions and reaching some general conclusions. The same may be said of arrangements for increasing the membership of the Association, in which the suggestions of the members will be of the greatest value to the Board.

In addition to these matters of business, a resolution will be presented for vote authorizing the changes in the Constitution detailed below. The list seems formidable, but the items scarcely call for much discussion. No members need, therefore, be scared away from the meeting by the prospect of a "dry" evening. The resolution is presented with the required five signatures furnished by George W. Hodgkins, I. Paul Taylor, R. W. Snow, Wilson L. Townsend, and H. W. Hodgkins.

(1) In Article I, add to the first sentence the words: "of the District of Columbia."

(2) Insert the following as an additional paragraph of Article II: "The term 'Central High School,' as here used, includes not only the school officially so designated, but also the schools of which it was the outgrowth, comprising all public schools of high school grade existing in the District of Columbia prior to September, 1890."

(3) In Article III, first paragraph, strike out the second sentence and insert: "The Board of Managers shall consist of the four named officers, ex officio, and ten others, and at least three of the whole number shall be selected from the last two graduating classes." Also strike out the last sentence of this article.

(4) In Article III, paragraph two, strike out the words: "when ordered to do so by the President or the Board of Managers," and insert "on authorization of the Board of Managers."

(5) In Article V, paragraph two, strike out "seven" and insert "five."

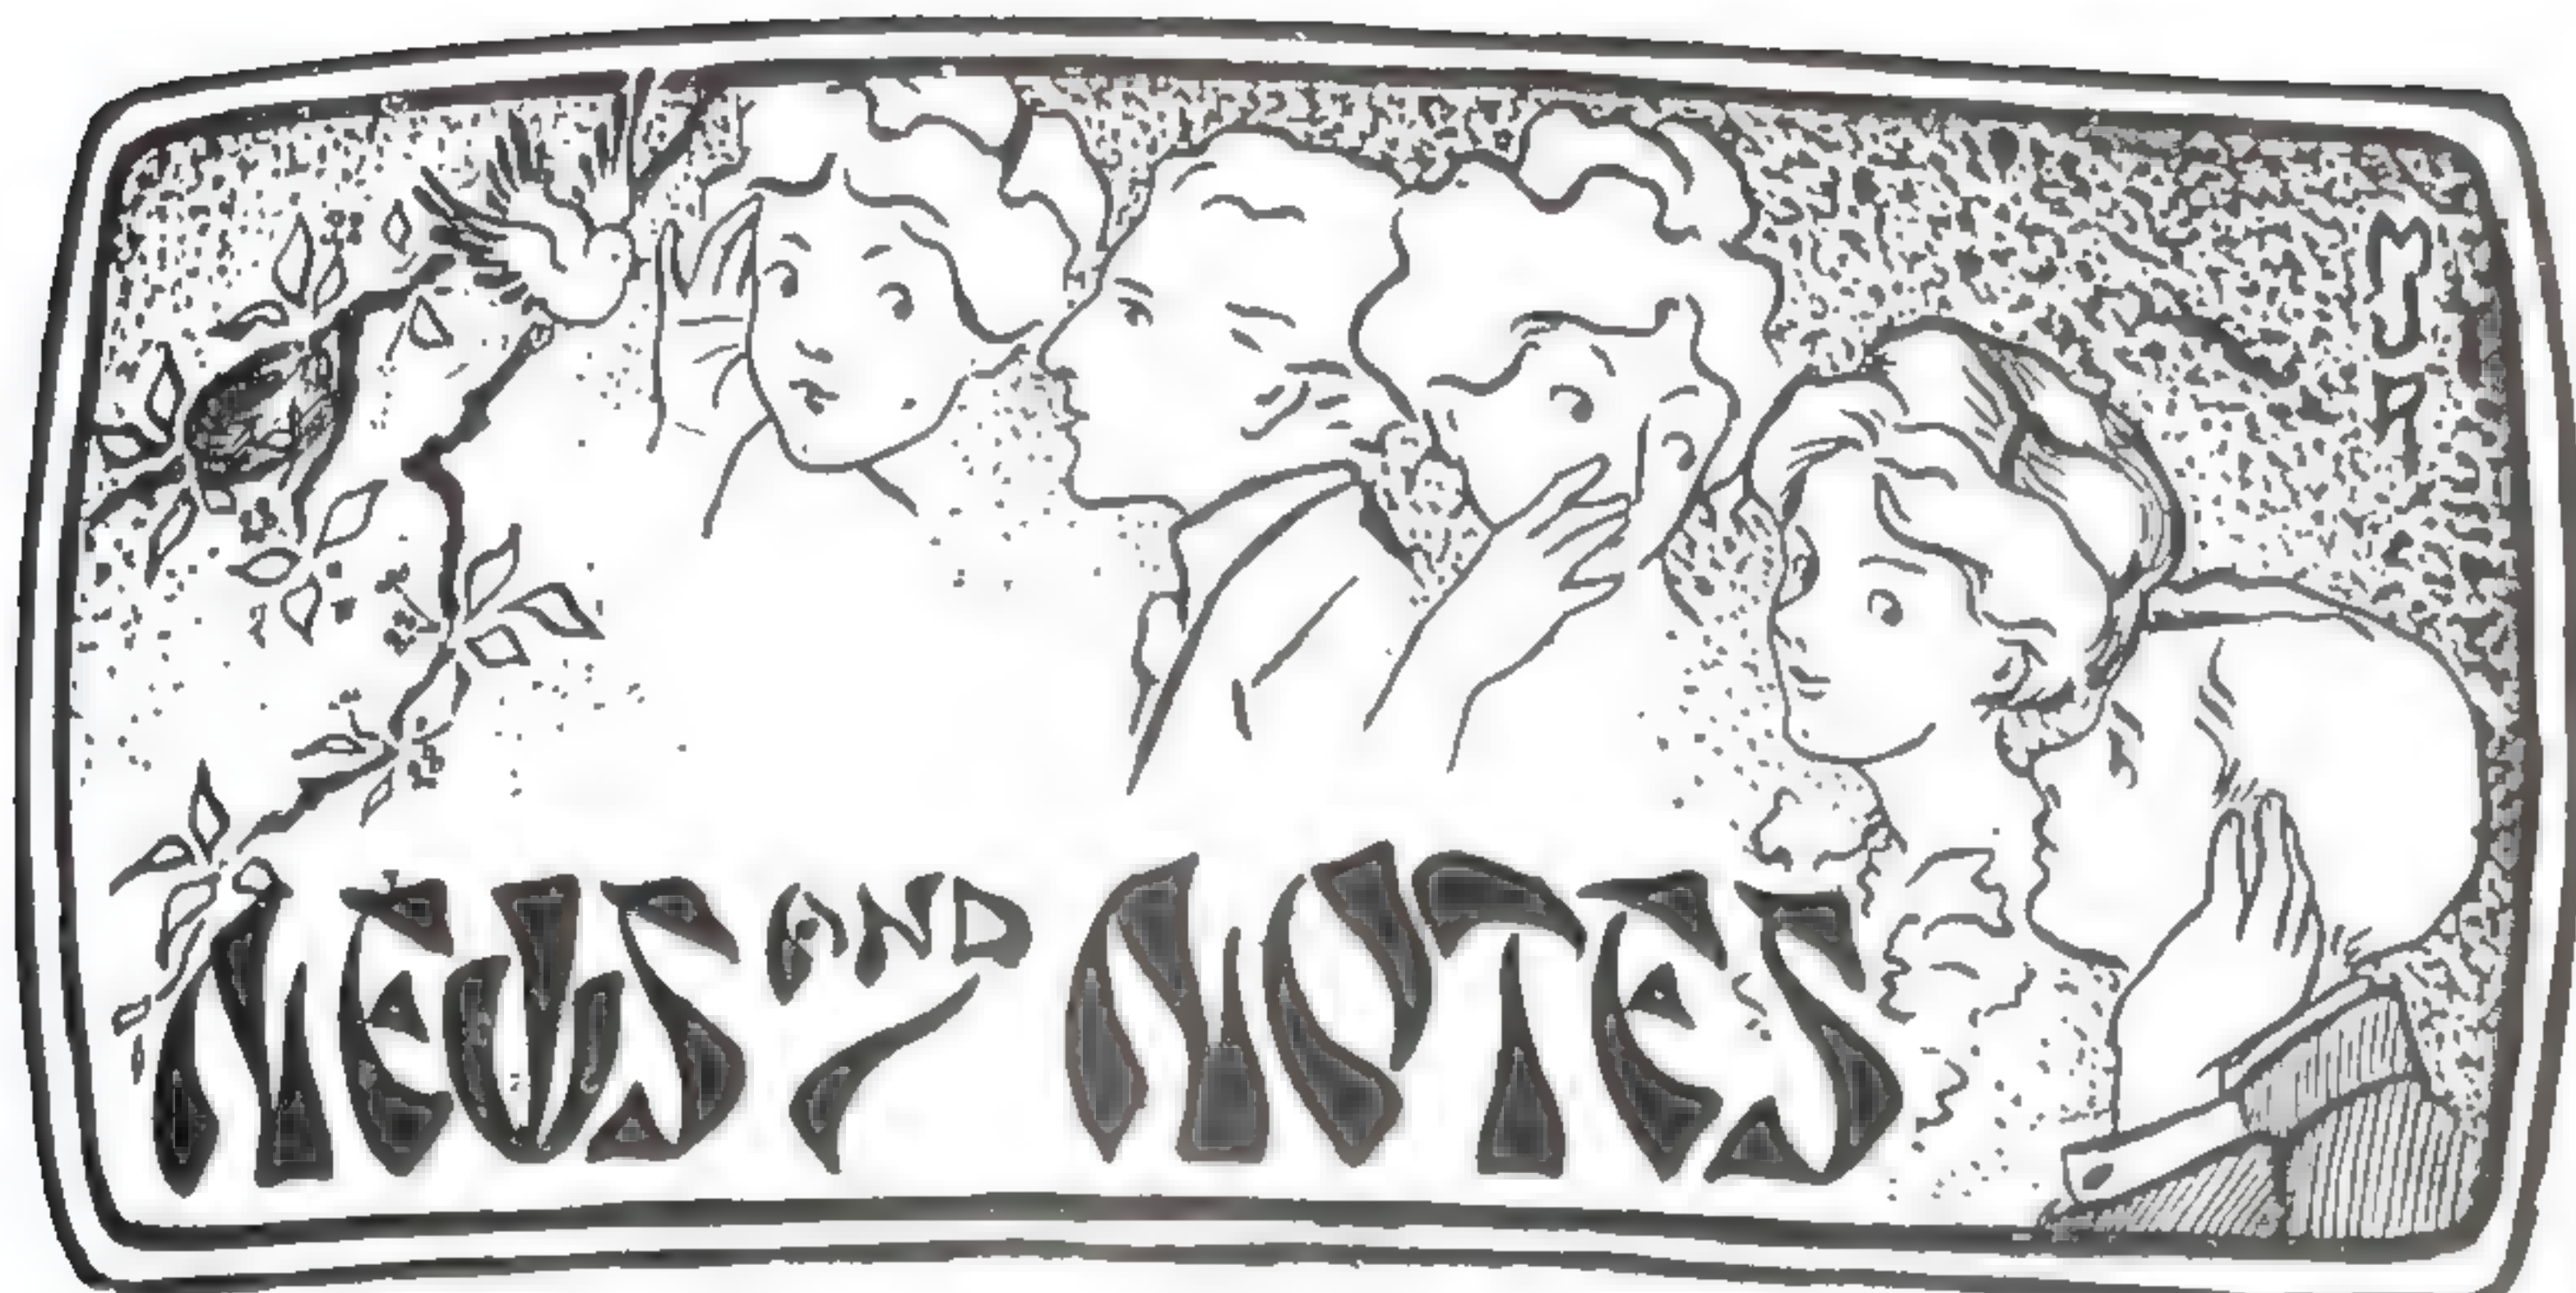

The first two amendments do not make any actual changes in the usage of the Association. The first merely adds the words indicated to the formal title of the Association. The second defines the term "Central High School" in connection with qualifications for membership, following the present unwritten custom. The Association has decided that no change in name is necessary to include in its membership graduates of the school before the name of "Central" was officially taken, but it still seems best to have some definition of the matter in the Constitution. The present provisions for the Board of Managers require that three out of the ten general members must be from the last graduating class; as proposed by the third amendment, there would be three out of the total of fourteen, and they would represent the last two graduating classes, since two classes are now graduated each year. The fourth provision gives the Board of Managers a general control over expenditures, but without requiring this control to be so close as to hamper the work of the officers. As a matter of fact, the actual present practice conforms in general to this provision, though the present reading gives the President alone power to authorize expenditures wholly independent of the wishes of the Board. It is believed that the word "or" should have read "and" in the original constitution, and in that case the amendment is in effect a correction rather than a change. The last amendment reduces the size of the nominating committee, as has been found desirable on putting into force this new provision of the Constitution.

The annual dues of fifty cents for 1911-12 will fall due at the coming business meeting, and payments may be made at that time. The Treasurer can also be reached at the school on the days preceding the meeting to receive payments. Members of the 1911 graduating classes are particularly urged to join the Association at this time. By reason of payments last June or last December which exceeded the current dues and the reunion fee (if the member was present at the reunion), a number of members are already credited for 1911-12 dues, and the list of these will be found on page 14 of this issue.

On Monday evening, April 24, a large number of Centralites responded to the invitation of the Board of Managers and attended a benefit at the Columbia Theater. The bill was "Arizona," Mr. Augustus Thomas's most successful play of western ranch and military life, rendered by the Columbia Players. In spite of various difficulties in the arrangements which would, no doubt, be guarded against in case a theater benefit should be given again, the Association cleared about a hundred dollars, approximately covering the debt accumulated since organization. With the receipts from the excursion the Treasurer hopes to present at the coming meeting a report which will justify not only a continuation of the work on the present lines, but also a widening of the usefulness of the Association.

The seventh issue of THE RECORD will appear next September as soon as possible after the first meeting of the Board of Managers for the new year. The issue will contain accounts of the excursion and the business meeting, reports for 1910-11, plans for the new year, and the usual departments.

William F. Willoughby, of the class of 1885, was recently appointed a member of the President's Economy Commission. Mr. Willoughby served for several years as treasurer and then secretary of the Porto Rican government, and since August, 1909, has been assistant director of the Bureau of the Census.

Paul H. Cromelin, '86, has just been placed in charge of all the Edison interests in Great Britain and Ireland with headquarters at London. He previously held various important posts with the Edison company in this country.

Roger Warde Paine, president of the Central class of 1906, is one of the 1911 graduates of the Naval Academy. Midshipman Paine has had a very high record in scholarship throughout his course, and was honored by his class with the editorship of the class annual, The Lucky Bag.

Word has reached us of the safe arrival of Mr. Shuster, Mr. Hills, and the other members of the American financial board at Teheran, the capital of Persia. Mr. Shuster and Mr. Hills together spent some time traveling in Southern Europe on the way to Persia.

Earlier in the year efforts were made to secure information concerning the Central alumni away at the various out-of-town colleges, and some of the lists which were then secured, largely through the kind assistance of alumni at the colleges, will perhaps be of interest to the readers of THE RECORD. The largest list comes from the University of Michigan, where the following twelve Central alumni are recorded as studying: Hagen Wilson, '05; C. W. Marsh, '06; Lucien H. Greathouse, '07; Frank Wheeler, '07; Will E. Dick, '08; Harlan Smith, '08; Sylvan S. Grosner, '08; Mark F. Finley, Jr., '08; James W. Follin, '09; William T. Daugherty, '09; Clarence E. Jones, '09, and Grace Dewey, '10.

Second in popularity seems to be Cornell, with the following nine Centralites: George E. Wilson, '06; J. H. Sherman, '08; Harvey T. Munn, '08; A. T. Coumbe, '09; Walter D. Eagan, '10; Emmrich D. Lamb, '10; Ramsay Spillman, '10; Ralph G. Waring, '10, and David Oettinger, '10.

Pennsylvania is also popular, with eight Central alumni: Powell Browning, '07; Fred. H. Koschwitz, '08; Shelton G. Hale, '09; Andrew B. Trudgian, '09; Owen W. Kennedy, '09; George Lancaster, '09; George C. Dewey, '10, and Clinton V. Newbold, '10.

Among Central representatives at other colleges are the following: University of Wisconsin—Wilmar F. Lent, '06; William H. Holmes, '10; Claudius B. Little, '10. Princeton—Logan Cunningham, '05; Ed. D. Rheem, '09. Wesleyan University—George L. Harvey, '09; John A. Eldridge, '09; H. T. Morsell, '10; Norman Thirkield, '10. Lafayette College—Isaac C. Clark, '09; Jerome E. Fishel, '09; Carl C. Speidel, '10. Johns Hopkins—Louis Breuninger, '09; G. C. Ober, Jr., '09. Goucher College, Baltimore—Gretchen Schmidt, '09; Margaretta Williamson, '09. Yale—Oliver C. Morse, '06; Daniel M. Chung, '09; Anthony Morse, '09; T. H. Tweedy, '10. Harvard—Howard Eager, '08; Jack Eager, '08. Dartmouth—John W. Noyes, '07; Elden B. Hartshorn, '08; Stuart O. Blythe, '08. Columbia—Richards Hale, '10. Virginia—Lunsford L. Hamner, '09; W. Parker Richardson, '09.

As usual, Central has been represented in the various departments of George Washington University by several dozen alumni. Five class presidents are from Central—Kenneth F. Maxcy, senior college; Harold K. Craig, senior engineering; Robert H. Harrison, junior engineering; Ralph Hospital, sophomore college, and Thomas Miller, freshman medical. Harold Craig is also president of the Association of Class Presidents. The "co-eds" from Central have two of the class vice-presidents—Helen Summy, senior college, and Olive Taylor, sophomore college.

This year, as often the case, Central graduates have shown especial strength in the journalistic interests at George Washington. The bi-weekly News for 1910-11 has been in the charge of E. O. Schreiber, jr., editor, and J. Raymond Hoover, business manager, both Central alumni; and The Cherry Tree annual was this year under the editorship of Howard W. Hodgkins. Next year, also, Central will have both editorships, with Arthur H. Redfield at the head of The News, and M. Gordon Slarrow editor of The Cherry Tree.

The June, 1911, graduating class recently elected the remaining officers to represent it on classnight, and the completed list stands as follows: William S. Boteler, president; Pauline Johnson, vice-president; Marian Heitmuller, secretary; William H. Collins, treasurer; Randolph C. Shaw, valedictorian; Paul S. Armstrong, historian; Walter A. Kibbey, poet. Classnight exercises will be held at the school on Friday evening, June 16; and the commencement at the National Theater, at 4:30 p. m. on Tuesday, June 20. About 140 students will be graduated.

Following the custom of five years, the 1911 class will issue a number of The Brecky at the close of the year. It is in charge of Wright McCormick, editor, and James H. Lyman, business manager. Some copies of the book will probably be on hand at the alumni meeting on June 21, for the convenience of alumni who may wish to secure a record of what has happened at the Old School during the year 1910-11.

The Central High School Dramatic Association closed a very successful season on May 6, with the last of three presentations of Sheridan's comedy, "The Rivals." This play took the place of the annual spring lunch which the school has managed for a number of years past. About $450 was turned over to athletics and the other school interests.

Another year of the High School Cadets closed with the annual competitive drill held on the White Lot on May 18 and 19. The flag went to Company D of Tech, but according to many competent critics the work of the Central companies was of an unusually high order.

The annual indoor rifle shoot was held at the National Guard armory on May 10, 12, and 13. Central started out with a rush, the First Battalion winning the battalion match, and Company A the company match, but a reversal of form on the last day allowed Western to take the school match, while most of the individual prizes went to Tech contestants.

Present indications are that Central will continue its unbroken record of victories in the annual spring track meet scheduled for June 2. The Central team did not accomplish much during the indoor season, but has met with pronounced success in the outdoor meets. First place was secured in the Georgetown Prep. and College Park meets, in both cases with more points than all the other scholastic competitors together. At the University of Virginia games Central came in second to Tome, and at Johns Hopkins tied for third in competition with Tome, Penn Charter, and Baltimore City College. Unusually strong individual work has been done by George Hamilton, and also by Captain Reuter.

As we go to press, the baseball championship has not yet been definitely decided.

In this department are published additions to the membership list, together with changes of address, corrections, etc. Members should be careful to keep the Secretary informed of any changes in address, to avoid difficulties in sending THE RECORD, circulars, etc. A complete catalog of members is published annually in March.

Members Enrolled for 1911-12

The following list includes all members from the directory lists in the present and previous issues who are already credited with a paid-up membership for the new year which officially begins at the coming business meeting. An asterisk (*) indicates an additional fifty cents credited to the member above the regular dues for the coming year. Members not listed here will continue to receive membership privileges up to next December without prepayment of the new year's dues, but early payment is urged. Home-Made Gas Light For Country Homes

—Its name is ACETYLENE. It is made from calcium carbide and plain water. This carbide looks like coal, but acts like magic. When this carbide is merely dropped into water it produces Acetylene Gas, which is ten times richer than the best city gas. When the gas is lighted at a jet, same as city gas, it gives a brilliant WHITE light of exactly the same chemical quality and color-balance as sunlight. Drop us a line today for further particulars.

The Excursion

On Saturday, June 10, about 1,300 alumni, students, and friends of Central joined in the first annual excursion of the Alumni Association to Marshall Hall, Md. The steamer Charles Macalester made three trips to the river resort, leaving Washington at 10:00, 2:30, and 6:30. For most of the day the weather was ideal, and the storm which lent considerable excitement to the evening, was the only feature to mar the enjoyment of the occasion.

The vanguard of excursionists reached the grounds shortly before noon, and picnic lunches were soon spread in many of the shady spots about the groves. Later in the afternoon the athletic program claimed the attention of many, while the merry-go-round, the shooting gallery, and the other regular attractions of Marshall Hall were well patronized.

The interclass track meet, under the auspices of the school athletic association, was started about 2 o'clock. This meet is an annual affair designed especially to encourage the "new material" of the school, and no winner of the school letter is allowed to compete. The freshmen easily carried off the honors, and John Reeves, of the first year, took two firsts and a second in the five events. The final interclass score, including several field events which took place at the school before the excursion, was: Freshmen, 36; sophomores, 24; juniors, 12; seniors, 8. The winning class will have its year,

SCENES AT THE EXCURSION

1914, engraved on the interclass cup, and the athletic association also awards medals to the individual winners. Several alumni assisted at the meet as officials, and also furnished some excitement in an impromptu relay race. Owing to an acrimonious dispute over the result, and also to the general confusion which enveloped this event, we are unable to furnish any more specific information of the race, but anyway prosaic statistics could scarcely do justice to it.

The other feature of the athletic program was the annual "Vet" baseball game, which began about 5 o'clock, after the crowd had been increased by the arrival of the afternoon boat. We had hoped to give a full box score of this wonderful game, in order that the alumni "fans" might get the "dope" on their favorites as accurate as possible; but after a manful struggle with his notes the official scorer was obliged to confess himself baffled. It seems to be the consensus of opinion that the final score was 8 to 3 in favor of the regulars, and that the game went seven innings, or perhaps only six, if the final session is barred on account of certain irregularities. Just why the veterans failed to come up to expectations and "put it all over" the regulars has occasioned some controversy. It is certain that with the galaxy of stars gathered under Captain Wilson and Manager Maurer, an aggregation of mere high school undergraduates should have no show at all under ordinary circumstances. Among the many reasons which have been offered why this did not happen, we may mention that the field was, perhaps, not up to the standard to which stars of the "Vet" caliber are accustomed, and also that other duties had prevented several of the "Vet" mainstays from getting into proper playing condition for this crucial game.

Undoubtedly the greatest star of the "Vets" was John J. Thomas, celebrated football coach, and, incidentally, a teacher of mathematics. Mr. Thomas' form behind the bat and in the field was of the very best, but he shone particularly as the veterans' chief slugger. Captain "Epp" Wilson showed his usual ability at second base and ran his team well, but he seemed hampered at the bat by a lack of condition. Messrs. Maurer, Lampson and Jones also represented the faculty, and "Jock" Snow, Arba Tindall, "Chick" Thomas, Rodney McCathran, "Sox" Johnson, and "Ernie" Menefee upheld the honor of their respective classes. Paul Armstrong, the school team's second pitcher, was drafted for his second season in the box with the "Vets."

The baseball game ended at 6:30, and picnic suppers were next in order. A little later dancing began in the pavilion, and continued until the storm put a stop to the program. Dark storm clouds had been gathering in the north and northwest during the evening, and about eight o'clock—just after the landing of the evening boat—the excitement began with a heavy gale which blew down branches of considerable size, overturned the benches near the shore, and did other damage about the grounds, though without injuring any of the excursionists. About ten minutes later a heavy downpour of rain followed and drove everyone to cover. The worst of the storm was over by 8:30, but there was little chance for further dancing and the steamer left on its return trip not long afterward.

Our readers will please note the photographs of the excursion presented on page 2 of this issue. These pictures were produced after much arduous effort by our versatile ex-president and ex-treasurer, Mr. I. Paul Taylor, and the RECORD management, with its well-known enterprise, at once secured the exclusive rights of reproduction. In the upper view is shown the vast concourse of Centralites and friends leaving the boat on the afternoon trip. Below and to the right are seen, in baseball attire, Messrs. Wilson, Maurer, and Snow, caught in the act of diverting their attention from a weighty council of war, presumably to watch one of the many marvelous plays of the afternoon. To the right appears Mr. J. J. Thomas, in characteristic attitude, ready to knock one over into the next county, or across the river into Virginia if preferred. King, of the regulars, is catching, while Messrs. Lampson, Snow, and other celebrities lend distinction to the back scenery.

The June Meeting

The third annual business meeting of the Association was held at the school on Wednesday evening, June 21, 1911. About sixty alumni attended. The President of the Association, Roswell W. Snow, '04, presided, and opened the meeting with a report on the work of the year. He recommended, on behalf of the retiring Board of Managers, that an excursion be made an annual event in the early part of June; that the Christmas reunion be continued, and held in the afternoon instead of the evening; and that some encouragement be given school interests, as by a medal, or medals, for excellence in public speaking. The Secretary, George W. Hodgkins, '09, then gave his report, and recommended that steps be taken to increase and unify the membership through a designated member of the Board of Managers to act with representatives of classes and other groups of alumni. The Treasurer, I. Paul Taylor, '07, gave a brief summary of the finances. Without objection, the various recommendations were referred to the incoming Board of Managers for action.

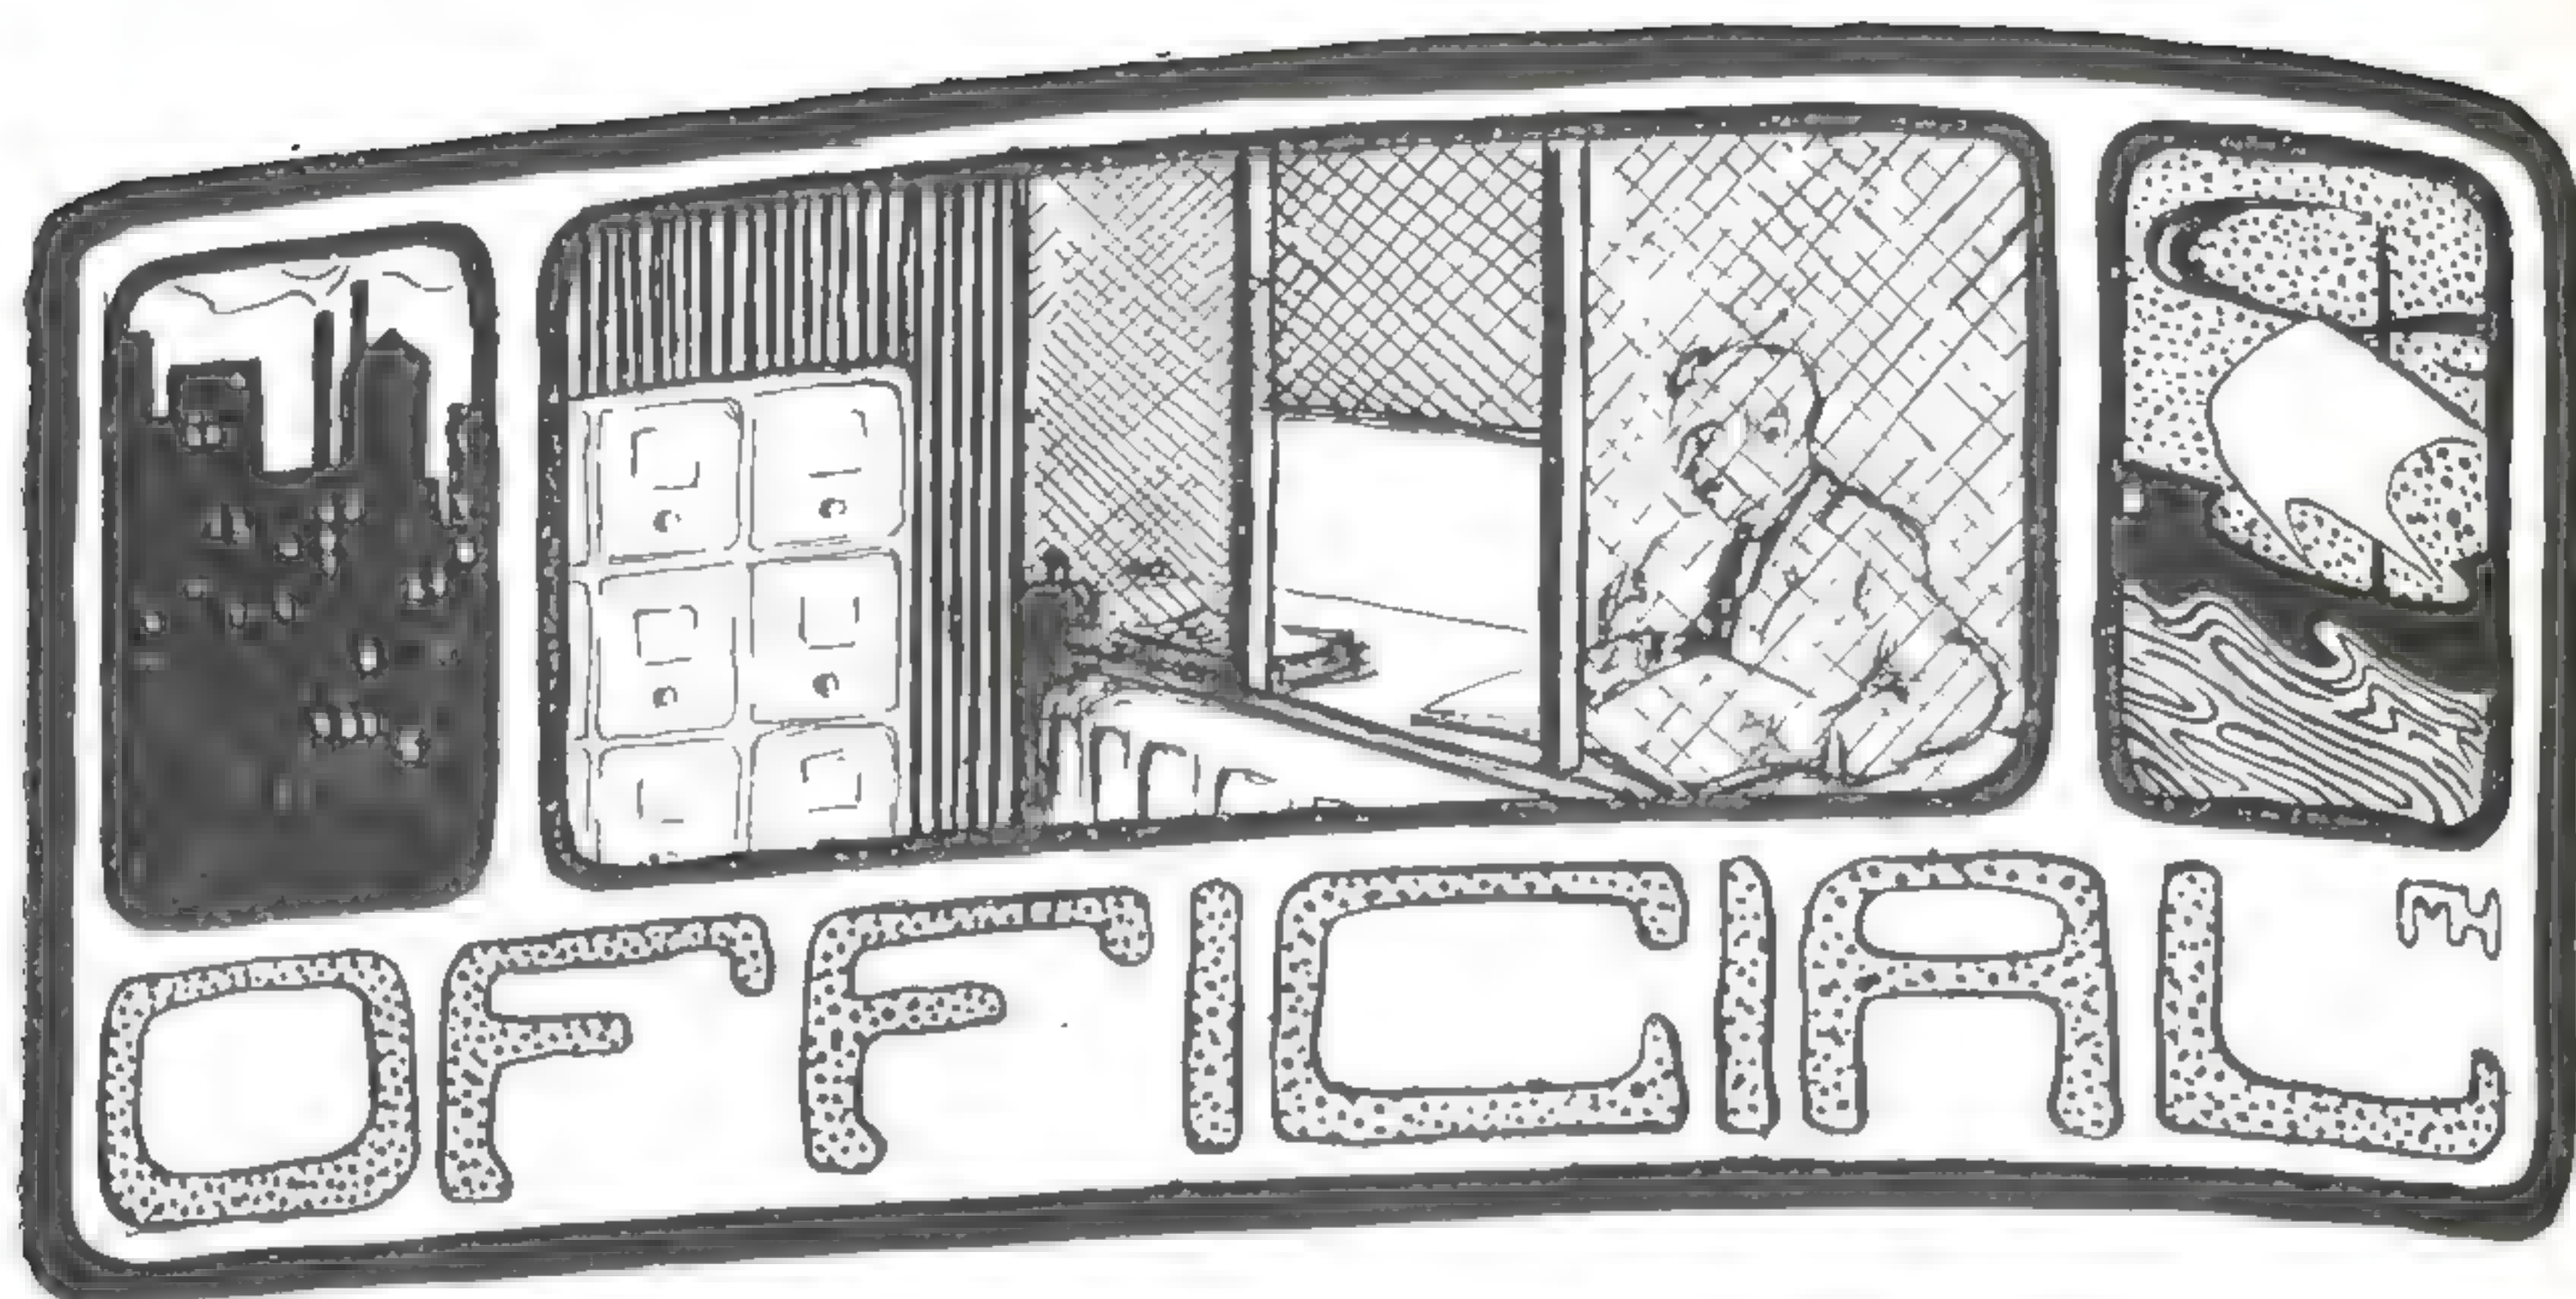

The President then read the amendments to the Constitution proposed in the June issue of THE RECORD. There was no discussion upon them and they were unanimously passed. The amendments are largely of a technical character, and define rather than change the usage of the Association, except for one amendment reducing the Nominating Committee from seven to five members. The Constitution will appear in full with these changes in the next issue of THE RECORD.

The Honorary President, Emory M. Wilson, '89, next reported as Chairman of the Nominating Committee. He read the following nominations: For president, E. Otto Schreiber, Jr., '06; for vice-president, Sara Stephens, '05; for secretary, George W. Hodgkins, '09; for treasurer, Sara P. Lynch, '07; for seven members of the Board of Managers—Magdalen Breuninger, '91; Emily F. Sleman, '01; Roswell W. Snow, '04; Hyman N. Levy, '06; Olive M. Keys, '08; Wilson L. Townsend, '09; Nelda Waldecker, '10. With regard to the prescribed three members of the Board from the 1911 classes, Mr. Wilson suggested that those members of the 1911 classes present should adjourn to the rear of the room and choose three nominees to represent them. After a conference of some minutes the following names were reported: Almyra Campbell, Paul S. Putzki and A. Magruder MacDonald. There were no further nominations, and those named were declared elected.

The newly-elected President, Mr. Schreiber, then thanked the Association for the honor conferred upon him, and also spoke in high terms of the work of his predecessor, Mr. Snow. After some remarks by Mr. Snow, Mr. Wilson moved a rising vote of thanks to the retiring officers, which was unanimously given. Mr. Snow replied by telling of the services rendered by the Honorary President to the Association. The meeting then adjourned.

President Schreiber was last year one of the most energetic members of the Board of Managers, and was in especial charge of the business arrangements of the June excursion. When at Central he was lieutenant-colonel of the cadets and a member of the debating team. He received the degree of A. B. at George Washington in 1910, and is now studying law at the same university. At college he was one of the leaders of the debating interest, and last year edited the college paper. His popularity in college affairs is attested by his recent election to the presidency of the Pyramid, the honor society at George Washington.

Considerable trouble has already been caused by the failure of members to keep us informed of their correct addresses for mailing THE RECORD. We desire to have each issue reach members without loss or delay, but of course can not be expected to make necessary changes in addresses unless notified. If this issue is not sent to the correct address, kindly let us know. Those who are away from home during the college year are especially urged to give us their college addresses, as we are always willing to make changes, whether permanent or temporary. We are also glad at all times to rectify mistakes, which inevitably occur now and then in the work of mailing, and to supply another copy where one has failed to reach a member. But please don't expect us to be long-distance mind-readers and do without your assistance entirely.

The Alumni Association of Central High School was organized on June 24, 1909. The annual business meeting is held on the evening following the date of the school commencement in June. A reunion is held annually during the Christmas holidays, and an excursion in the earlier part of June. The annual dues are fifty cents, which include a subscription to THE ALUMNI RECORD, issued quarterly. The fiscal year nominally runs with the school year, from June to June, but members are actually extended the privileges of membership up to the following December without requiring prepayment of the new year's dues. Members enrolled for 1910-11 will, for instance, receive this and the following (December) issues of THE RECORD even though not yet enrolled for 1911-12. Nevertheless early payment of dues is desired, and amounts will be received and credited as far in advance as might be desired. Address communications to the Association or to one of the officers at the school address, Central High School, Washington, D. C.

Plans For the Year

The first meeting of the Board of Managers for the new year was held at the school on Monday evening, September 25. Ten out of the fourteen members of the Board were present, with President Schreiber presiding. The principal business of the meeting consisted in outlining the work for the year, and these plans, falling under the heads of class secretaries, Christmas reunion, and aid of school interests, are detailed in the following paragraphs. Further arrangements on these lines will be made at later meetings of the Board, to be held on the last Mondays of October and November, and will be reported in the next number of THE RECORD, to appear early in December.

At its September meeting the Board also decided to participate with other organizations in a meeting in memory of the late John B. Sleman, Jr., of this city, a Central graduate of 1891. About fifteen organizations with which Mr. Sleman was connected, will unite in this meeting, and the Central Alumni Association has been enrolled among the number. The meeting will be held on November first. Other details will be announced from time to time in the daily papers. It is hoped that Central alumni, especially those of Mr. Sleman's class, but those of other classes as well, will respond numerously in paying tribute to one of the most prominent men Central has ever had the honor of graduating. Mr. Henry B. F. Macfarland is chairman of the general committee in charge of the memorial meeting, while whatever share the Central alumni will have in it, is being arranged by a committee composed of Miss Breuninger, '91; Mrs. Pickens, '91; Mr. Wilson, '89; and Mr. Schreiber, '06.

CLASS SECRETARIES

The plan of a board of class secretaries is believed to be by far the most important feature which the Association now has under way. In brief it is as follows: Each class since the establishment of the school (which may be dated back to the old Advanced Grammar Schools, with a first class graduated in 1877) is to be represented by one, or perhaps more, secretaries or correspondents, whose purpose will be to increase the membership and to bind it together more closely than is possible with the present more impersonal, general organization. These representatives of the different classes will be kept in touch with the general organization through a general Corresponding Secretary of the Association. The Board has designated for this position, Olive M. Keys, of the class of 1908, the first Vice-President of the Association, and twice reelected to the Board of Managers. Miss Keys will have especial facilities for the work through her position as clerk of the school.

During the past two years it has become increasingly evident that some closer organization of the membership is urgently needed. The distribution of printed matter from headquarters, and other such means, have their value in securing and keeping a strong membership, but for a full realization of the Association's aims the fullest use must be made of the personal ties which bind one Centralite to another. Indications of this are found in the disappointing attendance at last year's reunion, and the fact that fully 150 of the members for 1909-10 failed to renew their memberships for 1910-11. The personal ties whose emphasizing would overcome these difficulties, lie very largely in the classes, and other associations similar to our own have made very successful use of this fact through boards of class secretaries.

These class secretaries will include among their specific duties those to keep track of the whereabouts of the alumni, urge non-members to join and members to renew their memberships, secure large attendances at the reunion and other meetings, and collect personal news items for the quarterly. These can be done in part by correspondence, but wherever possible by personal contact. The secretaries will also constitute a sort of reception committee at the reunion and on other such occasions, and can no doubt be of great service in making these affairs a thorough social success. In general the method of going about the work will be left to the individual secretaries, but the Association will cooperate throughout, and their expenses for postage and other purposes will be met by the general treasury.

At present at least, the secretaries will be designated by the general Corresponding Secretary. It would be very desirable to have them chosen by the classes, as is done in other associations, but only two or three class organizations seem to be maintained at present. It might be possible, however, for the secretaries now designated to secure the reestablishment of their class organizations, with resulting benefit both to the class members and to the general Association. So far as possible the selections of the Corresponding Secretary will be made from volunteers or from others who have already shown especial interest in matters of this sort. The secretaries' positions will undoubtedly require considerable work, but it should prove a pleasant work to those interested; and also, it could well be made much lighter by securing the assistance of others in the class. The true object is not to concentrate definite work upon a single person, but to create an active enthusiasm throughout the body of alumni.

The general Corresponding Secretary might in future be a regular elective officer of the Association, but for the present is an appointee of the Board of Managers. The general duties are cooperation with the class secretaries in person and by correspondence, furnishing information from the records, and receiving other information for entry on the records or for publication in the quarterly. These duties are closely allied to the present duties of the Association Secretary, but it seems that the interests of all departments will be best served by giving the work to some member especially selected for it and not already occupied with other matters.

Selections for the different classes will soon be made, and everything will be done to get the work under way as rapidly as possible. For the very immediate future the work will especially include the compilation of addresses and other data in connection with the card catalog of alumni, which is now practically complete as far as the records now on hand can make it. In December the work will center more closely on the reunion set for December 27. Steps will be taken to notify all alumni whose present addresses are known; but just how this will be arranged has not been determined. It is earnestly desired that the board of class secretaries plan their work as far as practicable themselves, and an effort will be made to have them meet with the Board of Managers at one of the next two Board meetings.

The aid of the alumni in general, and the class secretaries in particular, is also desired toward securing several pages of personal news notices for the December RECORD, which will go to press about November 20. They may be along the lines of the small department we already have, but anything of any sort which is of alumni interest will be welcome. The notes need not always be strictly new, and they need not always be serious in tone. In fact, the only requirement is that they be interesting. Help us make this department as large and as representative as possible.

It may be added that the system of class secretaries might well be supplemented by secretaries or correspondents for groups of alumni on other than class lines. Persons will probably be designated to represent the several colleges where numbers of Central alumni are located; and the Association could perhaps make use of neighborhood, business, and any other ties which may bind Centralites together. Anyone who feels able to assist in any of these directions need only communicate with the Corresponding Secretary to secure a cordial welcome and hearty cooperation.

THE REUNION, DECEMBER 27

The third annual Christmas reunion of the Association will be held at the school on Wednesday afternoon, December 27. The starting hour will probably be 3 o'clock, but the program will continue in full swing until about 6:00, so that alumni need by no means stay away altogether because they can not come at the beginning of the program. As at the afternoon meeting two years ago, the earlier part of the afternoon will probably include a luncheon, while the later part will center around a meeting in the assembly hall, with short speeches, music, and such special features as can be secured. Further details will be determined by the Board later, and will be published in the December RECORD. Meanwhile preliminary arrangements are in the hands of the following committee: President Schreiber, program; Miss Breuninger, refreshments; Mr. Townsend, decorations; and the Secretary, notices.

In past years there has been some confusion over the matter of fees at the reunion, and the following revised statement may help to clear up matters: To cover the expenses of the luncheon, a charge will probably be made of fifty cents for each alumnus or guest. No charge will be made for those who come late, to the assembly hall meeting alone, but it is expected that alumni who have not already paid their fifty cents' dues for 1911-12 will pay at that time. The luncheon fee is entirely distinct from the dues, and the fee alone will not carry with it privileges of membership in the Association. The Treasurer is always ready to receive amounts of fifty cents and up, which may be used either for dues or for luncheon fees, and will be kept credited to account until so used. To provide in case members may not know just how they stand on our books.

a statement of account will be sent to all members with the December RECORD or about that time.

All members are urged to keep December 27 open and be present if possible, and also to notify Centralites of their acquaintance. All Centralites will be heartily welcomed, and friends of the school who may not themselves be alumni are by no means barred.

SCHOOL INTERESTS

A number of different suggestions for alumni cooperation in aid of school interests were discussed at the September Board meeting. Work of this sort is one of the primary objects of an alumni association, and not only will it serve its immediate purpose of benefiting the school, but it will also bring strength to the alumni organization. It will be effective in recruiting members from the classes as they graduate from the school, having shown them as students the work which the alumni are doing; and it will also bring the Association favorably before the community at large.

It was agreed that one of the best fields for alumni effort is that of securing prominent men, alumni and others, to give addresses and lectures to the school at chapel and other exercises. Something has already been done in this direction by the faculty, but there remains much that the alumni can do. Mr. Snow, '04, was designated by the Board to take charge of this work.

The project of giving medals for public speaking or other student contests was discussed, and something will probably be done on these lines shortly. Another idea which may be adopted later is the establishment of an alumni alcove in the library, and at all events the cooperation of the alumni in one way or another can be of much value to the library. In particular, a collection of books and papers relating to the school itself and to the alumni might be gotten together for preservation in the library. Attention is especially called to the need of files of school periodicals, further discussed on page 15. The Board would welcome suggestions for work of any sort in aid of school interests, as well as cooperation in carrying out the plans which are adopted.

Report of the Secretary

The following report has been condensed by omitting detailed matter which has already appeared in THE RECORD, and also the recommendations concerning class correspondents (for which see elsewhere in this issue).

The second annual business meeting of the Association was held at the school on Thursday evening, June 23, 1910, with an attendance of about one hundred. Officers were elected for the year 1910-11, and various other items of business transacted.

During the latter part of the year 1910 the Board of Managers held three meetings—on September 24, November 10, and December 16. The principal business was in connection with the second annual Christmas reunion, which took place at the school on Wednesday evening, December 28, 1910. At that time 182 alumni and 12 guests, a total of 194, were recorded present.

The work during the first half of 1911 has been concerned mainly with planning a theater benefit and an excursion, and in making arrangements for the third annual business meeting. Three meetings of the Board were held—on February 18, May 8, and June 19. The theater benefit took place at the Columbia Theater on Monday evening, April 24, and over 350 alumni and friends responded. The first annual excursion was held at Marshall Hall on Saturday, June 10, with a recorded attendance of 1,307.

About a thousand combined notices to advertise the Christmas reunion and to increase the membership were sent out early in December, in addition to notices sent to enrolled members with the December ALUMNI RECORD. With these notices stamped return envelopes were sent, in an effort, particularly, to secure a line on the probable attendance at the reunion, but only 150 replies were received. It was largely owing to an inability to calculate the attendance and to provide accurately for it, that the reunion was not financially a success. Further publicity for the reunion was secured by a total of ten preliminary notices in the Washington newspapers.

The large number of circulars and tickets for the theater benefit and the excursion were sent out through various members of the Board of Managers. Eleven preliminary notices were secured for the excursion in the daily papers, and six notices of the business meeting.

The number of enrolled members at the close of the business meeting last year was 427. This number gradually increased in the succeeding six months, and just before the Christmas reunion approximated 500. However, nearly half of these were at that time dropped from the rolls for failure to pay dues for the new year, 1910-11. Cards were sent to about 200 delinquent members late in December, but with scant results. The final revised list of paid-up members for the year 1910-11 was 394, being 87 more than for the previous year. At the close of the meeting on June 21, 1911, the total number of members was 429, of whom 155 have already paid dues for 1911-12.

Five issues of THE ALUMNI RECORD have been issued during 1910-11, including the June issue of both years. They were received from the printers on June 29, October 5 (dated September), December 10, March 30, and May 31 (dated June), and sent to all enrolled members as soon as possible thereafter. Owing to the unsatisfactory service of the Commonwealth Company, of Rosslyn, Va., who printed the first two numbers of THE RECORD, the contract for the succeeding four issues was given to the Carnahan Press, of Washington, D. C., at nearly the same prices.

We Haven't Any Title for This One

We haven't had any editorials in THE RECORD since last December; but then we editorialize in effect over the whole sixteen or twenty pages in every issue, so it doesn't make much difference. In a way just that circumstance is why we're writing a regular editorial now. We're doing too much of this ourself—not that we don't enjoy ourself over it quite a little; but this ought to be your paper even more than the Editor's, and it doesn't seem to be. We have some reason to believe that our efforts are more or less appreciated, but as far as any communications from the alumni at large give evidence, most of you may be dropping each issue in the wastebasket without so much as taking it out of the envelop. We hardly expect to find that quite true, but just for personal satisfaction we'd like to know how much of this you read. Don't be afraid of hurting our feelings, now. Just say you don't read it any to speak of, and we'll merely heave a sigh of relief and quit. But if you do read some of it now and then, we'll see if we can't give you a little more and better to read—with your help.

What do you really think of this ALUMNI RECORD? Or do you think about it at all? Just sit down next time you get a chance and let us know what you like and what you don't like, what desirable features you find missing and what undesirable ones you would like to find missing. Don't keep all your criticisms to yourself—let us know and maybe we can do something.

Of course we have our own ideas for certain improvements in the future. In particular we want to have a big department of personal news items about the alumni—the more the merrier. We hope to bring this about with the aid of the new board of class secretaries. We have perhaps a few other ideas. But we want your ideas too. We want to make THE RECORD of the greatest possible benefit to members, of the greatest possible value to the Association in getting and keeping a large and unified membership. To those who have already helped us in the quest, we give our sincerest thanks. To the much more numerous remainder as well, we extend an urgent invitation to make this your paper as well as ours.

Didn't know we could get so peevish, did you?

Files of School Publications

It is probably beyond question that the school library should possess as nearly as possible a complete file of the school's student publications, but what little the Central library has in this line is only the barest beginning for such a file. It is certainly time that steps were taken to remedy this oversight, and by the cooperation of the alumni a great deal can no doubt be done.

The Editor has a theory to account for the almost complete lack of any official files of the school monthly, The Review—a theory based on the known facts in at least one case. It is probable that official files were kept in most years, but in the continuing absence of previous files to which they might be added, the editors neglected to turn them over to the school or to their successors. Or where this was actually done in one year, it might be undone the next by the neglect of the successor to whom the year's file was given.

These paragraphs are therefore directed particularly to former editors of The Review, who are urged to see if they do not possess some of the official files stored away in some half-forgotten place at home; but there are no doubt many other alumni who have files or scattered numbers which they will willingly donate to the school. Any Centralite who has any such, is urged to send to the Editor of THE RECORD—a postal card will do—the dates of whatever he or she may have to contribute. It will then be possible to make a survey of what is available and to take steps to secure and preserve whatever is needed. No contribution will be too small—even if you have only a single number to give, that may be the very one we need. Contributions need not be limited to The Review, as practically anything in the way of Central publications would be of value. What have you?

The portraits of the 1910-11 officers shown on page 13 were originally planned for an issue during the year 1910-11 itself, but publication was unavoidably delayed. A group of the 1911-12 officers will probably appear in the next issue or the one following.

JOHN BOTTRELL SLEMAN, JR., one of the most prominent members of the Class of 1891, passed away July 1, 1911, at Clifton Springs Sanitarium, N. Y.

While in school he was interested in all activities. He belonged to nearly all of its clubs and associations, being secretary to many. His class honored him by asking him to be its president. He was on the staff of The Review, and, with Fred McC. Smith, he edited and managed the class book, The Record, the second book of its kind published by a Washington High School class.

Immediately on leaving school he entered the Union Savings Bank, with which institution he was ever afterwards identified in some way.

He was a graduate of the Columbian University Law School in the class of 1895.

In 1898 Mr. Sleman became general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Washington, and by his untiring efforts the membership was raised from 164 to 2,000. His health broke down under the great strain of work, and in 1899 he withdrew from the secretaryship, but remained a volunteer worker for the Association. He organized the Twenty-four-Hour-a-Day Club, which manages the foreign extension work of the Washington Association in China, Japan and South America, and he was chairman of the department of boys' work for several years.

On leaving the Y. M. C. A. work he entered the real estate business with the F. H. Smith Co. Later he took the general agency of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, and in this business he afterwards formed a partnership with Mr. Orville B. Drown. In business life he was eminently successful.

But his greatest success, and that for which he will be longest remembered, was in the field of his Christian activities. He himself said that he could make his living with his left hand, leaving his right hand free to do God's work. A boy with high ideals and ambitions, he early took a prominent place in the Christian Endeavor work of the city. Later he took up the Y. M. C. A. work and the activities of his own church, the Mount Pleasant Congregational. He was interested in all philanthropic and charitable work in the city.

To him came the vision for the business men to apply business methods in the work of foreign missions and from this idea was formed the Layman's Missionary Movement, which has given Mr. Sleman world-wide fame. He declined the honor men would have given him on this account, and, while giving his best intellectual and spiritual energies to the furtherance of this work, he wished to remain and be known as a layman.

His was a great soul—a great life—a great work.

His name will be a lasting honor to our dear old Central.

Considerable attention has been given in the local newspapers this summer to the work of W. Morgan Shuster, '94, who is Treasurer-General of the Persian Empire. Mr. Shuster seems to be making a signal success in spite of difficulties he has met in the jealousies and intrigues of the nations interested in Persian affairs. A report was circulated that he would resign because of this opposition, but it seems to have been quite unfounded.

Changes among the officers of the Washington schools this summer have resulted in the advancement of two of our alumni. Ernest L. Thurston, '89, becomes assistant superintendent, to succeed Percy M. Hughes, a graduate of 1880, now superintendent of the Syracuse schools; and Frank C. Daniel, of the class of 1897, succeeds to the principalship of the McKinley Manual Training School on the resignation of Dr. George E. Meyers.

Prospects seem bright for beginning the construction of the new Central High School building in the near future. It is understood that the Board of Education has included in its estimates for 1912-13 an item for about one-third of the total which the building is expected to cost. The total is said to be in the neighborhood of $600,000.

A change in the clerkship at Central comes as a result of the resignation of I. Paul ("Kink") Taylor, of the class of 1907, first President of the Alumni Association. "Kink" leaves Washington to take up his studies at the Union Theological Seminary in New York City. He will be succeeded by Olive M. Keys, a graduate of 1908, and the Vice-President of the Association during its first year.

Of the seventy-five graduates of the Washington Normal School last year, thirty eight were Central graduates of the class of 1909. Among the ten names given out as heading the class, Central was represented by Elvie Elliott, Caroline Martin, Anna McCoach, Edna Morgan and Helen Scammel.

Several Central graduates have been distinguishing themselves in amateur baseball this summer. "Mike" Macdonald and "Shock" Boteler starred on the American Security and Trust team, which won the local championship; and "Cy" Macdonald was one of the mainstays of the Cornell Company team, which gave the bankers a hard fight for the title.

The following scholarships were awarded to members of the 1911 class: George Washington—Margaret Reisinger (Kendall scholarship); Erwin Harsch (first university); Everell Worrell (second university); Helen Cam (fourth university); Letitia Southgate (sixth university); Paul Putzki (medical). Wesleyan—Walling Harvey. Goucher—Miriam Franc. Pennsylvania—James Cryer. Lafayette—William Collins and Laurence Leonard. Colgate—Sterling March. Georgetown Medical—Magruder MacDonald.

During the school year which closed last June, Central won the championships in football, track and debate, and won a partial victory in both of the rifle meets, but lost in drill and baseball. The exact number of graduates last June was 142, including 101 girls and 41 boys.

Central is looking forward to another good football team this fall—perhaps another championship team. The team will again be captained by George Hamilton and coached by Mr. J. J. Thomas, of the faculty. Manager Kimball has arranged an extensive schedule outside of the four championship games, which will be played on the following dates: Friday, October 20, Western; Friday, October 27, Business; Tuesday, November 7, Technical; Friday, November 17, Eastern.

The school monthly, The Review, is getting under way for its twenty-sixth year, with Marjorie Barnes as editor and Russell D. Tibbitts as business manager. The military, debating and rifle shooting interests will also soon be under way.

The Safest Investments

Are those that do not fluctuate during disturbed conditions of the money or stock market. First deed of trust notes (first mortgage), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or corporations for their stability, and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and Investments."

Home-Made Gas Light For Country Homes

—Its name is ACETYLENE. It is made from calcium carbide and plain water. This carbide looks like coal, but acts like magic. When this carbide is merely dropped into water it produces Acetylene Gas, which is ten times richer than the best city gas. When the gas is lighted at a jet, same as city gas, it gives a brilliant WHITE light of exactly the same chemical quality and color-balance as sunlight. Drop us a line today for further particulars.
